Why Men Hunt Providers Or Stewards:

Why Men Hunt Benton T. Thompson, III, 2002-02 Religion Christian Living Men s Topics Female of the Species M. Kay Martin, Barbara Voorhies, 1975 Female of the Species is an attempt to use the approach of traditional anthropology in the examination of the position of women at the species level While Martin and Voorhies recognize that there are fundamental differences between men and women that stem from basic biological differences they are committed to the proposition that culture rather than biology plays the more critical role in determining those features of behavior which ultimately dichotomize the sexes Female of the Species takes a step towards quantifying and understanding these cultural differences by looking at the changing roles women have played in society over time The Foraging Spectrum R. J. Kelly, 2007-12-31 The author wrote this book primarily for his archaeology students to show them how dangerous anthropological analogy is and how variable the actual practices of foragers of the recent past and today are His survey of anthropological literature points to differences in foraging societies patterns of diet mobility sharing land tenure exchange gender relations division of labour marriage descent and political organisation By considering the actual not imagined reasons behind diverse behaviour this book argues for a revision of many archaeological models of prehistory From the reviews A n excellent overview of key issues in hunter gatherer studies Alan Barnard in American Ethnologist Not since Man the Hunter has there been such a synthesis and such a mix of stimulating ideas This will be the authoritative work on hunter gatherers for a good number of years Brian Hayden in Canadian Journal of Archaeology A uthoritative comprehensive and highly readable A well worn and heavily annotated copy should be the companion of anyone claiming an interest or expertise in present or past hunter gatherers Bruce Winterhalder in American Antiquity Prepublication praise The Foraging Spectrum is a well written scrupulously researched synthesis of modern approaches to foraging behavior both past and present David Hurst Thomas American Museum of Natural History A tour de force of scholarship in behavioral ecology Mathias Guenther Wilfred Laurier University Scenes from the High Desert Virginia Kerns, 2010-10-01 If a religion cannot attract and instruct young people it will struggle to survive which is why recreational programs were second only to theological questions in the development of twentieth century Mormonism In this book Richard Ian Kimball explores how Mormon leaders used recreational programs to ameliorate the problems of urbanization and industrialization and to inculcate morals and values in LDS youth As well as promoting sports as a means of physical and spiritual excellence Progressive Era Mormons established a variety of institutions such as the Deseret Gymnasium and camps for girls and boys all designed to compete with more worldly attractions and to socialize adolescents into the faith Kimball employs a wealth of source material including periodicals diaries journals personal papers and institutional records to illuminate this hitherto underexplored aspect of the LDS church In addition to uncovering the historical roots of many Mormon institutions still visible today Sports in Zion is a detailed look at the broader functions of recreation in society Journeys West Virginia Kerns, 2010-03-01 Journeys West traces journeys

made during seven months of fieldwork in 1935 and 1936 by Julian Steward a young anthropologist and his wife Jane Virginia Kerns identifies the scores of Native elders whom they met throughout the Western desert men and women previously known in print only by initials and thus largely invisible as primary sources of Steward's classic ethnography Besides humanizing Steward's cultural informants revealing them as distinct individuals and also as first generation survivors of an ecological crisis caused by American settlement of their lands Kerns shows how the elders worked with Steward Each helped to construct an ethnographic portrait of life in a particular place in the high desert of the Great Basin The elders memories of how they and their ancestors had lived by hunting and gathering a sustainable way of life that endured for generations richly illustrated what Steward termed cultural adaptation It later became a key concept in anthropology and remains relevant today in an age of global environmental crisis Based on meticulous research this book draws on an impressive array of evidence from interviews and observations to census data correspondence and the field journal of the Stewards Journeys West illuminates not only on the elders who were Steward's guides but also the practice of ethnographic fieldwork a research method that is both a journey and a distinctive way of looking listening and learning
