Uil Social Studies Study Guide 2014:

Learning as Development Daniel A. Wagner, 2017-10-04 Learning is the foundation of the human experience It begins at birth and never stops a continuous and malleable link across life stages of human development Disparities in learning access and outcomes around the world have deep consequences for income social mobility health and well being For international development practitioners faced with today s unprecedented environmental and geopolitical pressures learning should be viewed as a touchstone and target for those seeking to truly effect global change This book traces the path of international development work from its pre colonial origins to the emergence of economics as the dominant discipline in the field and lays out a new agenda for policymakers researchers and practitioners from early education through adulthood Learning as Development is an attempt to rethink international education in a changing world Theory and Practice in Adult

Literacy, Learning and Social Change Anna Robinson-Pant, Catherine Kell, 2025-08-21 Offering new theoretical empirical and methodological perspectives on adult literacy lifelong learning and social change this book challenges traditional debates on adult literacy and development The volume brings together debates and research from the Global South and Global North and is original in moving beyond descriptive accounts of adult literacy programmes classrooms and a focus on best practice It provides both a historical perspective on this field as well as looking forward to future research and pedagogical directions By broadening from an international development to a social change perspective this book offers an alternative starting point Unlike development social transformation does not set a specific agenda nor assume a certain endpoint The authors set out to investigate the why and how of the assumed connections between adult learning literacy and social change contributing a deeper understanding into the complex and often unpredictable processes involved As well as focusing on literacy learning in classrooms and educational programmes the book explores literacy practices and adult learning in everyday spaces including social movements religious poetry and community initiatives Case studies from different cultural contexts introduce alternative theoretical lenses like the concept of the enacted body to explore a woman s experience of learning and social change in Nepal or investigating how religious poetry shared between generations in Iran could be working against social change

Education for the Elderly in the Asia Pacific Pennee Narot, Narong Kiettikunwong, 2021-09-25 In many countries across the Asia Pacific region people are adapting to the new demographic shift but there is nonetheless much concern This book documents the various educational approaches rendered by both public and private sectors to enable elderly individuals in their own countries to re engage in society more inclusively to stay longer in the labour market and to become less dependent on the state or their families In order to produce active healthy and productive aging citizens the experiments showcased by this book highlight how adaptive action is needed across many policy areas with emphasis on shaping structural differences in the composition and organisation of higher education systems that can better foster lifelong learning among elderly citizens The book is a great venue to underline the interplay of the theory and practices of vastly complex challenges Global Perspectives on Learning Cities Séamus Ó Tuama, Eric Agbessi, Tina Neylon, 2025-09-01
