

UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT

Judicial Branch

WHERE DO THEY MEET TO WORK?

The Judicial Branch is made up of the courts. The Supreme Court is the highest court in the country. The lower courts are below the Supreme Court. They decide if laws are fair and if they are not, they can be changed by the President.

Where do they meet to work?

Why?

The founding fathers wrote the Constitution. This was to give a government that did not allow one person to have too much power. They decided to give power to three branches: the Executive, the Legislative, and the Judicial. Each branch has different jobs that help the country run smoothly. The branches are separate, but they all work together.

How does it work?

Executive Branch

PRESIDENT

The President is the head of the executive branch. The President can sign or veto a law passed by Congress. When the President needs advice, he or she can ask a group of people called the Cabinet. The President is in the White House.

Where do they meet to work?

Legislative Branch

CONGRESS

The Congress is made up of the House of Representatives and the Senate. It is responsible for writing, passing, and signing laws.

SENATE

There are 100 senators in the Senate. There are two senators from each of the 50 states. They serve a term of 6 years.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

There are 435 representatives in the House. There are 100 senators in the Senate. There are 435 representatives in the House. They serve a term of 2 years.

Wiki Government Beth Simone Noveck, 2009-08-01 Collaborative democracy government with the people is a new vision of governance in the digital age Wiki Government explains how to translate the vision into reality Beth Simone Noveck draws on her experience in creating Peer to Patent the federal government s first social networking initiative to show how technology can connect the expertise of the many to the power of the few In the process she reveals what it takes to innovate in government Launched in 2007 Peer to Patent connects patent examiners to volunteer scientists and technologists via the web These dedicated but overtaxed officials decide which of the million plus patent applications currently in the pipeline to approve Their decisions help determine which start up pioneers a new industry and which disappears without a trace Patent examiners have traditionally worked in secret cut off from essential information and racing against the clock to rule on lengthy technical claims Peer to Patent broke this mold by creating online networks of self selecting citizen experts and channeling their knowledge and enthusiasm into forms that patent examiners can easily use Peer to Patent shows how policymakers can improve decisionmaking by harnessing networks to public institutions By encouraging coordinating and structuring citizen participation technology can make government both more open and more effective at solving today s complex social and economic problems Wiki Government describes how this model can be applied in a wide variety of settings and offers a fundamental rethinking of effective governance and democratic legitimacy for the twenty first century

The World and Us Roberto Mangabeira Unger, 2024-02-27 A restless visionary striving to realize the highest aspirations of modernity itself New York Times A radical re envisioning of the human condition by the acclaimed Brazilian philosopher In The World and Us Roberto Mangabeira Unger sets out to reinvent philosophy His central theme is our transcendence everything in our existence points beyond itself and its relation to our finitude everything that surrounds us and we ourselves are flawed and ephemeral He asks how we can live so that we die only once instead of dying many small deaths how we can breathe new life and new meaning into the revolutionary movement that has aroused humanity for the last three centuries but that is now weakened and disoriented and how we can make sense of ourselves without claiming for human beings a miraculous exception to the general regime of nature For Unger philosophy must be the mind on fire insisting on our prerogative to speak to what matters most From this perspective he redefines each of the traditional parts of philosophy from ontology and epistemology to ethics and politics He turns moral philosophy into an exploration of the contest between the two most powerful contemporary moral visions an ethic of self fashioning and non conformity and an ethic of human connection and responsibility And he turns political philosophy into a program of deep freedom showing how to democratize the market economy energize democratic politics and give the individual worker and citizen the means to flourish amid permanent innovation
