Wilson And China Wilson And China:

Wilson and China Bruce A. Elleman, 2002 Using sources in Japanese Chinese and American archives this text reassesses Woodrow Wilson's agenda at the Paris Peace Conference It argues Wilson did not betray China but negotiated a compromise with the Japanese to ensure that China's sovereignty would be respected in Shandong Province Directory of Protestant Missionaries in China, Japan and Corea ,1908 Woodrow Wilson's China Policy, 1913-1917 Tien-yi Li, 1952 The Directory & Chronicle for China, Japan, Corea, Indo-China, Straits Settlements, Malay States, Siam, Netherlands India, Borneo, the Philippines, &c ,1892 The African American Encounter with Japan and China Marc Gallicchio, 2003-06-19 In the first book to focus on African American attitudes toward Japan and China Marc Gallicchio examines the rise and fall of black internationalism in the first half of the twentieth century This daring new approach to world politics failed in its effort to seek solidarity with the two Asian countries but it succeeded in rallying black Americans in the struggle for civil rights Black internationalism emphasized the role of race or color in world politics and linked the domestic struggle of African Americans with the freedom struggle of emerging nations of color such as India and much of Africa In the early twentieth century black internationalists including W E B Du Bois and Marcus Garvey embraced Japan as a potential champion of the darker races despite Japan's imperialism in China After Pearl Harbor black internationalists reversed their position and identified Nationalist China as an ally in the war against racism In the end black internationalism was unsuccessful as an interpretation of international affairs The failed quest for alliances with Japan and China Gallicchio argues foreshadowed the difficulty black Americans would encounter in seeking redress for American racism in the international arena Wilson and China: A Revised History of the Shandong Question Bruce Elleman, 2015-06-03 Drawing on sources in Japanese Chinese and American archives and libraries this book reassesses another facet of Woodrow Wilson's agenda at the 1919 Paris Peace Conference at the end of World War I Breaking with accepted scholarly opinions the author argues that Wilson did not betray China as many Chinese and Western scholars have charged rather Wilson successfully negotiated a compromise with the Japanese to ensure that China's sovereignty would be respected in Shandong Province Rejecting the compromise Chinese negotiators refused to sign the Treaty of Versailles creating conditions for the Soviet Union's entry into China and its later influence over the course of the Chinese revolution The China Mission Year Book ,1910 China Christian Year Book ,1913 The Directory and Chronicle for China, Japan, Corea, Indo-China, Straits Settlements, Malay States, Siam, Netherlands India, Borneo, the Philippines, and Etc ,1873 Modern China Bruce A. Elleman, S. C. M. Paine, 2019-02-18 Now in a fully updated edition this accessible text provides a balanced history of modern China in a global context Through years of living and research in China Taiwan Japan and Russia the authors are deeply qualified to understand China's internal dynamics as well as its foreign relations over centuries Arguing that modern Chinese history cannot be understood without a deep appreciation of the outside factors that have influenced the country the authors focus on China's near neighbors especially Japan and Russia. They also emphasize the tragic role of almost endless warfare throughout Chinese history. Providing a unique comparative approach, the authors bridge the cultural divide separating Chinese history from Western readers trying to understand it. Specifically geared to the teaching requirements of the semester system, the book is divided into four parts and a total of twenty-eight chapters corresponding either to two chapters per week in a fourteen-week semester or one chapter per week in a two-semester course.
