Maladapting Minds Pieter R. Adriaens, Andreas De Block, 2011-03-10 Ever since Darwin psychiatrists have been tempted to put evolutionary theory to use in their efforts to understand and explain mental disorders Varying in success scope and scientific rigour these attempts have often caught the attention of philosophers There are many studies about how the philosophy of psychiatry has been informed by twentieth century continental philosophy in focusing on topics such as embodiment narrativity and gender as well as analytic philosophy in focusing on more conceptual issues Thus far however there are simply no studies about how philosophical issues in psychiatric theory and practice can be and have been informed by evolutionary theory Maladapting Minds explores the relationship between evolutionary theory and philosophy of psychiatry In particular it discusses a number of reasons why philosophers of psychiatry should take an interest in evolutionary explanations of mental disorders and more generally in evolutionary thinking The many chapters deal with evolutionary accounts of various mental disorders including phobias fetishism developmental disorders depression autism spectrum disorders and schizophrenia Written by both world class philosophers psychologists and evolutionary psychiatrists this volume illustrates that many debates in contemporary philosophy of psychiatry are profoundly influenced by evolutionary approaches to mental disorders In doing so it represents the very first attempts to critically explore the interface between evolutionary theory and philosophy of psychiatry It is important reading for psychiatrists philosophers of mind and evolutionary psychologists
