Trading Environments Environmental Transformation Environment:

Trading Environments Gordon M. Winder, Andreas Dix, 2015-12-07 This volume examines dynamic interactions between the calculative and speculative practices of commerce and the fruitfulness variability materiality liveliness and risks of nature It does so in diverse environments caught up in new trading relationships forged on and through frontiers for agriculture forestry mining and fishing Historical resource frontiers are understood in terms of commercial knowledge systems organized as projects to transform landscapes and environments The book asks how were environments traded and with what environmental and landscape consequences How have environments been engineered standardized and transformed within past trading systems What have been the successes and failures of economic knowledge in dealing with resource production in complex environments It considers cases from northern Europe North and South America Central Africa and New Zealand in the period between 1750 and 1990 and the contributors reflect on the effects of transnational commodity chains competing economic knowledge systems environmental ignorance and learning and resource exploitation In each case they identify tensions blind spots and environmental learning that plagued commercial projects on frontiers Making Commons Dynamic Prateep Kumar Nayak, 2021-03-01 With an emphasis on the challenges of sustaining the commons across local to global scales Making Commons Dynamic examines the empirical basis of theorising the concepts of commonisation and decommonisation as a way to understand commons as a process and offers analytical directions for policy and practice that can potentially help maintain commons as commons in the future Focusing on commonisation decommonisation as an analytical framework useful to examine and respond to changes in the commons the chapter contributions explore how natural resources are commonised and decommonised through the influence of multi level internal and external drivers and their implications for commons governance across disparate geographical and temporal contexts It draws from a large number of geographically diverse empirical cases 20 countries in North South and Central America and South and South East Asia They involve a wide range of commons related to fisheries forests grazing wetlands coastal marine rivers and dams aquaculture wildlife tourism groundwater surface freshwater mountains small islands social movements and climate The book is a transdisciplinary endeavour with contributions by scholars from geography history sociology anthropology political studies planning human ecology cultural and applied ecology environmental and development studies environmental science and technology public policy Indigenous tribal studies Latin American and Asian studies and environmental change and governance and authors representing the commons community NGOs and policy Contributors include academics community members NGOs practitioners and policymakers Therefore commonisation decommonisation lessons drawn from these chapters are well suited for contributing to the practice policy and theory of the commons both locally and globally

Histories of Technology, the Environment and Modern Britain Jon Agar, Jacob Ward, 2018-04-09 Histories of Technology the Environment and Modern Britain brings together historians with a wide range of interests to take a uniquely wide lens view of how technology and the environment have been intimately and irreversibly entangled in Britain over the last 300 years It combines for the first time two perspectives with much to say about Britain since the industrial revolution the history of technology and environmental history Technologies are modified environments just as nature is to varying extents engineered Furthermore technologies and our living and non living environment are both predominant material forms of organisation and self organisation that surround and make us Both have changed over time in intersecting ways Technologies discussed in the collection include bulldozers submarine cables automobiles flood barriers medical devices museum displays and biotechnologies Environments investigated include bogs cities farms places of natural beauty and pollution land and sea The book explores this diversity but also offers an integrated framework for understanding these intersections

Global Change in Marine Systems Patrice Guillotreau, Alida Bundy, R. Ian Perry, 2017-11-13 Global Change in Marine Systems analyses and appraises societal and governing responses to change affecting marine social and ecological systems around the world Acknowledging the stakes local societies that depend on marine systems for food livelihoods and wellbeing can suffer great hardship this book highlights and explains similarities and distinctions between successful and unsuccessful responses The book presents an analytical framework I ADaPT that enables decision makers to consider possible responses to global change based on experiences elsewhere Here an international group of researchers from the natural and social sciences apply the I ADaPT framework to twenty enlightening case studies covering a wide range of marine systems challenged by critical global change issues around the world The innovative research presented here guides marine system researchers policymakers decision makers and practitioners in responding to global change in a timely and appropriate manner It will appeal to students and researchers interested in environmental studies natural resources marine resources environmental sociology sustainability and climate change

Landscape of Migration Ben Nobbs-Thiessen, 2020-03-19 In the wake of a 1952 revolution leaders of Bolivia's National Revolutionary Movement MNR embarked on a program of internal colonization known as the March to the East In an impoverished country dependent on highland mining the MNR sought to convert the nation's vast undeveloped Amazonian frontier into farmland hoping to achieve food security territorial integrity and demographic balance To do so they encouraged hundreds of thousands of Indigenous Bolivians to relocate from the overcrowded Andes to the tropical lowlands but also welcomed surprising transnational migrant streams including horse and buggy Mennonites from Mexico and displaced Okinawans from across the Pacific Ben Nobbs Thiessen details the multifaceted results of these migrations on the environment of the South American interior As he reveals one of the migrants with the greatest impact was the soybean which Bolivia embraced as a profitable cash crop while eschewing earlier goals of food security creating a new model for extractive export agriculture Half a century of colonization would transform the small regional capital of Santa Cruz de la Sierra into Bolivia's largest city and the diverging stories of Andean Mennonite and Okinawan migrants complicate our understandings of tradition modernity

Transdisciplinary Research and Sustainability Martina Padmanabhan, 2017-10-12 Transdisciplinarity is a new way of scientifically meeting the challenges of sustainability Indeed interdisciplinary collaboration and co operation with non academic practice partners is at the core of this creating contextualised socially relevant knowledge about complex real world problems Transdisciplinary Research and Sustainability breaks new ground by presenting transdisciplinary research in practice drawing on recent advances by the vibrant transdisciplinary research communities in the German speaking world It describes methodological innovations developed to address wide ranging contemporary issues including climate change adaptation energy policy sustainable agriculture and soil conservation Furthermore the authors reflect on the challenges involved in integrating non academic actors in scientific research on the tensions that arise in the encounter of theory and praxis and on the inherently normative political nature of sustainability research Highlighting the need for academic institutions to be transformed to reflect transdisciplinarity this timely volume will appeal to postgraduate students and postdoctoral researchers interested in fields such as Sustainability Science Transdisciplinary Studies and Philosophy of Science

Rio de Janeiro in the Global Meat Market, c. 1850 to c. 1930 Maria-Aparecida Lopes, 2021-07-19 This book examines the meat provision system of Rio de Janeiro from the 1850s to the 1930s Until the 1920s Rio was Brazil s economic hub main industrial city and prime consumer market Meat consumption was an indicator of living standards and a matter of public concern The work unveils that in the second half of the nineteenth century the city was well supplied with red meat Initially dwellers relied mostly on salted meat then in the latter decades of the 1800s two sets of changes upgraded fresh meat deliveries First ranching expansion and transportation innovation in southeast and central west Brazil guaranteed a continuous flow of cattle to Rio Second the municipal centralization of meat processing and distribution made its provision regular and predictable By the early twentieth century fresh meat replaced salted meat in the urban marketplace This study examines these developments in light of national and global developments in the livestock and meat industries

A Living Past John Soluri, Claudia Leal, José Augusto Pádua, 2018-02-19 Though still a relatively young field the study of Latin American environmental history is blossoming as the contributions to this definitive volume demonstrate Bringing together thirteen leading experts on the region A Living Past synthesizes a wide range of scholarship to offer new perspectives on environmental change in Latin America and the Spanish Caribbean since the nineteenth century Each chapter provides insightful up to date syntheses of current scholarship on critical countries and ecosystems including Brazil Mexico the Caribbean the tropical Andes and tropical forests and such cross cutting themes as agriculture conservation mining ranching science and urbanization Together these studies provide valuable historical contexts for making sense of contemporary environmental challenges facing the region

Wetland Cultures Rod Giblett, 2024-06-21 Traditional cultures have a long and vital association with wetlands as sacred places imbued with spiritual and ceremonial significance that provide physical sustenance and sources of materials in paludiculture Ancient Greek and Roman cultures denigrated wetlands as places of disease terror horror the hellish and the monstrous Judeo Christian theology was syncretized with them into the mainstream denigration of wetlands Wetlands are a marginalized community an oppressed minority and non binary queer bodies of water Cattle in the Backlands Robert W. Wilcox, 2017-01-24 Brazil has the second largest cattle herd in the world and is a major exporter of beef While ranching in the Amazon and its destructive environmental consequences receives attention from both the media and scholars the states of Mato Grosso and Mato Grosso do Sul actually host the most cattle A significant beef producer in Brazil beginning in the late nineteenth century the region served as a laboratory for raising cattle in the tropics where temperate zone ranching practices do not work Mato Grosso ranchers and cowboys transformed ranching's relationship with the environment including the introduction of an exotic cattle breed the Zebu that now dominates Latin American tropical ranching Cattle in the Backlands presents a comprehensive history of ranching in Mato Grosso Using extensive primary sources Robert W Wilcox explores three key aspects the economic transformation of a remote frontier region through modern technical inputs the resulting social changes especially in labor structures and land tenure and environmental factors including the long term impact of ranching on ecosystems which he contends was not as detrimental as might be assumed Wilcox demonstrates that ranching practices in Mato Grosso set the parameters for tropical beef production in Brazil and throughout Latin America As the region was incorporated into national and international economic structures its ranching industry experienced the entry of foreign investment the introduction of capitalized processing facilities and nascent discussions of ecological impacts developments that later affected many sectors of the Brazilian economy Purity and Danger Now Robbie Duschinsky, Simone Schnall, Daniel Weiss, 2017-01-12 Mary Douglas's seminal work Purity and Danger Routledge 1966 continues to be indispensable reading for both students and scholars today Marking the 50th anniversary of Douglas's classic the present volume sheds fresh light upon themes raised by Douglas by drawing on recent developments in the social sciences and humanities as well as current empirical research In presenting new perspectives on the topic of purity and impurity the volume integrates work in anthropology and sociology with contemporary ideas from religious studies cognitive science and the arts Containing contributions from both established and emerging scholars including prototypes of Douglas herself Purity and Danger Now is an essential volume for those working on purity and impurity across the full spectrum of the social sciences and humanities Rural Transformations and Rural Policies in the US and UK Mark Shucksmith, David L. Brown, Sally Shortall, Jo Vergunst, Mildred E. Warner, 2012-02-27 This book examines the transformations of rural society and economy in the UK and US during the last half century and explores the significance of these trends and changes for community sustainability quality of life and the environment While both the UK and US are highly urbanised rural people and communities continue to contribute to national identity economic development and social solidarity as well as to environmental quality Contributors explore the degree to which rural people exhibit agency and autonomy rather than being merely passive in the face of exogenous forces of change in a globalised world They also illuminate very different policy approaches to rural policy in two advanced capitalist societies often thought to be similar and show how fundamental differences in rural policy approaches of the US and the UK are based on different social ideologies and values that shape policies relating to rural areas This book will help to stimulate transatlantic dialogue on rural scholarship and rural policy analysis while also contributing to theory and policy development It will be of interest to researchers students and everyone involved in the policy and practice of rural development Federal Register ,2014

Towards an Emissions Trading System in Mexico: Rationale, Design and Connections with the Global Climate

Agenda Simone Lucatello,2021-12-16 This Open Access book provides detailed information about the incoming Mexican Emissions Trading System including an analysis on why the system was implemented how the system was designed how it operates how it could work and how it could be strengthened by 2023 when it will be formally launched This document is aimed at those who want to understand how an ETS can operate in an emerging economy Although it has been written for experts and non experts this book does not provide the underlying theory of market based instruments and emissions trading systems in general The book can be read from start to finish but can also be used as a reference for specific components of regional ETSs The book draws upon a meticulous study of background documents and fieldwork from different authors to tell the story of how a Mexican ETS the first of its kind in Latin America can be set in the country The emissions trading system cover many greenhouse gas emissions and has been hailed as one of the cornerstones of the Mexican climate policy The book also examines and explains how the ETS is designed and implemented Transformations and Changing Perspectives in Higher Education Kennedy Thomas,Joseph Chennattuserry,Joseph Kureethara,2025-03-24 This book reveals the intricacies of the Indian education system especially those that surged in the past decade It covers several perspectives of global higher education wherein the dynamic trends and frameworks are explicated for a better understanding of the curriculum design and delivery of higher education in India It facilitates students learning and experiences wherein the post pandemic insights for learning from remote locations could be gleaned This volume looks at the complexities in the functioning of educational institutions and suggests novel approaches and interventions that are crucial for the educational framework of India It attempts to draw theoretical implications of the educational system and uses empirical evidence for recommending actionable processes As a multidisciplinary work covering international policies and global perspectives on higher education this book would be useful to students teachers of education political science public administration international relations economics psychology cognitive science life skills education counselling sociology gender studies social work performing arts and disaster management It will also be an indispensable resource for researchers academicians professionals government and policy makers of the country and the world at large The Waning of Major War Raimo Vayrynen,2013-10-31 This book is a systematic effort by leading international scholars to map the trends in major power warfare and explore whether it is waxing or waning The main point of departure is that major power war as a historical institution is in decline This does not mean though that wars between states are in general disappearing While there is some convergence in the conclusions by individual authors they are by no means unanimous about the trend The articles explore different causes and correlates of the declining trend in major power warfare including the impact of the international structure nuclear weapons international law multilateral institutions sovereignty and value changes Climate and Society Robin Leichenko, Karen

O'Brien, 2019-06-13 This bold and important new book presents current and emerging thinking on the social dimensions of climate change Using clear language and powerful examples it introduces key concepts and frameworks for understanding the multifaceted connections between climate and society Robin Leichenko and Karen O'Brien frame climate change as a social issue that calls for integrative approaches to research policy and action They explore dominant and relevant discourses on the social drivers and impacts of climate change highlighting the important roles that worldviews and beliefs play in shaping responses to climate challenges Situating climate change within the context of a rapidly changing world the book demonstrates how dynamic political economic and environmental contexts amplify risks yet also present opportunities for transformative responses Aimed at undergraduate students and others concerned with a critical challenge of our time this informative and engaging book empowers readers with a range of possibilities for equitable and sustainable transformations in a changing climate Omics for Environmental Engineering and Microbiology Systems Vineet Kumar, Vinod Kumar
