Understanding People Why We Long For Relationship:

Understanding People Lawrence J. Crabb, Larry Crabb, 1987 An alternative model for biblical counseling grounded on the authority of Scripture is given in this book It provides a framework for understanding people and their problems which emerges from the biblical teaching that we bear the image of God and that we are fallen Understanding People

Lawrence J. Crabb, 2013 Doing Therapy with Intercultural Couples Sunita Noronha, 2022-04-28 Marital concord between couples from different racial and ethnic backgrounds is an issue that needs serious attention to bridge the vast chasms America welcomes people from all over the world People of all religions and ethnic backgrounds come here to study and migrants arrive here to work Interracial marriages are common but the radically different background of each couple can create discords and prove to be bumps on the highway of conjugal life This can have serious repercussions on the offspring and on the couple and their lives as well This book seeks to investigate how cultural realities can be addressed within intercultural premarital couples counseling Using a cultural focus approach couples stories around their particular culture and relationship were analyzed Themes related to relationship family and social ties and parenting bi cultural and bi racial children were examined Issues of religious and social influence money race ethnicity extended family immigration and biases in family of origin are explored as are roles and responsibilities communication respect trust and gender stereotyping The book adopts a pastoral theological approach in working towards a deeper understanding of premarital relationships of partners who represent cultural difference and diversity In conclusion recommendations to therapists and care givers for counseling intercultural couples are made Brief Narrative Practice in Single-Session Therapy Scot J. Cooper, 2024-03-21

Brief Narrative Practice in Single Session Therapy emphasizes collaboration meaning making and relational ethics in single session conversations Chapters provide a thorough orientation to the therapy and address the diverse circumstances clinicians face in these conversations Separating from many long held traditions in therapy this book explores a guiding framework and the accompanying micro skills that therapeutic conversations demand In these pages readers will learn how to recalibrate their listening habits and talk differently about problems in ways that help them quickly hear and generate possibilities All those who provide psychotherapy counselling and coaching in time constrained contexts will find this book useful and engaging including those working in crisis and call in settings walk in clinics medical centres and live in contexts where change conversations are brief Post-Punk Perception Edmund Wong, 2013-07

Growing up in Singapore in the 80s has been challenging I didn't know much about life or economy I didn't know what I want to do apart from playing I know I had to study and get a job In school we had to write composition about our profession when we grow up I had never wanted to be a philosopher let alone writing about social philosophy It is just that growing up with a single parent is tough It is tougher when she is uneducated and I had to learn most things by myself After my National Service I decided to further studies That was when I was exposed to philosophy and psychology in the UK After graduation in 1999 with a degree in

Electronics I came back home to resume my National Service I disrupt it and had about 2 months left The life in UK exposed me to something that I did not notice when growing up in Singapore I find local social scene unsatisfactory They are Confucians Muslims Christians freethinkers and humanists Most time they are preoccupied with how to earn more money Religion does not give me the fulfillment that it promised In addition most were based on Singaporeans interpretation of the Bible and Buddhism s dharma Most times I feel that everything that Singaporeans do has got to do with wealth creation or at least with the expenditure of it It end up like what Pope Francis referred to as the cult of money Organised religion involves more fear mongering than cultivating an inner grace and peace Hence this book is about how I relate an ancient thinker s ethics Aristotle to the present day I find Aristotle s ethics to most suit my needs as a man and lover It does not pretend to be more than what it seek the golden mean It does require us to think and explore the values to find balance and achieve wisdom with intellectual and moral virtues I also find other philosophers French or not particularly insightful and thought provoking They offer me explanation and exploration on subjects like love sex and death Freudian psychoanalysis are also very penetrating in their findings and insights Moreover I needed some contemporary psychological theory not in depth psychoanalysis to back Aristotle s model of ethics intellectual and moral virtues Hence the psychological background of my book I got acquainted with these psychological theories when I was preparing myself to be a financial consultant I later found out more about them and they became useful in my work and life Hence I would like to share it with people in Asia so that they can ask the right kind of questions in life in order to learn more about themselves and the social milieu they are living in Because everyone of us are affected by the social sciences politics economics and sociology This book will I hope allow us to understand why we are irrational and how we can make rational changes through reasonings in their life and achieving eudaimonia My wish is simply to share what I enjoy doing apart from creating useful ideas to improve the world Through my book I hope to make others understand religion science and philosophy and how they play an increasingly integral part in the Asian century

Protected Area Governance and Management Graeme L. Worboys, Michael Lockwood, Ashish Kothari, Sue Feary, Ian Pulsford, 2015-04-08 Protected Area Governance and Management presents a compendium of original text case studies and examples from across the world by drawing on the literature and on the knowledge and experience of those involved in protected areas The book synthesises current knowledge and cutting edge thinking from the diverse branches of practice and learning relevant to protected area governance and management It is intended as an investment in the skills and competencies of people and consequently the effective governance and management of protected areas for which they are responsible now and into the future The global success of the protected area concept lies in its shared vision to protect natural and cultural heritage for the long term and organisations such as International Union for the Conservation of Nature are a unifying force in this regard Nonetheless protected areas are a socio political phenomenon and the ways that nations understand govern and manage them is always open to contest and debate The book aims to enlighten educate and above all to challenge readers to think deeply about protected areas their future and their past as well as their present The book has been compiled by 169 authors and deals with all aspects of protected area governance and management It provides information to support capacity development training of protected area field officers managers in charge and executive level managers
