Unmasking The State Making Guinea Modern:

Unmasking the State Mike McGovern, 2013 A historical ethnography of the socialist period in Guinea Page 5

Unmasking the State Mike McGovern, 2024-05-31 When the Republic of Guinea gained independence in 1958 one of the first policies of the new state was a village to village eradication of masks and other ritual objects it deemed fetishes The Demystification Program as it was called was so urgent it even preceded the building of a national road system In Unmasking the State Mike McGovern attempts to understand why this program was so important to the emerging state and examines the complex role it had in creating a unified national identity In doing so he tells a dramatic story of cat and mouse where minority groups cling desperately to their important and outlawed customs Primarily focused on the communities in the country's southeastern rainforest region people known as Forestiers the Demystification Program operated via a paradox At the same time it banned rituals from Forestiers day to day lives it appropriated them into a state sponsored program of folklorization McGovern points to an important purpose for this by objectifying this polytheistic group's rituals the state created a viable counterexample against which the Muslim majority could define proper modernity Describing the intertwined relationship between national and local identity making McGovern showcases the coercive power and the unintended consequences involved when states attempt to engineer culture

A Country of Defiance Mark W. Deets, 2023-10-24 A historiographical analysis of human geography and a social history of nationalist separatism and cultural identity in southern Senegal This book is a spatial history of the conflict in Casamance the portion of Senegal located south of The Gambia Mark W Deets traces the origins of the conflict back to the start of the colonial period in a select group of contested spaces and places where the seeds of nationalism and separatism took root Each chapter examines the development of a different piece of the still unrealized Casamanais nation river rice field forest school and stadium Each of these locations forms a spatial discourse of grievance that transformed space into place rendering a separatist nation from the pieces where a particular Casamanais identity emerged However not every Casamanais identified with these spaces and places in the same way Many refused to tie their beloved culture and landscape to the project of separatism revealing a layer of counter mapping below that of the separatist leaders like Father Augustin Diamacoune Senghor and Mamadou Nkrumah San The Casamance conflict began on December 26 1982 After an oath taking ceremony in a sacred forest on the edge of Ziguinchor hundreds of separatists from the Movement of Democratic Forces of the Casamance MFDC marched into the town to remove the Senegalese flag in front of the regional governor's office and replace it with a white flag The marchers were met by gendarmes who quickly found themselves outnumbered Government surveillance arrests and interrogations followed into the next year when gendarmes went to the sacred forest to stop another MFDC meeting This time the separatists greeted the gendarmes with a burst of violence that left four dead their bodies mutilated Senegalese security responded with force driving the separatists armed only with improvised rifles bows and arrows and machetes into the forest

The Casamance conflict continues to the present day so far having left more than five thousand dead four hundred killed or maimed by land mines and another eight hundred thousand living in a state of insecurity with limited possibility for economic development Ordinary Casamanais on the Casamance River in the rice fields in the forests in the schools and in the sports stadiums have demonstrated a diversity of opinions about the separatist project Whether by the Senegalese state or by the separatists these ordinary Casamanais have refused to be mapped They have made the Casamance a country of defiance

Youth and the State in Guinea: Meandering Lives Michelle Engeler, 2019-09-24 By combining an ethnographic study of youth with an analysis of the local state in the making this research monograph introduces the perspective of meandering lives to grasp being young and growing up in the Guékédou borderland a remote space approximately 700 kilometers southeast of Conakry Guinea's capital This history sensitive perspective represents a fruitful lens to not only depict youth but to also draw a nuanced picture of the functioning of the state in Guinea

Developing Heritage - Developing Countries Marie Huber, 2020-11-23 The history of development has paid only little attention to cultural projects This book looks at the development politics that shaped the UNESCO World Heritage programme with a case study of Ethiopian World Heritage sites from the 1960s to the 1980s In a large scale conservation and tourism planning project selected sites were set up and promoted as images of the Ethiopian nation This story serves to illustrate UNESCO's role in constructing a useful past in many African countries engaged in the process of nation building UNESCO experts and Ethiopian elites had a shared interest in producing a portfolio of antiquities and national parks to underwrite Ethiopia's imperial claims to regional hegemony with ancient history The key findings of this book highlight a continuity in Ethiopian history despite the political ruptures caused by the 1974 revolution and UNESCO's transformation from knowledge producer to actual provider of development policies The particular focus on the bureaucratic and political practices of heritage bridges a gap between cultural heritage studies and the history of international organisations The result is a first study of the global discourse on heritage as it emerged in the 1960s development decade

Seeing Like a Citizen Kara Moskowitz,2019-11-12 In Seeing Like a Citizen Kara Moskowitz approaches Kenya's late colonial and early postcolonial eras as a single period of political economic and social transition In focusing on rural Kenyans the vast majority of the populace and the main targets of development interventions as they actively sought access to aid she offers new insights into the texture of political life in decolonizing Kenya and the early postcolonial world Using multisited archival sources and oral histories focused on the western Rift Valley Seeing Like a Citizen makes three fundamental contributions to our understanding of African and Kenyan history First it challenges the widely accepted idea of the gatekeeper state revealing that state control remained limited and that the postcolonial state was an internally varied and often dissonant institution Second it transforms our understanding of postcolonial citizenship showing that its balance of rights and duties was neither claimed nor imposed but negotiated and differentiated Third it reorients Kenyan historiography away from central Kenya and elite postcolonial politics The result is a powerful investigation of experiences of independence of the meaning and form of development and of how global political practices were composed and recomposed on the ground in local settings

Falola,2018-01-28 This wide ranging volume presents the most complete appraisal of modern African history to date It assembles dozens of new and established scholars to tackle the questions and subjects that define the field ranging from the economy the two world wars nationalism decolonization and postcolonial politics to religion development sexuality and the African youth experience Contributors are drawn from numerous fields in African studies including art music literature education and anthropology The themes they cover illustrate the depth of modern African history and the diversity and originality of lenses available for examining it Older themes in the field have been treated to an engaging re assessment while new and emerging themes are situated as the book s core strength The result is a comprehensive vital picture of where the field of modern African history stands today Independent Africa Emmanuel Kwaku Akyeampong,2023-07-18 Independent Africa explores Africa s political economy in the first two full decades of independence through the joint projects of nation building economic development and international relations Drawing on the political careers of four heads of states Kwame Nkrumah of Ghana Ahmed S kou Tour of Guinea L opold S dar Senghor and Julius Kambarage Nyerere of Tanzania Independent Africa engages four major themes what does it mean to construct an African nation state and what should an African nation state look like how does one grow a tropical economy emerging from European colonialism how to explore an indigenous model of economic development a third way in the context of a Cold War that had divided the world into two camps and how to leverage internal resources and external opportunities to diversify agricultural economies and industrialize Combining aspects of history economics and political science Independent Africa examines the important connections between the first generation of African leaders and the shared ideas that informed their endeavors at nation building and worldmaking Invoking the Invisible in the Sahara Erin Pettigrew,2023-01-26 In this innovative new history Erin Pettigrew utilizes invisible forces and entities esoteric knowledge and spirits to show how these forms of knowledge and unseen forces have shaped social structures religious norms and political power in the Saharan West Situating this ethnographic history in what became la Mauritanie under French colonial rule and later the Islamic Republic of Mauritania Pettigrew traces the changing roles of Muslim spiritual mediators and their Islamic esoteric sciences known locally as l j b over the long term history of the region By exploring the impact of the immaterial in the material world and demonstrating the importance of Islamic esoteric sciences in Saharan societies she illuminates peoples enduring reliance upon these sciences in their daily lives and argues for a new approach to historical research that takes the immaterial seriously Thomas Sankara Brian J. Peterson,2021-03-02 Thomas Sankara A Revolutionary in Cold War Africa offers the first complete biography in English of the dynamic revolutionary leader from Burkina Faso Thomas Sankara Coming to power in 1983 Sankara set his sights on combating social injustice poverty and corruption in his country fighting for women s rights direct forms of democracy economic sovereignty and environmental justice Drawing on government archival sources and over a hundred interviews with Sankara s family members friends and closest revolutionary colleagues Brian J Peterson details Sankara s political career and rise to power as well as his assassination at age 37 in 1987 in a plot led by his close friend Blaise Compaoré. Thomas Sankara: A Revolutionary in Cold War Africa offers a unique critical appraisal of Sankara and explores why he generated such enthusiasm and hope in Burkina Faso and beyond why he was such a polarizing figure how his rivals seized power from him and why T-shirts sporting his image still appear on the streets today Music in America's Cold War Diplomacy Danielle Fosler-Lussier, 2015-05-01 During the Cold War thousands of musicians from the United States traveled the world under the sponsorship of the U.S. State Department's Cultural Presentations program Using archival documents and newly collected oral histories this study illuminates the reception of these musical events for the practice of musical diplomacy on the ground sometimes differed substantially from what the department's planners envisioned Performances of music in many styles classical rock n roll folk blues and jazz were meant to compete with traveling Soviet and Chinese artists enhancing the reputation of American culture These concerts offered large audiences evidence of America's improving race relations excellent musicianship and generosity toward other peoples Most important these performances also built meaningful connections with people in other lands Through personal contacts and the media musical diplomacy created subtle musical social and political relationships on a global scale Although these tours were sometimes conceived as propaganda ventures their most important function was the building of imagined and real relationships which constitute the essence of soft power Provided by publisher Political Handbook of the World 2018-2019 Tom Lansford, 2019-03-19 The Political Handbook of the World provides timely thorough and accurate political information with more in depth coverage of current political controversies than any other reference guide The updated 2018-2019 edition will continue to be the most authoritative source for finding complete facts and analysis on each country's governmental and political makeup Compiling in one place more than 200 entries on countries and territories throughout the world this volume is renowned for its extensive coverage of all major and minor political parties and groups in each political system It also provides names of key ambassadors and international memberships of each country plus detailed profiles of more than 30 intergovernmental organizations and UN agencies This comprehensive update will include coverage of current events issues crises and controversies from the course of the last two years including Elections across Europe Referendum in Ireland Rohingya genocide in Myanmar The Venezuelan dictatorship The renaming of Swaziland to eSwatini Qatar diplomacy changes Historic meeting between the United States and North Korea Establishment of a new governing coalition in Liberia Ethical Life Webb Keane, 2015-10-06 The human propensity to take an ethical stance toward oneself and others is found in every known society yet we also know that values taken for granted in one society can contradict those in another Does ethical life arise from human nature itself Is it a universal human trait Or is it a product of one's cultural and historical context Webb Keane offers a new approach to the empirical study of ethical life that reconciles these questions showing how ethics arise at the intersection of human biology and social dynamics Drawing on the latest findings in psychology conversational interaction ethnography and history Ethical Life takes readers from inner city America to Samoa and the Inuit Arctic to reveal how we are creatures of our biology as well as our history and how our ethical lives are contingent on both Keane looks at Melanesian theories of mind and the training of Buddhist monks and discusses important social causes such as the British abolitionist movement and American feminism He explores how styles of child rearing notions of the person and moral codes in different communities elaborate on certain basic human tendencies while suppressing or ignoring others Certain to provoke debate Ethical Life presents an entirely new way of thinking about ethics morals and the factors that shape them

International Development Michael Woolcock, 2022-12-01 Whether understood as a long run historical process or an intentional political project international development transforms not only societies and economies but also key ideas about how the world works and how problems should be solved In this compelling book Michael Woolcock demonstrates that achieving peace and prosperity for all is supremely contingent and often contentious the means and ends of development are often perceived as alien unjust and disruptive its benefits and costs unequally borne Many development challenges are not technical problems amenable to an expert's solution but require extensive deliberation to find and fit context specific responses Woolcock insists that it is each generation's challenge to find shared legitimate and durable solutions to the moral imperative to reduce human suffering while simultaneously redressing the challenges that development success let alone failure inexorably brings This skillful guide will be essential reading for students and practitioners working in this complex field and for anyone seeking to help make the world a better place

The Art of Life in South Africa Daniel Magaziner, 2016-11-09 From 1952 to 1981 South Africa's apartheid government ran an art school for the training of African art teachers at Indaleni in what is today KwaZulu Natal The Art of Life in South Africa is the story of the students teachers art and politics that circulated through a small school housed in a remote former mission station It is the story of a community that made its way through the travails of white supremacist South Africa and demonstrates how the art students and teachers made together became the art of their lives Daniel Magaziner radically reframes apartheid era South African history Against the dominant narrative of apartheid oppression and black resistance as well as recent scholarship that explores violence criminality and the hopeless entanglements of the apartheid state this book focuses instead on a small group's efforts to fashion more fulfilling lives for its members and their community through the ironic medium of the apartheid era school There is no book like this in South African historiography Lushly illustrated and poetically written it gives us fully formed lives that offer remarkable insights into the now clichéd experience of black life under segregation and apartheid
