Traders First Book Commodities Introduction:

A Trader's First Book on Commodities Carley Garner, 2010-01-07 You can make large profits by trading commodities but you'll need significant practical knowledge of the associated risks and market characteristics before you start. A Trader's First Book on Commodities is a simple practical and useful guide for new commodities traders. Author Carley Garner provides specific guidance on accessing commodity markets cost effectively, avoiding common beginners' mistakes, and improving the odds of successful profitable trades. Drawing on her extensive experience teaching traders, Garner shows how to calculate profit/loss and risk in commodities and choose the best brokerage firm, service level, data sources, and market access for your needs. She'll help you master the basics of trading commodities painlessly, avoiding beginners' mistakes. Get what you need and prevent paying for what you don't need. Know what you're buying, what it costs, the returns you're earning, and the risk you're taking. Predict price, manage risk, and make trades that reflect your analysis. Garner demystifies the industry's colorful language, helps you clearly understand what you're buying and selling, and walks you through the entire trading process. She concludes with a refreshingly new look at topics such as trading plans, handling margin calls, and even maintaining emotional stability as a trader. This book provides the type of information every trader needs to know, and the type of information too many traders had to learn the hard and expensive way. Carley offers practical, need-to-know, real-world trading tips that are lacking in many books on futures. It will help not only the novice trader but seasoned veterans as well. This book will serve as a must-have reference in every trader's library. Phil Flynn, Vice President and Senior Market Analyst at PFG Best Research and a Fox Business Network contributor. Refreshing! It's nice to see a broker who has actually been exposed to the professional side of trading and who bridges that chasm between exchange floor trading and customer service. Carley takes the time to explain, verbiage not just throw buzz words around. A good educational read, in my opinion. Don Bright, Director, Bright Trading LLC. This book has the perfect name, the perfect message, and the necessary information for any beginning trader. Take this book home. Glen Larson, President, Genesis Financial Technologies Inc. As a 35-year veteran of the CME/CBOT trading floor, I can tell you those who think they can begin trading commodities without knowing the less-talked-about topics that Carley discusses in A Trader's First Book on Commodities are sadly mistaken. Anyone who trades their own account or would like to should read this book. Danny Riley, DT Trading.

Consumed Sarah Elton,2013-10-03 By 2050 the world population is expected to reach nine billion And the challenge of feeding this rapidly growing population is being made greater by climate change which will increasingly wreak havoc on the way we produce our food At the same time we have lost touch with the soil few of us know where our food comes from let alone how to grow it and we are at the mercy of multinational corporations who control the crops and give little thought to the damage their methods are inflicting on the planet Our very future is at risk In Consumed Sarah Elton walks fields and farms on three continents not only investigating the very real threats to our food but also telling the little known stories of the people who are working against time to create a new and hopeful future From the mountains of southern France to the highlands of China from the crowded streets of Nairobi to the banks of the St Lawrence River in Quebec we meet people from all walks of life who are putting together an alternative to the omnipresent industrial food system In the arid fields of rural India we meet a farmer who has transformed her community by selling organic food directly to her neighbors We visit a laboratory in Toronto where scientists are breeding a new kind of rice seed that they claim will feed the world We learn about Italy s underground food movement how university grads are returning to the fields in China Greece and France and how in Detroit plots of vacant land planted with kale and carrots can help us see what s possible Food might be the problem but as Elton shows it is also the solution The food system as we know it was assembled in a few decades and if it can be built that quickly it can be reassembled and improved in the same amount of time Elton here lays out the targets we need to meet by the year 2050 The stories she tells give us hope for avoiding a daunting fate and instead help us to believe in a not too distant future when we can all sit at the table
