The World Of Neo Hittite Kingdoms A Political And Military History:

The World of The Neo-Hittite Kingdoms Trevor Bryce,2012-03-15 Bryce s volume gives an account of the military and political history of the Neo Hittite kingdoms moving beyond the Neo Hittites themselves to the broader Near Eastern world and the states which dominated it during the Iron Age

The World of The Neo-Hittite Kingdoms Trevor Bryce,2012-03-15 In the early 12th century the Late Bronze Age Hittite empire collapsed during a series of upheavals which swept the Greek and Near Eastern worlds In the subsequent Iron Age numerous cities and states emerged in south eastern Anatolia and northern Syria which are generally known today as the Neo Hittite kingdoms Bryce s volume gives an account of the military and political history of these kingdoms moving beyond the Neo Hittites themselves to the broader Near Eastern world and the states which dominated it during the Iron Age Divided into three sections The World of Neo Hittite Kingdoms looks at the last decades of the empire and the features of these kingdoms and their subsequent treatment under their Anatolian successors Through a closer look at the individual Neo Hittite kingdoms and their rulers and a comparison with the contemporary Aramaean states and the other kingdoms of the age notably the Neo Assyrian empire it concludes with a historical synthesis of the Neo Hittites when the last kingdom was absorbed into the Assyrian provincial administration

Carchemish in Context Edgar Peltenburg,T. J. Wilkinson,Eleanor Barbanes Wilkinson,2016-05-31 The city of Carchemish in the valley of the Euphrates river can be regarded as one of the iconic sites in the Middle East a mound complex known both for its own intrinsic qualities as the seat of later Hittite power and Neo Hittite kings but also because its history of excavations included well known historical figures such as Leonard Woolley and T E Lawrence However because of its location within the military zone of the Turkish Syrian border the site itself has been inaccessible to archaeologists for more than 90 years Carchemish in Context summarises the results of regional investigations conducted within the Land of Carchemish Project in Syria as well as other archaeological surveys in the region in order to provide a regional historical and archaeological context for the development of the city. A synthesis of the history of Carchemish is presented and a regional overview of the Land of Carchemish as it is defined by archaeological features and key historical references through to the early Iron Age. Insightful snapshots of the dynamics of an ancient state are revealed which can now be seen to have fluctuated dramatically in size throughout 700–800 years in part depending upon the power of the king of Carchemish or the aggressions of external powers. The results from the Project provide an overview of the main trends of settlement in the region over 8000 years using a combination of survey databases to both north and south of the Syrian Turkish border and with a focus on the earlier phases of settlement from the Neolithic until the end of the Bronze Age when Carchemish became an outpost of the Hittite empire. The Iron Age is a period blessed by numerous historical records some of which can be traced in the modern landscape. Further chapters explore site specific aspects of the regional archaeology including a series of important sites on the Sajur river some of which were positioned along the main campaign routes of the Assyrian kings. The close relationship between the nearby Early Bronze Age site of Tell Jerablus Tahtani and Carchemish are examined and the results from the 40 ha Carchemish Outer Town survey described providing important new data sources regarding the layout, defenses and dates of occupation of this significant part of the city. The Classical Roman, Byzantine and Early Islamic occupations are also discussed in relation to what is known of occupation in the surrounding region.

Aleppo Ross Burns, 2016-08-25 Aleppo is one of the longest surviving cities of the ancient and Islamic Middle East. Until recently it enjoyed a thriving urban life in particular an active traditional suq whose origins can be traced across many centuries. Its tangle of streets still follow the Hellenistic grid and above it looms the great Citadel which contains recently uncovered remains of a Bronze Age temple complex suggesting an even earlier role as a high place in the Canaanite tradition. In the Arab Middle Ages Aleppo was a strongpoint of the Islamic resistance to the Crusader presence. Its medieval Citadel is one of the most dramatic examples of a fortified enclosure in the Islamic tradition. In Mamluk and Ottoman times the city took on a thriving commercial role and provided a base for the first European commercial factories and consulates in the Levant. Its commercial life funded a remarkable building tradition with some hundreds of the 600 or so officially declared monuments dating from these eras and its diverse ethnic mixture with significant Kurdish, Turkish, Christian and Armenian communities provide a richer layering of influences on the city's life. In this volume Ross Burns explores the rich history of this important city from its earliest history through to the modern era providing a thorough treatment of this fascinating city history accessible both to scholarly readers as well as to the general public interested in a factual and comprehensive survey of the city's past.

Assyria and the West Pieter van der Veen, Ronald Wallenfels, 2025-07-10 This volume re-examines key chronological anchors of the Late Bronze and Iron Ages questioning the reliability of synchronisms between Egypt and Mesopotamia. Focusing on artistic, archaeological and historical data the contributors explore shifting timelines and tensions in Assyrian, Hittite and Levantine contexts. The
