

A photograph of a small, rustic house with a corrugated metal roof, situated on a grassy hillside within a dense forest. Sunlight filters through the trees, creating a warm, dappled light effect. The house has a porch and is surrounded by tall, thin trees. The overall scene is peaceful and secluded.

Ghosts across Kentucky William Montell, 2010-09-12 Lynwood Montell has collected ghost tales all over the state of Kentucky from coal mining settlements to river landings from highways to battlefields He presents these suspense filled stories just as he first heard or read them as bona fide personal experiences or as events witnessed by family members or friends There are over 250 stories in Ghosts across Kentucky that are set in specific places and times They include tales of graveyards haunted dormitories animal ghosts and vanishing hitchhikers Montell describes weird lights unexplained sounds felt presences and disappearing apparitions Phantom workmen fallen soldiers young lovers and executed criminals appear in these pages along with the living who chance upon them Though the focus is on the stories themselves Montell also includes a chapter explaining our fascination with the supernatural and the deep truths these storytelling traditions reveal about our lives and our pasts William Lynwood Montell emeritus professor of folk studies at Western Kentucky University is the author of several books including Killings Old Misery Hugh Pendexter, 1924 Whistlin' and Crowin' Women of Appalachia Katherine Kelleher Sohn, 2006-03-01 Even some enlightened academicians automatically and incorrectly connect illiteracy to Appalachia contends Katherine Kelleher Sohn After overhearing two education professionals refer to the southern accent of a waiter and then launch into a few redneck jokes Sohn wondered why rural working class white people are not considered part of the multicultural community Whistlin and Crowin Women of Appalachia Literacy Practices since College examines the power of women to rise above cultural constraints complete their college degrees assume positions of responsibility and ultimately come to voice Sohn a born southerner and assimilated Appalachian who moved from the city more than thirty years ago argues that an underclass of rural whites is being left out of multicultural conversations She shares how her own search for identity in the academic world after enrolling in a doctoral program at age fifty parallels the journeys of eight nontraditional working class women Through interviews and case studies Sohn illustrates how academic literacy empowers women in their homes jobs and communities effectively disproving the Appalachian adage Whistlin women and crowin hens always come to no good ends Sohn situates the women's stories within the context of theory self confidence and place She weaves the women's words with her own relating voice to language identity and power As the women move from silence to voice throughout and after college by maintaining their dialect discovering the power of expressivist writing gaining economic and social power and remaining in their communities they discover their identity as strong women of Appalachia Sohn focuses on the power of place which figures predominantly in the identity of these women and colorfully describes the region These Appalachian women who move from silence to voice are the purveyors of literacy and the keepers of community says Sohn Serving as the foundation of Appalachian culture in spite of a patriarchal society the women shape the region even as it shapes them Geared to scholars of literacy studies women's studies and regional studies Whistlin and Crowin Women of Appalachia will also resonate with those working with other marginalized populations who are isolated economically geographically or culturally The Legend of Big Boy Safe or Stranded Jim Stone, Karen Stone, 2021-01-07 The book is about a great big dog that gets stranded high up in the mountains while fasting starvation and freezing cold temperatures in the middle of winter time It s about developing a friendship between man and dog to try to gain trust between them two hopefully rescue the dog and the dog s friends This is a true story about how true friends stick by each other s sides through all the trials of their lives To Belong Here Rae Garringer, 2025-04 Appalachia has long been flattened into a white Christian and conservative place While many Appalachians embrace those labels they fail to acknowledge the presence of communities of color and of queer trans and Two Spirit people across the region Religious fundamentalism white supremacy homophobia and transphobia continue to oppress queer and gender expansive Appalachians especially Black Brown and Indigenous people These realities have adversely affected queer and trans folks ability to claim their rightful places within the region To Belong Here delves into how queer trans and Two Spirit Appalachian people make sense of life in the mountains Featuring contributors whose identities across race gender and socioeconomic background make for a uniquely intersectional look at the area this collection provides a nuanced understanding of Appalachia and what it means to represent it Themes of erasure environmentalism violence kinship racism Indigeneity queer love and trans liberation course through the volume and exemplify the writers resilience in reconciling their complex and often contradictory connections to home A collective exploration of rejection and acceptance To Belong Here calls for a more inclusive future in Appalachia one where everyone can thrive The Farmers' Advocate and Home Magazine , 1908 The New Movie Magazine , 1929 Gas Age-record , 1929 Rediscovering Travel Seth Kugel, 2018-11-13 A revolutionary philosophy for rookie and veteran travelers alike Rediscovering Travel gets to the heart of why we travel Matt Kepnes Nomadic Matt Having captivated millions during his tenure as the New York Times s Frugal Traveler Seth Kugel is one of our most internationally beloved travel writers With the initial publication of Rediscovering Travel he took the corporate modern travel industry to task determined to reignite an age old sense of adventure that has virtually been vanquished by the spontaneity obliterating likes of Google Maps TripAdvisor and Starwood points Now in travel friendly paperback this funny inspiring and well crafted companion Associated Press reveals how to make the most of new apps and other digital technologies without being shackled to them Writing for the tight belted tourists and the first class flyer the eager student and the comfort seeking retiree Kugel shows all readers not only where to look but how Samantha Brown and promises that we too can rediscover the joy of discovery Travel is not about the destination but the experience That s what makes it so appealing so addictive and that s what makes Rediscovering Travel so necessary Peter Greenberg The Reflective Age Zachary Griffith, 2025-12-09 At the end of history nothing ever really ends Though characterized on one hand by sociopolitical and economic stasis stagnation and decline twenty first century American culture has also been marked by the constant ebb and flow of preexisting artifacts and styles so that when one fades out of fashion it is always replaced by another reiteration Change on the cultural level has accelerated at an unprecedented rate and old things are constantly returning anew The present in other words promotes the feeling that nothing is changing and simultaneously everything is In the midst of this paradoxical sense of constant flux and grinding stagnation underwritten by the notion that there is no alternative to the malaise of the present the nostalgic past emerges as the only viable refuge The Reflective Age investigates how nostalgic American media of the 2010s and early 2020s reflects and contributes to these conditions showing how the films TV shows music and literature of the period illustrate a radical shift in both the role that nostalgia plays in the American cultural and political landscape as well as in nostalgia itself
