Collection H. G. Wells, 2017-11-30 For more than 100 years science fiction writers have told tales of alien encounters and fascinating technologies and warned of the dangers of dystopian governments From Victorians experimenting with time travel to pioneers exploring the depths of space the stories collected here are a tribute to the imagination of the inventors of the modern science fiction genre Some tales are filled with boundless optimism for the ingenuity of humanity while others provide fearful warnings of the risks of war and the dangers of technology In the late 19th century writers across the world began looking to the future In France Jules Verne explored the possibilities of future technology and the wonders of exploration in his novels Journey to the Centre of the Earth and Twenty Thousand Leagues Under the Sea In England H G Wells established himself as one of the founders of science fiction with his novels The Time Machine and The War of the Worlds They were both also prolific short story writers Others followed suit In Bengal the feminist Rokeya Sakhawat Hossain used her fiction to advance women's rights and education In the United States Jack London found science fiction the perfect way to express some of his unique political ideas By the end of World War I science fiction had established itself as a major genre With the birth of the pulp magazine came a slew of accomplished writers authors such as George Griffith John Ulrich Giesy Homer Eon Flint Cyril G Wates and others excelled at the short story able to experiment and create a sense of wonder in their fascinating tales This collection includes stories by Grant Allen Stephen Vincent Ben t Miles J Breuer Thornton DeKy Francis Flagg Homer Eon Flint John Ulrich Giesy George Griffith Austin Hall Will Harben Nathaniel Hawthorne Rokeya Sakhawat Hossain Rudyard Kipling Jack London Edward Page Mitchell Garrett P Serviss Charles B Stilson Jules Verne Cyril G Wates Stanley G Weinbaum H G Wells Space, Time, and Aliens Steven J. result many of the producers of franchised Star Wars texts films television comics novels games and more over the past four decades have been fans turned creators Yet despite its dominant cultural and industrial positions Star Wars has rarely been the topic of sustained critical work Star Wars and the History of Transmedia Storytelling offers a corrective to this oversight by curating essays from a wide range of interdisciplinary scholars in order to bring Star Wars and its transmedia narratives more fully into the fold of media and cultural studies The collection places Star Wars at the center of those studies projects by examining video games novels and novelizations comics advertising practices television shows franchising models aesthetic and economic decisions fandom and cultural responses and other aspects of Star Wars and its world building in their multiple contexts of production distribution and reception In emphasizing that Star Wars is both a media franchise and a transmedia storyworld Star Wars and the History of Transmedia Storytelling demonstrates the ways in which transmedia storytelling and the industrial logic of media franchising have developed in concert over the past four decades as multinational corporations have become the central means for subsidizing profiting from and selling modes of immersive storyworlds to global audiences By taking this dual approach the book focuses on the interconnected nature of corporate production fan consumption and transmedia world building As such this collection grapples with the historical cultural aesthetic and political economic implications of the relationship between media franchising and transmedia storytelling as they are seen at work in the world s most profitable transmedia franchise
