Nobel Prize in Literature: a case for India Professor AK Ghosh, 2024-09-05 Indian sub continental writers of English fiction have always been confronted with onerous choices Inheritors of literary tradition riddled with regional and linguistic finitude the mere choice of a proper name hopelessly parochialize their stories Many critics wonder why such writers did not write in their regional languages the answer to which is that that would invite self exile from the common market of world literature Translations even the best of them remain surrogate It is therefore all the more satisfying that during the recent decades writers born on the subcontinent like Salman Rushdie Hanif Kureishi Vikram Seth Amitav Ghosh and others have leaped into mainstream English fiction and elicited critical acclaim Indian writers in English despite being largely confined to a small typical Indian backwater perhaps because of it have attracted a good deal of attention here and abroad They have brought to Indian literature a style and feel a conviction and maturity all its own We have started feeling like heading for a modern reconstituted Indian sensibility But after a long gap of Rabindranath Tagore's success we may ask ourselves as to why Indians cannot write great literature Perhaps Matthew Arnold's phrase lack of epochal significance applies to the literary works emerging from our soil Can we claim honestly that we have produced a single author who could match the great masters of Western literature A Flaubert A Faulkner Joyce A Tolstoy

Adult Learning in a Migration Society Chad Hoggan, Tetyana Hoggan-Kloubert, 2021-12-29 Migration is an old perhaps perpetual phenomenon Currently it is an urgent challenge involving huge numbers of people who leave their home in search of a better life Differences in language customs and norms are often joined by specific manifestations of xenophobia born of particular differences between host countries and their current influx of migrants In a pronounced way then migration reveals important societal questions of solidarity of identity of transition and transformation of human rights and obligations The explorations in this collection highlight individual stories of migrants showcase innovative research methods and explore concepts and theories that might be usefully applied toward learning needs in a migration society Including insights from scholars across 14 different countries this book offers an international perspective on the role of adult education in addressing migration Such international comparisons hold great potential for seeing new possibilities in any single country whether in Europe North America or across the world

The Influence of the 9/11 novel on Muslim Writing Matthias Dickert,2017-10-11 Scientific Essay from the year 2017 in the subject Didactics for the subject English Literature Works Johannes Gutenberg University Mainz language English abstract Since 9 11 many Muslims struggle with their identity and are exposed to xenophobia violence vicious defamation harassment or displacement In short the notion Muslim in relation to that day has become a stigma It is against this background and the post traumatic aftermath of September 11 2001 where many novelists disposing of a Muslim background wrote their novels The logical consequence from this was that Muslim writing as such has become more complex stressing the standpoints of hearer and teller as elements of distortion Interesting though is the fact that some novels dealing with Islam and Muslim characters have taken up and used the Oriental stereotypes where Muslims are according to Said seen as either oil suppliers or potential terrorists For a long time Muslim characters in literature have been connected to this negative image which Said also labels as other and Spivak as subaltern The hybrid in which many Muslim characters are often set is also still equated with the exotic thus ignoring the energy of Bhabha s term and its positive realizations in fiction It is therefore one aim of this essay to throw light on this matter and to shortly reflect the present influence of 9 11 on Muslim writing

Global Migrancy and Diasporic Memory in the work of Salman Rushdie Stephen J. Bell, 2020-10-14 Global Migrancy and Diasporic Memory in the Work of Salman Rushdie examines Salman Rushdie's major works for the ways that they consistently affirm the power of memory to construct a concrete rooted identity for characters and nation states despite the prerogative of migrants to translate themselves into new creations through a dismissal of the weight of the past Stephen J Bell conducts an in depth comprehensive postcolonial and postmodern analysis of Rushdie's ideas as expressed through the author's work If exile is a dream of glorious return as one of his characters reflects in The Satanic Verses few diasporic writers living today rival Rushdie for the singular inspiration he draws from memories of home and the past So vital is the idea of home and belonging to Rushdie that notwithstanding the frequent charges of his critics that he represents no more than a disconnected cosmopolitan Bell would categorize Rushdie's position as one of centripetal migrancy with centrum center and petere to seek forming the idea of a constant quest for the center Rushdie thus qualifies as the quintessential centripetal migrant whose slippery critical location is balanced Janus faced between the future and the past Salman Rushdie and the Genesis of Secrecy Vijay Mishra, 2019-05-16 Salman Rushdie and the Genesis of Secrecy is the first book to draw extensively from material in the Salman Rushdie archive at Emory University to uncover the makings of the British Indian writer's modernist poetics Simultaneously connecting Rushdie with radical non Western humanism and an essentially English European sensibility and therefore questions about world literature this book argues that a true understanding of the writer lies in uncovering his genesis of secrecy through a close reading of his archive Topics and materials explored include unpublished novels plays and screenplays the earlier versions and drafts of Midnight's Children and its adaptations understanding Islam and The Satanic Verses the influence of cinema and Rushdie's turn to earlier archives as the secret codes of modernism Through careful examination of Rushdie's archive Vijay Mishra demonstrates how Rushdie combines a radically new form of English with a familiarity with the generic registers of Indian Arabic and Persian literary forms Together these present a contradictory orientalism that defines Rushdie's own humanism within the parameters of world literature Salman Rushdie and Postcolonial Authorship Trajanka Kortova Jovanovska, 2023-12-07 The main focus of interest in this book are the figures of writers and writing subjects in Rushdie's oeuvre who contemplate and reflect on the nature and purpose of their craft their authorial identity and their positioning in society and intellectual history through their writing It discusses the aesthetics of the texts they produce and their subsequent agency in the world through the various ways they are interpreted and appropriated Authorship is a special category of storytelling a specific craft and vocation giving expression to a conscious and purposeful project The book focuses on what postcolonial literature specialist Dr Jane Poyner calls the ethics of intellectual practice as the major theme pervading Rushdie s entire corpus of writing fictional essayistic and autobiographical The key audience for the book is primarily students of postcolonial literature and of Salman Rushdie s work in particular It will also be of interest to readers wishing to get a deep insight into the works of one of the most prominent and most controversial contemporary writers

The Late-Career Novelist Hywel Dix, 2017-08-10 The first scholarly study of the phenomenon of the late career novel this book explores the ways in which bestselling contemporary novelists look back and respond to their earlier successes in their subsequent writings Exploring the work of major novelists such as Angela Carter V S Naipaul Salman Rushdie Ian McEwan Julian Barnes A S Byatt and Graham Swift The Late Career Novelist draws for the first time on social psychology and career construction theory to examine how the dynamics of a literary career play out in the fictional worlds of our best known novelists From here Hywel Dix develops and argues for a new mode of reading contemporary writing on the contexts of current literary culture
