Training The Translator Benjamins Translation Library:

Training the Translator Paul Kussmaul, 1995-03-16 This book begins by investigating through the use of think aloud protocols the mental processes of students when they translate The creative and successful processes observed can be used directly for teaching purposes while the unsuccessful ones can serve to find out where remedial training is needed The book then goes on to discuss methods for improving a translator's competence The strategies offered are based on the pragmatic and semantic analysis of texts from a functional point of view and they include such practical matters as the use of dictionaries and the evaluation of translations and error analysis The book is intended for teachers in translator training institutions but it can also be used by students for self training

Basic Concepts and Models for Interpreter and Translator Training Daniel Gile, 2009 Printbegr nsninger Der kan printes 10 sider ad gangen og max 40 sider pr session

Corpus Use and Translating Allison Beeby, Patricia Rodríguez Inés, Pilar Sánchez-Gijón, 2009 Professional translators are increasingly dependent on electronic resources and trainee translators need to develop skills that allow them to make the best use of these resources The aim of this book is to show how CULT Corpus Use for Learning to Translate methodologies can be used to prepare learning materials and how novice translators can become autonomous users of corpora Readers interested in translation studies translator training and corpus linguistics will find the book particularly useful Not only does it include practical technical advice for using and learning to use corpora but it also addresses important issues such as the balance between training and education and how CULT methodologies reinforce student autonomy and responsibility Not only is this a good introduction to CULT but it also incorporates the latest developments in this field showing the advantages of using these methodologies in competence based learning

Training for the New Millennium Martha Tennent, 2005-02-28 Originating at an international forum held at the University of Vic Spain the twelve essays collected here attest to important changes in translation practice and the assumptions which underpin them Leading theorists respond to the state of Translation Studies today particularly the epistemological dilemma between theories that are empirically oriented and those that are inspired by developments in Cultural Studies But the volume is also practical Experienced instructors survey existing pedagogies at translator interpreter training programs and explore new techniques that address the technological and global challenges of the new millennium Among the topics considered are how to use translation technology in the classroom how to construct a syllabus for a course in audiovisual translating or in translation theory and how to develop guidelines for a program for community interpreters or conference interpreters The contributors all assume that translation whether written or oral does not occupy a neutral space It is a cross cultural exchange that produces far reaching social effects Their essays significantly advance the theoretical and practical understanding of translation along these lines
