Who Do You Say That I Am Essays On Christology:

Who Do You Say that I Am? Jack Dean Kingsbury, Mark Allan Powell, David R. Bauer, 1999-01-01 In this volume some of the most prominent international biblical and theological scholars suggest new and exciting ways of understanding the Christology of every major witness in the New Testament canon Along with essays addressing the significance of Christology for systematic theology ethics pastoral ministry and preaching the volume offers a comprehensive and accessible introduction to the New Testament BOOK JACKET

Imitating Jesus Richard A. Burridge, 2007-10-22 In contrast to many studies of New Testament ethics which treat the New Testament in general and Paul in particular this book focuses on the person of Jesus himself Richard Burridge maintains that imitating Jesus means following both his words which are very demanding ethical teachings and his deeds and example of being inclusive and accepting of everyone Burridge carefully and systematically traces that combination of rigorous ethical instruction and inclusive community through the letters of Paul and the four Gospels treating specific ethical issues pertaining to each part of Scripture The book culminates with a chapter on apartheid as an ethical challenge to reading the New Testament using South Africa as a contemporary case study enables Burridge to highlight and further apply his previous discussion and conclusions The Historical Character of Jesus David

Allen, 2013-03-21 By their very nature historical Jesus studies inevitably focus on the Gospel accounts canonical and non canonical alike Scholarly portrayals so generated may vary but the source material tends to be restricted to Gospel texts with the other NT testimony rendered secondary as result and its value limited by either genre or late dating This book responds to this neglect by focusing specifically on non Gospel material to see how the other texts of the NT contribute to the picture of Jesus The book helpfully collates and reflects on the historical significance of key NT texts in relation to their presentation of Jesus bringing them together in one place and generating fresh perspectives on the early Jesus movement A Theology of Mark's Gospel David E. Garland, 2015-10-06 A Theology of Mark's Gospel is the fourth volume in the BTNT series This landmark textbook written by leading New Testament scholar David E Garland thoroughly explores the theology of Mark's Gospel It both covers major Markan themes and also sets forth the distinctive contribution of Mark to the New Testament and the canon of Scripture providing readers with an in depth and holistic grasp of Markan theology in the larger context of the Bible This substantive evangelical treatment of Markan theology makes an ideal college or seminary level text

Behold the Man Colleen Conway, 2008-05-07 In this book Colleen Conway looks at the construction of masculinity in New Testament depictions of Jesus She argues that the New Testament writers necessarily engaged the predominant gender ideology of the Roman Empire whether consciously or unconsciously Although the notion of what constituted ideal masculinity in Greek and Roman cultures certainly pre dated the Roman Empire the emergence of the Principate concentrated this gender ideology on the figure of the emperor Indeed critical to the success of the empire was the portrayal of the emperor as the ideal man and the Roman citizen as one who aspired to be the same Any person who was held up alongside the emperor as another source of authority would be assessed in terms of the cultural values represented in this Roman image of the manly man Conway examines a variety of ancient ideas of masculinity as found in philosophical discourses medical treaties imperial documents and ancient inscriptions Manliness in these accounts was achieved through self control over passions such as lust anger and greed It was also gained through manly displays of courage the endurance of pain and death on behalf of others With these texts as a starting point Conway shows how the New Testament writings approach Jesus gender identity From Paul s early letters to the Gospels and Acts to the book of Revelation Christian writings in the Bible confront the potentially emasculating scandal of the cross and affirm Jesus as ideally masculine Conway s study touches on such themes as the relationship between divinity and masculinity the role of the body in relation to gender identity and belief in Jesus as a means of achieving a more ideal form of masculinity This impeccably researched and highly readable book reveals the importance of ancient gender ideology for the interpretation of Christian texts Who do you say that I am? : essays on Christology : in honor of Jack Dean Kingsbury Mark Allan ; Bauer Powell (David R., eds),1999 Majority World Theology Gene L. Green,Stephen T. Pardue,K. K. Yeo,2020-12-01 More Christians live in the Majority World than in Europe and North America Yet most theological literature does not reflect the rising tide of Christian reflection coming from these regions Bringing together theological resources from past and present East and West this work engages conversations with leading global scholars on theology faith and mission for the enrichment of the entire church

Who Do You Say that I Am? John C. Cavadini,Laura Holt,2004 Drawing together renowned scholars of Christianity Judaism and Islam Who Do You Say That I Am focuses on the identity and ministry of Jesus This distinctive collection provides an ecumenical forum in which adherents of some of the world s major religions comment on the tradition of Christian engagement with fundamental questions of Christology The essays in this volume were delivered at an international conference at the Tantur Institute for Ecumenical Studies in Israel during May 2000 Contributors to this volume write on varied topics including the Christological creeds and confessions of the early church the confessions of the Councils the many and various titles given to Jesus in the New Testament the relationship between the biblical confessions and the creedal confessions of the Councils a theology of the poor Christology and inter religious dialogue and a comparative theology of mutual illumination among Christianity Judaism and Islam While covering diverse themes the essays in this volume are united by the conviction that the faith of the Church is by its very nature open to development and understanding Who Do You Say I Am? George Kalantzis,David B. Capes,Ty Kieser,2020-03-06 Human existence is a bodily existence A first principle of historic Christianity has been that Jesus assumed our humanity and everything essential to it in order that God may redeem all of our existence Christ is the revelation of God and the revelation of true humanity As we seek to understand our embodied experiences of the world and one another we do so in light of the embodied life of Jesus Christ Jesus s humanity shows us what it means to live an embodied human life rightly and how we as embodied human beings can relate to the world around us In this book we invite readers to explore with us why the humanity of Jesus is central to the Christian understanding of community society salvation and life with God Over the span of these ten chapters this book draws from biblical historic and cultural discussions as it enters into the breadth of the significance of the humanity of Jesus and explores how the reality of the Incarnation challenges and redeems our broken social structures racial and ethnic divisions economic systems and sexuality

What Do You Say That I Am? Donald Armstrong,1999 In our current time the essential and life changing question that Jesus asked of his disciples Who do you say that I am has been in the theology of many effectively changed to Who would you like me to be From radical feminist theologians who critique Jesus through their particular experience as women to church growth experts who offer God at your service Jesus has been revisioned and reimaged to bless what we have become and to grant the fulfillment of our excessive desires

Who Do You Say that I Am? Scott Paeth,2006 A collection of essays on the role of Christology from the perspective of the United Church of Christ written by prominent members of the denomination

The Book of Revelation in Christological Focus Dan Liroy,2003 By making use of a grammatical historical form of exegesis Dan Liroy conducts a thoroughgoing textual analysis of Revelation with special attention given to the connection between its Christocentric themes and its doctrinal rationale The result is a comprehensive study that is informed by the Old Testament the New Testament and extrabiblical material Appropriate for personal study as well as a college and seminary text this book provides an insightful engaging and scholarly treatment of the Apocalypse

The Gospel of Matthew in Its Roman Imperial Context John Kenneth Riches,David C. Sim,2005 In what sense does Matthew s Gospel reflect the colonial situation in which the community found itself after the fall of Jerusalem and the subsequent humiliation of Jews across the Roman Empire To what extent was Matthew seeking to oppose Rome s claims to authority and sovereignty over the whole world to set up alternative systems of power and society to forge new senses of identity If Matthew s community felt itself to be living on the margins of society where did it see the centre as lying In Judaism or in Rome And how did Matthew s approach to such problems compare with that of Jews who were not followers of Jesus Christ and with that of others Jews and Gentiles who were followers

Key Events in the Life of the Historical Jesus Darrell L. Bock,Robert L. Webb,2009 Using a carefully defined approach to historical Jesus studies and historical method this collection of essays examines twelve key events in the life of Jesus that were part of a decade long collaborative research project Each essay examines the case for the event s authenticity and then explores the social and cultural background to the event to provide an understanding of the event s historical significance The first six events are related to the public ministry context of Jesus mostly associated with his Galilean ministry while latter six events involve his final days in Jerusalem The final essay closes with suggestions about how these events cohere and what they can tell us about what Jesus did The Reliability of the Gospel Tradition Birger Gerhardsson, 2001 The historical reliability of the Gospels has been discussed from the Enlightenment onwards At present many scholars assume that the canonical Gospels as we have them are essentially fictions constructed near the end of the first century to meet the needs of the Christian movement of that time and that they give us very little reliable information regarding the life and teachings of Jesus But have these scholars really understood the nature of the written Gospels Birger Gerhardsson has devoted almost the whole of his academic career to the study of the oral tradition that is the basis of our canonical Gospels His groundbreaking doctoral dissertation Memory and Manuscript drew a parallel between the way in which the rabbis taught their disciples and the way Jesus taught his disciples both required memorization of the master's teaching Rabbinic disciples handed on their masters tradition with great care and we can be sure that the disciples of Jesus would have been no less careful with what he taught them The Reliability of the Gospel Tradition presents three studies that illuminate how the early Christians passed on tradition The Origins of the Gospel Tradition gives an accessible review of the debate regarding the extent to which the New Testament evangelists enable us to hear the voice of Jesus The Path of the Gospel Tradition contains a critical discussion of the approach of the form critical school to the problem of the early Christian tradition ending with an alternative sketch of the path of the tradition The Gospel Tradition offers a rather detailed picture of various aspects of the content and method of early Christian tradition and assesses the reliability of the four oldest of the extant written records In the current climate of skepticism I know of nothing more helpful than Birger Gerhardsson's writings and that is why I am particularly delighted that the pieces that compose the present volume are again available in print New generations of students deserve to have them not merely because they ultimately vindicate the church's estimate of Jesus but because they are true to the nature of the Gospels themselves and to the purpose of those who wrote them Donald A Hagner from the Foreword Who Do You Say That I Am? Rodney L. Reed, David K. Ngaruiya, 2021-11-05 For the church there can be no more significant question than Christ's Who do you say that I am It is the cornerstone upon which all of Christian faith and praxis must stand In this volume the sixth from the Africa Society of Evangelical Theology contributors explore the question of Christ's identity and its implications for the global church from a distinctly African perspective Engaging biblical studies church history and applications for missions discipleship and inter religious dialogue these essays utilize African hermeneutics and rich cultural perspectives to shed light on Christ's contextual relevance for Africa and for the world The final section is dedicated to the memory of John S Mbiti the father of modern African theology who passed away in 2019 Septuagintal Midrash in the Speeches of Acts Luke Timothy Johnson, 2002 Discernment of Revelation in the Gospel of Matthew Frances Shaw, 2007 This is explored by examining the background in the old Testament and early Jewish literature model discernment Jesus fragile discernment Peter and failed discernment Opponents
