When Public Housing Was Paradise When Public Housing Was Paradise:

When Public Housing was Paradise J. S. Fuerst, 2005 Collecting seventy nine oral histories from former public housing residents and staff J S Fuerst's When Public Housing Was Paradise is a powerful testament to the fact that well designed well managed low rent housing has worked as well as a demonstration of how it could be made to work again J S Fuerst has been involved with public housing in Chicago for more than half a century He retired from Loyola University where he was a professor of social welfare policy He was the editor of Public Housing in Europe and America D Bradford Hunt is an assistant professor of social science at Roosevelt University John Hope Franklin is James B Duke Professor Emeritus of History at Duke University He has served as president of the Organization of American Historians the American Historical Association and many more

The Third Coast Thomas L. Dyja, 2013-04-18 Winner of the Chicago Tribune's 2013 Heartland Prize A critically acclaimed history of Chicago at mid century featuring many of the incredible personalities that shaped American culture Before air travel overtook trains nearly every coast to coast journey included a stop in Chicago and this flow of people and commodities made it the crucible for American culture and innovation In luminous prose Chicago native Thomas Dyja re creates the story of the city in its postwar prime and explains its profound impact on modern America from Chess Records to Playboy McDonald's to the University of Chicago Populated with an incredible cast of characters including Mahalia Jackson Muddy Waters Howlin Wolf Chuck Berry Sun Ra Simone de Beauvoir Nelson Algren Gwendolyn Brooks Studs Turkel and Mayor Richard J Daley The Third Coast recalls the prominence of the Windy City in all its grandeur Hearings Before the House Select Committee on Lobbying Activities United States. Hearings Before the House Select Committee on Lobbying Activities, House of Representatives, Eighty-first Congress, Second Session, Created Pursuant to H. Res. 298 United States. Congress. House. Select Committee on Lobbying Activities, 1950 Black on the Block Mary Pattillo, 2010-04-02 In Black on the Block Mary Pattillo a Newsweek Woman of the 21st Century uses the historic rise alarming fall and equally dramatic renewal of Chicago's North Kenwood Oakland neighborhood to explore the politics of race and class in contemporary urban America There was a time when North Kenwood Oakland was plagued by gangs drugs violence and the font of poverty from which they sprang But in the late 1980s activists rose up to tackle the social problems that had plagued the area for decades Black on the Block tells the remarkable story of how these residents laid the groundwork for a revitalized and self consciously black neighborhood that continues to flourish today But theirs is not a tale of easy consensus and political unity and here Pattillo teases out the divergent class interests that have come to define black communities like North Kenwood Oakland She explores the often heated battles between haves and have nots home owners and apartment dwellers and newcomers and old timers as they clash over the social implications of gentrification Along the way Pattillo highlights the conflicted but crucial role that middle class blacks play in transforming such districts as they negotiate between established centers of white economic and political power and the needs of their less fortunate black neighbors A century from now when today's sociologists and journalists are dust and their books are too those who want to understand what the hell happened to Chicago will be finding the answer in this one Chicago Reader To see how diversity creates strange and sometimes awkward bedfellows turn to Mary Pattillo's Black on the Block Boston Globe

Last Project Standing Catherine Fennell, 2015-11-28 In 1995 a half vacant public housing project on Chicago's Near West Side fell to the wrecking ball The demolition and reconstruction of the Henry Horner housing complex ushered in the most ambitious urban housing experiment of its kind smaller mixed income and partially privatized developments that the thinking went would mitigate the insecurity isolation and underemployment that plagued Chicago's infamously troubled public housing projects Focusing on Horner's redevelopment Catherine Fennell asks how Chicago's endeavor transformed everyday built environments into laboratories for teaching urbanites about the rights and obligations of belonging to a city and a nation that seemed incapable of taking care of its most destitute citizens Drawing on more than three years of ethnographic and archival research she shows how collisions with everything from haywire heating systems and decaying buildings to silent neighbors became an education in the possibilities but also the limits of collective care concern and protection in the aftermath of welfare failure As she documents how the materiality of both the unsuccessful older projects and the recently emerging housing fosters feelings of belonging and loss her work engages larger debates in critical anthropology and poverty studies and opens a vital new perspective on the politics of space race and development in urban America

Housing Policy in the United States Alex F. Schwartz, 2014-08-07 The classic primer for its subject Housing Policy in the United States has been substantially revised in the wake of the 2007 near collapse of the housing market and the nation's recent signs of recovery Like its previous editions this standard volume offers a broad overview of the field but expands to include new information on how the crisis has affected the nation's housing challenges and the extent to which the federal government has addressed them Schwartz also includes the politics of austerity that has permeated almost all aspects of federal policymaking since the Congressional elections of 2010 new initiatives to rehabilitate public housing and a new chapter on the foreclosure crisis The latest available data on housing conditions housing discrimination housing finance and programmatic expenditures is included along with all new developments in federal housing policy This book is the perfect foundational text for urban studies urban planning social policy and housing policy courses

Policy, Planning, and People Naomi Carmon, Susan S. Fainstein, 2013-06-27 Policy Planning and People presents original essays by leading authorities in the field of urban policy and planning The volume includes theoretical and practice based essays that integrate social equity considerations into state of the art discussions of findings in a variety of planning issues

Ghosts in the Schoolyard Eve L. Ewing, 2020-04-10 Failing schools Underprivileged schools Just plain bad schools That's how Eve L Ewing opens Ghosts in the Schoolyard describing Chicago Public Schools from the outside The way politicians and pundits and parents of kids who attend other schools talk about them with a mix of pity and contempt But Ewing knows Chicago Public Schools from the inside as a student then a teacher and now a scholar who studies them And that perspective has shown her that public schools are not buildings full of failures they re an integral part of their neighborhoods at the heart of their communities storehouses of history and memory that bring people together Never was that role more apparent than in 2013 when Mayor Rahm Emanuel announced an unprecedented wave of school closings Pitched simultaneously as a solution to a budget problem a response to declining enrollments and a chance to purge bad schools that were dragging down the whole system the plan was met with a roar of protest from parents students and teachers But if these schools were so bad why did people care so much about keeping them open to the point that some would even go on a hunger strike Ewing s answer begins with a story of systemic racism inequality bad faith and distrust that stretches deep into Chicago history Rooting her exploration in the historic African American neighborhood of Bronzeville Ewing reveals that this issue is about much more than just schools Black communities see the closing of their schools schools that are certainly less than perfect but that are theirs as one more in a long line of racist policies The fight to keep them open is yet another front in the ongoing struggle of black people in America to build successful lives and achieve true self determination
