Cold War Museology Jessica Douthwaite, Holger Nehring, Samuel J.M.M. Alberti, 2024-11-27 Cold War Museology is the first volume to bring together interdisciplinary and international contributions from leading practitioners and academics specialising in Cold War museology Bringing the most recent historiography of the Cold War into conversation with museological theory and practice chapters within the volume analyse the current condition of Cold War museology By unpicking some of the unique challenges facing museum specialists dealing with the Cold War this book takes a lead in developing the collection display and interpretation of this history The chapters question what makes a Cold War object address the complexity of Cold War time face up to questions of Cold War race gender and imperialism and reveal how to materialise the Cold War imaginary in museums Most importantly perhaps the volume demonstrates that a consideration of the interconnecting forces of global twentieth century history enables experts to add important complexity and nuance to the narratives with which they work and improve visitor understandings through innovative interpretations Cold War Museology will encourage readers towards a more nuanced holistic and inclusive approach to Cold War materiality in museums It will be of great interest to academics museum professionals and students engaged in the study of museums heritage and the Cold War as well as those with an interest in archaeology media culture and memory

Madness in Cold War America Alexander Dunst, 2016-08-19 This book tells the story of how madness came to play a prominent part in America's political and cultural debates It argues that metaphors of madness rise to unprecedented popularity amidst the domestic struggles of the early Cold War and become a pre eminent way of understanding the relationship between politics and culture in the United States In linking the individual psyche to society psychopathology contributes to issues central to post World War II society a dramatic extension of state power the fate of the individual in bureaucratic society the political function of emotions and the limits to admissible dissent Such vocabulary may accuse opponents of being crazy Yet at stake is a fundamental error of judgment for which madness provides welcome metaphors across US diplomacy and psychiatry social movements and criticism literature and film In the process major parties and whole historical eras literary movements and social groups are declared insane Reacting against violence at home and war abroad countercultural authors oppose a sane madness to irrational reason romanticizing the wisdom of the schizophrenic and paranoia's superior insight As the Sixties give way to a plurality of lifestyles an alternative vision arrives of a madness now become so widespread and ordinary that it may finally escape pathology

The Routledge History of Twentieth-Century United States Jerald Podair, Darren Dochuk, 2018-05-02 The Routledge History of the Twentieth Century United States is a comprehensive introduction to the most important trends and developments in the study of modern United States history Driven by interdisciplinary scholarship the thirty four original chapters underscore the vast range of identities perspectives and tensions that contributed to the growth and contested meanings of the United States in the twentieth century The chronological and topical breadth of the collection highlights critical political and economic developments of the century while also drawing attention to relatively recent areas of research including borderlands technology and disability studies Dynamic and flexible in its possible applications The Routledge History of the Twentieth Century United States offers an exciting new resource for the study of modern American history Seeking Meaning, Seeking Justice in a Post-Cold War World Judith Keene, Elizabeth Rezniewski, 2018-03-27 The challenge for historians as for individuals and nations has been to make sense of the Cold War past without recourse to the obsolete frameworks of a dichotomous world The editors of Seeking Meaning Seeking Justice in the Post Cold War World Judith Keene and Elizabeth Rezniewski have brought together contributions that address the diverse modes by which the Cold War is being assessed with a major focus on countries on the periphery of the Cold War confrontation These approaches include developments in historiography as new intellectual and cultural frame are applied to old debates Authors also consider the universal principles and moral discourses including that of human rights on which judgements have been based and judicial processes instigated and the forms of memorialisation that have sought to come to terms and perhaps achieve reconciliation with a Cold War past Contributors are Ann Curthoys Philip Deery Katherine Hite Michael Humphrey Su kyong Hwang Perry Johansson Judith Keene Betty O'Neill Peter Read Elizabeth Rezniewski Estela Valverde Adrian Vickers and Marivic Wyndham Divided Village: The Cold War in the German Borderlands Jason B. Johnson, 2017-05-18 In 1983 then US Vice President George H W Bush delivered a speech in London He had just been in West Berlin and spoke about his first visit to the Berlin Wall Bush then went on to describe another German wall he saw after Berlin if anything that wall was an even greater obscenity than its eponym to the north The story of that wall is a fascinating and valuable slice of the history of post war Europe That wall had gone up nearly two hundred miles southwest of Berlin at the edge of divided Germany in the tiny remote farming village of Mdlareuth For nearly half the twentieth century the Iron Curtain divided Mdlareuth in two In this little valley surrounded by forests and fields the villagers of Mdlareuth found themselves on the literal front line of the Cold War The East German state gradually militarized the border through the community while eastern villagers exhibited a range of responses to cope with their changing circumstances reflective of the variable nature of the Cold War border through Germany along the Iron Curtain the size and isolation of the divided place influenced the local character of the division Spatial Formats under the Global Condition Matthias Middell, Steffi Marung, 2019-08-05 Contributions to this volume summarize and discuss the theoretical foundations of the Collaborative Research Centre at Leipzig University which address the relationship between processes of re spatialization on the one hand and the establishment and characteristics of spatial formats on the other hand Under the global condition spatial formats are products of collective negotiations on the most effective and widely acceptable balance between the claim for sovereignty and the need for interconnectedness Global Transformations in the Life Sciences, 1945-1980 Patrick Manning, Mat

Savelli,2018-06-07 The second half of the twentieth century brought extraordinary transformations in knowledge and practice of the life sciences In an era of decolonization mass social welfare policies and the formation of new international institutions such as UNESCO and the WHO monumental advances were made in both theoretical and practical applications of the life sciences including the discovery of life s molecular processes and substantive improvements in global public health and medicine Combining perspectives from the history of science and world history this volume examines the impact of major world historical processes of the postwar period on the evolution of the life sciences Contributors consider the long term evolution of scientific practice research and innovation across a range of fields and subfields in the life sciences and in the context of Cold War anxieties and ambitions Together they examine how the formation of international organizations and global research programs allowed for transnational exchange and cooperation but in a period rife with competition and nationalist interests which influenced dramatic changes in the field as the postcolonial world order unfolded Tourism and Travel during the Cold War Sune Bechmann Pedersen,Christian Noack,2019-09-11 The Iron Curtain was not an impenetrable divide and contacts between East and West took place regularly and on various levels throughout the Cold War This book explores how the European tourist industry transcended the ideological fault lines and the communist states attracted an ever increasing number of Western tourists Based on extensive original research it examines the ramifications of tourism from sun and sea package tours to human rights travels in key Eastern European locations including East Berlin the Soviet Union Yugoslavia and Albania The book s analysis of the politics culture and history of tourism to the East offers important new perspectives on European tourism in the twentieth century The Introduction of this book is freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4 0 license A Companion to U.S. Foreign Relations Christopher R.
