Goodwin's Annual Official Turf Guide Adopted and Used by All Jockey Clubs and Racing Associations in the United States and Canada, 1898 Second Chances Robert Stirling, 2015-06-20 Rebecca Abbott is a caregiver at a retirement village who is still haunted by the trauma of her past one that has left her unwilling to trust men and hesitant to engage with the world Living in a small cottage in Nova Scotia she struggles to be happy But now her world is about to change A chance encounter brings Rebecca into contact with David Webster a man she knew in college Now a widower David is living with his parents and his twin daughters on the family farm David and Rebecca meet again at the retirement village where Davids grandmother is one of Rebeccas patients Although they are drawn to one another Davids grief and Rebeccas reticence with men prevents them from acting on their attraction But faith and fate may work to bring them together in spite of their pain Meanwhile a runaway teenage boy named Jeremy searches for a way to survive and finds refuge in an unexpected place on the Websters family farm an event the local embittered gossip must investigate no matter the consequences Set in the villages of Nova Scotia this novel tells the story of four wounded souls who are thrown together as they deal with fear and bitterness in an attempt to find love Read with Pride Lucy Powrie, 2020-05-28 The second Paper Hearts Society adventure Join Olivia and The Paper Hearts Society gang in this joyful comfort read and celebration of books from Booktuber Lucy Powrie The perfect book for fans of Alice Oseman Holly Smale and Zoella Olivia Santos is excited for her last year at secondary school But when a parent complains about LGBTQ content in one of the books the library implements a new policy for withdrawing books Olivia is distraught she is demisexual and knows how important it is for all readers to see themselves represented Luckily she is the mastermind behind The Paper Hearts Society book club and she knows exactly what to do start a new club find ways of evading the system and change the policy for good With two book clubs to run exams to prepare for and a girlfriend just how long will it be before Olivia burns out After all creating a book club and trying to get the ReadWithPride hashtag to get noticed is going to take a lot of energy Sometimes when you are in too deep it is up to your friends to look out for you Single Season Sitcoms, 1948-1979 Bob Leszczak, 2012-11-16 This book finally casts a spotlight on some short lived and almost forgotten sitcoms those which aired for only one single season Many books have already been written about situation comedies that enjoyed long and storied runs on television but this volume focuses upon the others Overflowing with fresh facts interviews photographs and stories nearly 300 short lived sitcoms over a 32 year span are presented A to Z whether network or syndicated prime time or Saturday morning The London Stage 1950-1959 J. P. Wearing, 2014-09-16 Theatre in London has celebrated a rich and influential history and in 1976 the first volume of J P Wearing's reference series provided researchers with an indispensable resource of these productions. In the decades since the original calendars were produced, several research aids have become available, notably various reference works and the digitization of important newspapers and relevant periodicals. The second edition of The London Stage 1950-1959: A Calendar of Productions, Performers, and Personnel provides a chronological calendar of London shows from the first of January 1950 through the 31st of December 1959. The volume chronicles more than 3,100 productions at 52 major central London theatres during this period. For each production, the following information is provided: Title, Author, Theatre, Performers, Personnel, Opening and Closing Dates, Number of Performances. Other details include genre of the production, number of acts, and a list of reviews. A comment section includes other interesting information such as plot description, first night reception by the audience, noteworthy performances, staging elements, and details of performances in New York either prior to or after the London production. Among the plays staged in London during this decade were Look Back in Anger, One Way Pendulum, The Birthday Party, A Taste of Honey, Chicken Soup with Barley, Five Finger Exercise, The Hostage, and Waiting for Godot, as well as numerous musical comedies, British and American foreign works, operas, ballets, and revivals of English classics. A definitive resource, this edition revises, corrects, and expands the original calendar. In addition, approximately 20 percent of the material in particular information of adaptations and translations, plot sources, and comment information is new. Arranged chronologically, the shows are fully indexed by title, genre, and theatre. A general index includes numerous subject entries on such topics as acting, audiences, censorship, costumes, managers, performers, prompters, staging, and ticket prices. The London Stage 1950-1959 will be of value to scholars, theatrical personnel, librarians, writers, journalists, and historians.

How to Make Music in an Epidemic Matthew Jones, 2024-06-07 This volume examines responses to the epidemic of HIV/AIDS in Anglophone popular musicians and music video during the AIDS crisis, 1981-1996. Through close reading of song lyrics, musical texts, and music videos, this book demonstrates how music played an integral part in the artistic activist response to the AIDS epidemic, demonstrating music as a way to raise money for HIV/AIDS services, to articulate affective responses to the epidemic, to disseminate public health messages, to talk back to power, and to bear witness to the losses of AIDS. Drawing methodologies from musicology, queer theory, critical race studies, public health, and critical theory, the book will be of interest to a wide readership, including artists, activists, musicians, historians, and other scholars across the humanities, as well as to people who lived through the AIDS crisis.

Image - Action - Space Luisa Feiersinger, Kathrin Friedrich, Moritz Queisner, 2018-10-08 Screen-based media such as touch screens, navigation systems, and virtual reality applications merge images and operations. They turn viewing first and foremost into using and reflect the turn towards an active role of the image in guiding a user's action and perception. From professional environments to everyday life, multiple configurations of screens organise working routines, structure interaction, and situate users in space, both within and beyond the boundaries of the screen This volume examines the linking of screen space and operation in fields such as remote navigation architecture medicine interface design and film production asking how the interaction with and through screens structures their users action and perception

Black La Crosse, Wisconsin, 1850-1906 Bruce L. Mouser, 2002 Between 1850 and 1906 La Crosse Wisconsin was typical of Mississippi River towns that received waves of Black settlers who followed the promise of an expanding frontier and available paths to that frontier This work on Black La Crosse provides biographical sketches of recorded heads of household and families that lived in La Crosse during this half century and presents data in comparative forms respecting residence occupation and personal information for all known persons of African decent who lived in La Crosse before 1906 and a narrative analysis of that data The author also includes reproductions of three articles respecting La Crosse s Black experience written for and published by the La Crosse County Historical Society in its magazine Past Present Future
