Trail Book Mary Hunter Austin:

The Trail Book Mary Hunter Austin, From the time that he had first found himself alone with them Oliver had felt sure that the animals could come alive again if they wished That was one blowy afternoon about a week after his father had been made night engineer and nobody had come into the Museum for several hours Oliver had been sitting for some time in front of the Buffalo case wondering what might be at the other end of the trail The cows that stood midway in it had such agoinglook He was sure it must lead past the hummock where the old bull flourished his tail to one of those places where he had always wished to be All at once as the boy sat there thinking about it the glass case disappeared and the trail shot out like a dark snake over a great stretch of rolling grass covered prairie He could see the tops of the grasses stirring like the hair on the old Buffalo s coat and the ripple of water on the beaver pool which was just opposite and yet somehow only to be reached after long travel through the Buffalo Country The wind moved on the grass on the surface of the water and the young leaves of the alders and over all the animals came the start and stir of life And then the slow shuffling steps of the Museum attendant startled it all into stillness again The attendant spoke to Oliver as he passed for even a small boy is worth talking to when you have been all day in a Museum where nothing is new to you and nobody comes You want to look out son said the attendant who really liked the boy and hadn t a notion what sort of ideas he was putting into Oliver s head If you ain t careful some of them things will come downstairs some night and go off with ye And why should MacShea have said that if he hadn t known for certain that the animalsdidcome alive at night That was the way Oliver put it when he was trying to describe this extraordinary experience to his sister Dorcas Jane who was eleven and a half and not at all imaginative eyed him suspiciously Oliver had such a way of stating things that were not at all believable in a way that made them seem the likeliest things in the world He was even capable of acting for days as if things were so which you knew from the beginning were only the most delightful of make believes Life on this basis was immensely more exciting but then you never knew whether or not he might be what some of his boy friends called stringing you so when Oliver began to hint darkly at his belief that the stuffed animals in the Mammal room of the Museum came alive at night and had larks of their own Dorcas Jane offered the most noncommittal objection that occurred to her

The White Heart of Mojave: An Adventure with the Outdoors of the Desert Edna Brush Perkins, 2019-11-19 In The White Heart of Mojave An Adventure with the Outdoors of the Desert Edna Brush Perkins invites readers to embark on an evocative journey through the stark yet stunning landscapes of the Mojave Desert Written in a lyrical prose style that fuses vivid imagery with profound insights Perkins captures the essence of the desert s unique ecology and the contrast between its harshness and beauty The book situates itself within a broader literary context of American nature writing exploring the reciprocity between humanity and the natural world while underscoring the significance of conservation in the early 20th century Edna Brush Perkins an advocate for environmental preservation and a pioneering woman in the field of nature writing draws from her experiences as a naturalist and educator Her deep connection to the landscapes she depicts is shaped by her background in socio environmental advocacy and her travels throughout the American West Perkins s passion for the outdoors and her desire to enlighten others about the desert s splendor resonate throughout the text making it both a personal reflection and a call to awareness I highly recommend The White Heart of Mojave for readers with an interest in environmental literature adventure narratives and the intricate beauty of desert ecosystems Perkins s blend of exploration keen observation and evocative language will inspire readers to appreciate and protect these vital landscapes

The Basket Woman Mary Austin, 1904 In preparing this volume of western myths for school use the object has been not so much to provide authentic Indian Folk tales as to present certain aspects of nature as they appear in the myth making mood that is to say in the form of strongest appeal to the child mind Indian myths as they exist among Indians are too frequently sustained by coarse and cruel incidents comparable to the belly ripping joke in Jack the Giant Killer or the blinding of Gloucester in King Lear and when presented in story form too often fall under the misapprehension of the myth as something invented and added to the imaginative life It is in fact the root and branch of man s normal intimacy with nature

The Discovery of Yellowstone Park Nathaniel Pitt Langford, 2019-12-09 In The Discovery of Yellowstone Park Nathaniel Pitt Langford provides an intricate account of the first exploration of the now famous national park in 1870 Langford s narrative interlaces vivid descriptions of the park s stunning geothermal wonders with a compelling recounting of the expedition s challenges and discoveries His literary style rich with detail and evocative prose reflects the burgeoning American interest in conservation and the sublime beauty of the natural world during the late 19th century a time when the notion of protecting wild spaces was beginning to take root in the national consciousness Langford who served as the first superintendent of Yellowstone National Park was intimately acquainted with the region s breathtaking landscapes and its significance His firsthand experiences as a member of the Washburn Langford Doane expedition lend authenticity to his writing Langford s deep appreciation for nature and dedication to preserving it emerged from his background as a frontiersman and public servant shaping his vision of Yellowstone as a protected national treasure The Discovery of Yellowstone Park is an essential read for enthusiasts of American history nature conservation and exploration narratives Langford's meticulous documentation not only preserves the legacy of the park but also inspires contemporary readers to cherish and advocate for our natural wonders

The Trail Book Mary Hunter Austin, 2019-11-25 In The Trail Book Mary Hunter Austin masterfully intertwines her profound appreciation for the American Southwest with a compelling exploration of its natural landscapes and cultural heritage Through vivid prose and poetic descriptions Austin captures the essence of the arid deserts rugged mountains and diverse flora and fauna that define this region Set against the backdrop of the early 20th century a time when the American wilderness was both a source of inspiration and a subject of contemplation her work delves into themes of exploration environmentalism and the human connection to nature aligning with the literary movements of naturalism and regionalism prevalent at the time Austin a pioneering author and environmental advocate spent much of her life in the desert regions of California which profoundly impacted her worldview and literary output Her background in anthropology and her deep respect for indigenous cultures informed her nuanced understanding of the interconnectedness of humanity and nature Austin's experiences as a woman writer in a male dominated literary landscape also lend her work a unique perspective shedding light on the often overlooked narratives of the female experience in the wilderness I highly recommend The Trail Book to readers who seek an insightful homage to the American landscape as well as those interested in the emerging voice of women in early environmental literature Austin's eloquent reflections invite us to reconsider our relationship with nature while celebrating the profound beauty and solemnity of the trails she so passionately describes

Selected Short Works of Mary Hunter Austin Mary Hunter Austin, 2020-09-28 THE first time of my hearing of her was at Temblor We had come all one day between blunt whitish bluffs rising from mirage water with a thick pale wake of dust billowing from the wheels all the dead wall of the foothills sliding and shimmering with heat to learn that the Walking Woman had passed us somewhere in the dizzying dimness going down to the Tulares on her own feet We heard of her again in the Carrisal and again at Adobe Station where she had passed a week before the shearing and at last I had a glimpse of her at the Eighteen Mile House as I went hurriedly northward on the Mojave stage and afterward shepherders at whose camps she slept and cowboys at rodeos told me as much of her way of life as they could understand Like enough they told her as much of mine That was very little She was the Walking Woman and no one knew her name but because she was a sort of whom men speak respectfully they called her to her face Mrs Walker and she answered to it if she was so inclined She came and went about our western world on no discoverable errand and whether she had some place of refuge where she lay by in the interim or whether between her seldom unaccountable appearances in our quarter she went on steadily walking was never learned She came and went oftenest in a kind of muse of travel which the untrammelled space begets or at rare intervals flooding wondrously with talk never of herself but of things she had known and seen She must have seen some rare happenings too by report She was at Maverick the time of the Big Snow and at Tres Pinos when they brought home the body of Morena and if anybody could have told whether de Borba killed Mariana for spite or defense it would have been she only she could not be found when most wanted She was at Tunawai at the time of the cloud burst and if she had cared for it could have known most desirable things of the ways of trail making burrow habiting small things Wind's Trail Peggy Pond Church,1990 The Passport to Gardening has been created for passionate gardeners with an unquenchable thirst for knowledge This unique new reference book is filled with practical advice expert opinions reviews of the best books product information even web sites to guide you to new and exotic ports of call throughout the gardening world The Passport introduces readers to more than thirty separate gardening topics including Garden Design Building Healthy Soil Extending the Season The Kitchen Garden Composting The Edible Landscape Growing Under Lights Seed Saving Community Gardening From bulbs to berries fences to fertilizers the Gardener s Supply Passport to Gardening is a treasure chest of information that will equip you to become a more knowledgeable and successful gardener BOOK JACKET Title Summary field provided by Blackwell North America Inc All Rights Reserved Stories from the Country of Lost Borders Mary Austin,1987 Mary Austin s The Land of Little Rain 1903 and Lost Borders 1909 both set in the California desert make intimate connections between animals people and the land they inhabit For Austin the two indispensable conditions of her fiction were that the region must enter the story as another character as the instigator of plot and that the story must reflect the essential qualities of the land In The Land of Little Rain Austin s attention to natural detail allows her to write prose that is geologically biologically and botanically accurate at the same time that it offers metaphorical insight into human emotional and spiritual experience In Lost Borders Austin focuses on both white and Indian women s experiences in the desert looks for the sources of their deprivation and finds them in the ways life betrays them usually in the guise of men She offers several portraits of strong women characters but ultimately identifies herself with the desert which she personifies as a woman Selected Short Works Mary Hunter Austin,2008-10-01 Mary Hunter Austin 1868 1934 was an American writer of fiction and non fiction For 17 years she made a special study of Indian life in the Mojave Desert and her publications set forth the intimate knowledge she thus acquired She was a prolific novelist poet critic and playwright as well as an early feminist and defender of Native American and Spanish American rights She is best known for her tribute to the deserts of the American Southwest The Land of Little Rain 1903 Amongst her other works are The Flock 1906 Santa Lucia A Common Story 1908 Lost Borders The People of the Desert 1909 Fire 1912 The Trail Book 1918 and Starry Adventure 1931 Book Bulletin ,1917 A Trip Around the World Through the Telebinocular Burton Holmes,1928 The United States Catalog ,1906
