The Zen Of Empirical Research Quantitative Methods In Communication:

The Zen of Empirical Research William D. Richards, 1998 The Zen of Empirical Research by Dr William D Richards is a friendly accessible introduction to quantitative research methods and statistics for students especially for those with an arts background or limited mathematical experience Developed through classroom use and student input this text is above all a student s text book Its unique first person conversational approach informal humor and every day examples make abstract concepts clear and statistics fun The emphasis is always on understanding the logic behind statistics rather than on math formulae or rote problem solving which ensures that students are able to apply the skills they ve learned to answer real research problems American Book Publishing Record Cumulative 1998 R R Bowker Publishing, 1999-03

Makers of the Media Mind Wm. David Sloan, 2014-07-10 Makers of the Media Mind is a collection of analytical essays focusing on the most important and original ideas contributed to the field of mass communication by journalism educators Divided into six sections representing the most prominent areas of specialization in the field this text serves two significant purposes first it acquaints readers with the lives of preeminent journalism educators second it provides concise discussions and evaluations of the most compelling ideas those educators have to offer The editor of and contributors to this text contend that ideas cannot be appreciated fully without an understanding of the creators of those same ideas They hope that this volume s coverage of creators as well as concepts will demonstrate that journalism education has played a critical role in the making of the media mind
