21st Century Maritime Silk Road: Wave Energy Resource Evaluation Chongwei Zheng, Jianjun Xu, Chao Zhan, Qing Wang, 2019-10-15 This book focuses on the evaluation of wave energy in the Maritime Silk Road. Firstly, it compares wave energy and other main energy sources and then discusses the various disadvantages. It also presents the current research and the difficulties of wave energy evaluation and systematically analyzes the climatic characteristics of the wave energy, including the temporal spatial distribution and climatic trend of a series of key factors, e.g., wave power density, availability, richness, stability, energy direction, energy storage. It then describes the design of a short-term forecasting scheme and a long-term projection scheme of wave energy suitable for the Maritime Silk Road to serve as a plan for the daily operation and long-term development of wave energy. Further, it highlights the wave energy analysis and decision making in the context of the remote islands and reefs, using Sri Lanka as a case study. Lastly, it presents the first wave energy resource dataset for the Maritime Silk Road. This book is one of a series of publications on the 21st-century Maritime Silk Road, shortened as Maritime Silk Road, that covers the characteristics of the marine environment and marine new energy, remote islands and reef construction, climate change, early warning of wave disasters, legal escort, marine environment and energy big data construction, contributing to the safe and efficient construction of the Maritime Silk Road. It aims to improve our knowledge of the ocean and so improve the capacity for marine construction, enhance the viability of remote islands and reefs, ease the energy crisis, and protect the ecological environment and improve the quality of life of residents along the Maritime Silk Road, as well as to protect the rights and interests of the countries and regions participating in the construction of the Maritime Silk Road. This book is a valuable reference resource for decision makers, researchers, and marine engineers working in the related fields.
