Willa Cather's The Song of the Lark Dialogue:

Willa Cather's The Song of the Lark Debra L. Cumberland, 2010 Willa Cather's The Song of the Lark the latest in Rodopi's Dialogue Series is a collection of thirteen new essays exploring Cather's 1915 classic novel about the coming of age of Thea Kronborg a gifted young opera singer As in previous editions in the Dialogue series this volume on Cather's novel offers analyses by both new and emerging scholars on complex and controversial issues Specific areas of focus include the role of the West and the railroad race and race relations the performing arts as well as Cather's complex construction of culture throughout the novel Thea's role as a possible feminist icon receives a fresh insightful look while other writers explore the nature of gift and gift giving as well as the novel's relation to other literary movements and genres Scholars and the general public will welcome the ways these new critical insights offer a fresh look at this modern classic The Song of the Lark

Willa Cather, 1915 A novelist and short story writer Willa Cather is today widely regarded as one of the foremost American authors of the twentieth century Particularly renowned for the memorable women she created for such works as My Antonia and O Pioneers she pens the portrait of another formidable character in The Song of the Lark This her third novel traces the struggle of the woman as artist in an era when a woman's role was far more rigidly defined than it is today The prototype for the main character as a child and adolescent was Cather herself while a leading Wagnerian soprano at the Metropolitan Opera Olive Fremstad became the model for Thea Kronborg the singer who defies the limitations placed on women of her time and social station to become an international opera star A coming of age novel important for the issues of gender and class that it explores The Song of the Lark is one of Cather's most popular and lyrical works Book jacket Willa Cather's

particular literary based film takes an awareness of certain factors Written with a formalistic rather than historical approach this work presents a comprehensive guide to literature based films establishing a contextual and theoretical basis to help the reader understand the relationships between such movies and the original texts as well as the reader s own individual responses to these productions To this end it focuses on recognizing and appreciating the inherent difficulties encountered when basing a film on a literary work be it a novel novella play or short story Individual chapters deal with the specific issues and difficulties raised by each of these genres providing an overview backed up by case studies of specific film translations Films and literary works receiving this treatment include The Unbearable Lightness of Being The Manchurian Candidate 1962 Lady Windemere s Fan by Oscar Wilde and Shakespeare s Henry V Interspersed throughout the text are suggestions for activities the film student or buff can use to enhance his or her appreciation and understanding of the films
