Training The Gunfighter Revised And Updated Edition:

Training the Gunfighter T.J. Mullin, 2010-04-01 When it was originally published in 1981 Training the Gunfighter was ahead of its time. It was one of the first comprehensive studies of the best ways to equip law officers to perform their duties from choosing the best guns for the job to creating a realistic training program to understanding the legal implications of using their weapons. Now former law enforcement officer, practicing attorney, and current police trainer Tim Mullin brings Training the Gunfighter up to date, combining the time honored information from the original book with fresh insights on preparing officers and law abiding citizens to use deadly force against today's violent criminals. Mullin thoroughly discusses selection and use of combat firearms and ammunition for patrol men, plainclothes investigators, off duty officers, undercover cops, and legally armed citizens. He studies handguns, shotguns, rifles, and special purpose weapons from a tactical and historical perspective and comes to some surprising conclusions about semiautomatics vs. revolvers, the utility of the venerable .38 S&W, the practical value of the 20 gauge shotgun, cost effective training methods, adequate practice ranges, and dozens of other relevant topics.

Handgun Bullet Stopping Power George B. Bredsten, 2008 For the law enforcement officer and the civilian who may be in a situation that requires the use of a handgun to stop a lethal threat, action, it is important that the person differentiates between the crass, glib, and self-serving advertisements of ammunition vendors and the reality of how, what, and why effective stopping power occurs. Factors to consider are the physiological response, the psychological response, the time frame parameter, and bullet efficacy. Of these four factors, only bullet efficacy can be somewhat controlled by the person, this only by understanding how and to what extent the bullet contributes to the degree of stopping power obtained. A number of concepts/formulae have been included so as to permit the reader to consider their merits and whether or not they are consistent with the reality of biology, physics, and other relevant sciences. Finally, the material in this book is intended to permit those persons to instruct, teach, or make decisions regarding the selection of a service handgun/cartridge combination that will help to provide the means to prevail in a lethal threat confrontation. About the Author: Mr. Bredsten retired from the Federal Law Enforcement Training Center, Firearms Division, FLETC, FAD. With FLETC, FAD, he performed duties as a firearms instructor and he also taught ballistics to the FLETC, FAD staff and to students in the Law Enforcement Rifle Training Program and in the Precision Rifle Sniper and Observer Program. Subjects covered included the ballistic coefficient, barrel time, the coefficient of reduction, the Greenhill formula, rate of rifling, twist, firearm recoil, bullet time of flight, bullet drop, bullet midrange, wind deflection, bullet penetration potential, and bullet terminal wounding efficacy. Since retiring, he has provided ballistics consultation service for the FLETC, FAD, the Transportation Security Agency, the Orange County, Florida Sheriff's Department, and Exxon Mobil Corporation. Mr. Bredsten attended and completed various classes/courses relating to firearms, e.g., HK MP5, Steyr, Aug, Uzi, Tactical Speed Shooting, and advanced shotgun and ballistics, e.g., the first and second International Wound Ballistics Conferences, a Federal Law Enforcement

Congress. House. Committee on Armed Services. Readiness Subcommittee, 2009 New Wests and Post-Wests Paul S. Varner, 2013-10-03 The writers of these chapters are often working with changing assumptions about literary and media interpretations of an American West Here we see critical approaches to a West that never was a West of myth so enduring that the myth dominates nearly all artistic representation about this place that never was In this collection we see critical approaches to a New West a West that is a state of mind not a geographical place but a mythic space with no boundaries and no political inevitabilities These New Western studies accept the idea of a West that includes Canada Mexico Alaska and in the case of the US every geographic and historical point west of the historic founding settlements The West we study today is a post West an idea of the West past the traditional views of an old West dominated by white US nationalism and gendered as uncompromisingly masculine The idea itself of a single West no longer holds validity We now understand that all renderings of the West are renderings of multiple Wests Wests constructed by American nationalists Wests constructed by EuroAmerican writers and filmmakers Wests constructed by native peoples or Wests constructed outside the geographical boundaries of the US This collection presents an eclectic array of new scholarship ranging freely over the New Wests and Post Wests dealing with issues such as the literature of a 1950s California West eco crime genre fiction the West of Edward Dorn and the Beat Movement images of prostitution in California Gold Rush literature European perspectives on film representations of the first peoples the six shooter and the American West German Westerns and Italian Westerns The Authentic Death of Hendry Jones by Charles Neider and films such as The Treasure of Sierra Madre Into the Wild There Will Be Blood and The Last Picture Show A unique aspect of this collection is the range of writers interpreting the American West in film and literature besides those writing from within the United States five of the writers provide international perspectives from the United Kingdom and the Universities of Tunis Vienna and Rome Each chapter includes a review of scholarship on its subject and an extended bibliography for further research

Blake Brown, 2012-10-23 From the Cole Polytechnique shootings of 1989 to the political controversy surrounding the elimination of the federal long gun registry the issue of gun control has been a subject of fierce debate in Canada But in fact firearm regulation has been a sharply contested issue in the country since Confederation Arming and Disarming offers the first comprehensive history of gun control in Canada from the colonial period to the present In this sweeping immersive book R Blake Brown outlines efforts to regulate the use of guns by young people punish the misuse of arms impose licensing regimes and create firearm registries Brown also challenges many popular assumptions about Canadian history suggesting that gun ownership was far from universal during much of the colonial period and that many nineteenth century lawyers including John A Macdonald believed in a limited right to bear arms Arming and Disarming provides a careful exploration of how social economic cultural legal and constitutional concerns shaped gun legislation and its implementation as well as how these factors defined Canada's historical and contemporary gun culture Nature's Army Harvey Meyerson, 2020-04-15 Blessings on Uncle Sam's soldiers They have done their job well and every pine tree is waving its arms for joy John Muir Muir's words and this book both celebrate a crucial but largely forgotten episode in our nation's history how a generation prior to the creation of a National Park Service the US Army ran Yosemite National Park in an unusual alliance with the fabled preservationist John Muir and his Sierra Club Harvey Meyerson brings that largely forgotten episode in our nation's history to life and uses it as a touchstone for a reconsideration of a century of civilian military cooperation in environmental protection and infrastructure construction whose impact and relevance still resonate Despite the worldwide renown and popularity of Yosemite National Park few people know that its first stewards were drawn from the so called Old Army From 1890 until the establishment of the National Park Service in 1916 these soldiers proved to be extremely competent and farsighted wilderness managers Meyerson recaptures the forgotten history of these early environmentalists and how they set significant standards for the future oversight of our national parks The army Meyerson suggests had actually been well prepared to assume this stewardship During its first hundred years and despite the interruptions of warfare its soldiers had crisscrossed the American landscape preparing maps and writing detailed reports describing climate weather physical terrain ecosystems and the diverse flora and fauna populating the lands they explored and often protected during an era of wide open exploitation of natural resources Such experience made the army better suited than any other federal agency to oversee the early national parks system Combining environmental military political and cultural history Meyerson's study is especially timely in light of Yosemite's enormous popularity four million visitors annually and recent controversies pitting conservation forces against dam builders and proponents of expanded public access Special Warfare ,2014 Black Belt ,1983-03 The oldest and most respected martial arts title in the industry this popular monthly magazine addresses the needs of martial artists of all levels by providing them with information about every style of self defense in the world including techniques and strategies In addition Black Belt produces and markets over 75 martial arts oriented books and videos including many about the works of Bruce Lee the best known martial arts figure in the world Mountain Home Air Force Base (AFB), Enhanced Training Project, Training for the 366th Wing ,1998 Co-conspirator for Justice Susan M. Reverby, 2020-04-16 Alan Berkman 1945 2009 was no campus radical in the mid 1960s he was a promising Ivy League student football player Eagle Scout and fraternity president But when he was a medical student and doctor his politics began to change and soon he was providing covert care to members of revolutionary groups like the Weather Underground and becoming increasingly radicalized by his experiences at the Wounded Knee takeover at the Attica Prison uprising and at health clinics for the poor. When the government went after him, he went underground and participated in bombings of government buildings. He was eventually captured and served eight years in some of America's worst penitentiaries, barely surviving two rounds of cancer. After his release in 1992, he returned to medical practice and became an HIV/AIDS physician, teacher, and global health activist. In the final years of his life, he successfully worked to change U.S. policy, making AIDS treatment more widely available in the global south and saving millions of lives around the world. Using Berkman's unfinished prison memoir, FBI records, letters, and hundreds of interviews, Susan M. Reverby sheds fascinating light on questions of political violence and revolutionary zeal in her account of Berkman's extraordinary transformation from doctor to co-conspirator for justice.
