O'Mathúna, Vilijus Dranseika, Bert Gordijn, 2018-10-16 This Open Access Book is the first to examine disasters from a multidisciplinary perspective Justification of actions in the face of disasters requires recourse both to conceptual analysis and ethical traditions Part 1 of the book contains chapters on how disasters are conceptualized in different academic disciplines relevant to disasters Part 2 has chapters on how ethical issues that arise in relation to disasters can be addressed from a number of fundamental normative approaches in moral and political philosophy This book sets the stage for more focused normative debates given that no one book can be completely comprehensive Providing analysis of core concepts and with real world relevance this book should be of interest to disaster scholars and researchers those working in ethics and political philosophy as well as policy makers humanitarian actors and intergovernmental organizations

Of Risks and Normative Responses Christina Anikó Simmig, 2023-09-23 Disaster losses in the context of natural hazards continue to rise despite a growing understanding of disaster risks and measures to reduce them One obstacle to enhancing private and public disaster risk reduction is the influence of the distorted risk perception of laypeople The book argues for the necessity of public regulations and explores means to mitigate the consequences of such distorted risk perception through legal measures and adjustments to political decision making in Council of Europe member states while respecting the value of autonomy and democratic principles In terms of collective decision making the book advocates for the implementation of deliberative fora in the democratic decision making process to mitigate the influence of distorted risk perception associated with natural hazards Additionally the book discusses a range of disaster risk reducing measures that member states may lawfully implement to protect individuals and communities from the consequences of distorted risk perceptions related to common natural hazards To underscore the merits of strengthening disaster risk reduction from the bottom up this book demonstrates how fundamental rights and democratic values impede attempts to increase DRR from the

Broken Planet Sharon

Dirckx, 2023-02-16 In Broken Planet Dr Sharon Dirckx scientist and apologist offers a measured and thoughtful case for how there could be a God of love that allows natural disasters The question of suffering is one of the greatest hurdles to Christian faith When believers respond to the question of why there is suffering in the world they often turn to the free will defence This states that humans make choices for good or ill that can bring about suffering in the lives of others However that doesn't explain why children die of cancer or why the latest earthquakes tsunamis or pandemics have been so destructive These seem to happen not because of our choices but in spite of them So how do we make sense of these events Dr Sharon Dirckx blends argument science and first person narrative in this unique book weaving answers to real questions with compassion and empathy while also acknowledging the element of mystery we will always live with while on earth Dr Dirckx addresses topics such as If God exists why would he make a world with earthquakes and tsunamis Why is there so much suffering in a natural disaster Are natural disasters God's judgement Is my illness a punishment from God What kind of God would allow natural disasters and diseases If you have ever struggled to reconcile the idea of a loving God with all the pain in our world this book will encourage you that belief in such a God is not as unreasonable as it may seem In fact it may be where God is revealed most profoundly

Basic Income for Disasters and Climate Change in Africa Sara Bernardo, 2024-11-07

This book considers how basic income could be used as a mechanism for disaster risk reduction and climate change adaptation in African agrarian societies African agrarian societies are among those most severely impacted by disasters due to insufficient financial and technological resources to prepare for and respond to crises This book argues that hazards and environmental disasters are increasingly not isolated occurrences and the vulnerability of communities is cumulative event after event with capacities to cope and adapt weakened progressively With pre and post disaster operating as a single continuous process basic income could provide communities with a stable flow of money leaving them better able to adapt and respond to crises To illustrate the theoretical framework the book uses Mozambique and more specifically the district of Bzi as an instrumental case study This innovative book will be of interest to readers across the fields of global development African studies and humanitarian and disaster studies

Tornado God Peter J. Thuesen, 2020 One of the earliest sources of humanity's religious impulse was severe weather which ancient peoples attributed to the wrath of storm gods Enlightenment thinkers derided such beliefs as superstition but in America scientific and theological hubris came face to face with the tornado nature's most violent windstorm In this groundbreaking history Peter J Thuesen traces the primal connections between weather and religion in the United States He shows that tornadoes and other storms have repeatedly drawn Americans into the profoundest of religious mysteries and confronted them with the question of their own destiny how much is self determined and how much is beyond human understanding or control What are You Afraid Of? David Jeremiah, 2013 Everyone is afraid of something and too often these fears are crippling keeping us from the life God has called us to live As Christians we have been given all we need in order to face down even the most frightening unexpected and overwhelming obstacles in life Jeremiah explores the top ten fears that are holding so many of us back from the life God has called us to live and shares the supernatural secrets for facing down these fears with faith
