Life Together Stephen Barton, 2005-01-01 In these wide ranging studies Stephen Barton shows that Christian theology and the Christian scriptures have a vital contribution to make to contemporary wisdom about our common life The subjects he addresses are relevant to the concerns of many people today What he has to say about the family sexuality community and biblical interpretation is both informative and creative Running through the book is the issue of the appropriate use of the Bible how the sacred text may speak in ways which are life giving Stephen Barton claims that questions about the interpretation of the Bible have to be set in the larger context of what it means to be the church A central argument is that the Bible is the kind of text the truth of whose witness is discovered above all in the lives of individuals and communities seeking to share by grace in the life of the Trinity

Jesus Christ in History and Scripture Edgar V. McKnight, 1999 Jesus Christ in History and Scripture highlights two related bases for the current revolution in Jesus studies 1 a critically chastened world view that is satisfied with provisional results and 2 a creative or poetic use of the sources of study of Jesus The first part of the book shows that precritical critical and postcritical epochs and attitudes all alive today support different sorts of knowledge concerning Jesus historical reconstructions historic memory and appropriations imaginative poetic and artistic creations and theological formulations and that the Gospels themselves Support different sorts of knowledge and approaches The Gospels were composed by Christians who combined historical information and historic memory in imaginative ways to present a Jesus who was relevant to their congregations as he was to the earliest disciples The creative contribution that readers of the Gospels make in their reconstructions of Jesus is a recapitulation of the creative activities of the earliest evangelists The central section of the book provides a philosophical rationale for correlating the historical critical methods of biblical scholars and the rationalist methods of theologians and for correlating these modern Enlightenment modes of knowledge with feeling lived experience and praxis It also traces the attempts to do justice to the historical Jesus with particular attention to the different philosophical and theological presuppositions supporting the different attempts A final section discusses the values of non foundationist hermeneutical approaches for the broader questions of the use and authority of the Bible In the end ecumenical ratherthan divisive approaches are advocated Different ways of doing church and different ways of discovering and creating truth demand an ecumenical approach
