Dissertation from the year 2014 in the subject Business economics Business Management Corporate Governance grade A
Japan Advanced Institute of Science and Technology language English abstract Customers are increasingly becoming active participants and co creators of value in the mobile Internet era With this trend employees are encouraged to engage in active dialogue with customers effectively manage customer diversity and co create personalized experiences Such changes challenge the leadership The relevant literature reveals that the significance to leadership of shared vision has attracted attention and become widely acceptable However there is a large gap in the literature regarding how to model the building of shared vision in service business Our study represents a first attempt to shed light on how vision co creation between leaders and employees can affect the leadership in corporate transformation Based on comparisons of the leadership literature regarding product oriented and service oriented companies we hypothesised about vision co creation with employees Then we conducted an in depth case study in a leading software company in China and interviews in four multinational IT companies in Japan This study suggests that vision co creation with employees is imperative for leaders in today s service dominant business In the co creation process six relevant working states of employees are defined non engagement expectation satisfaction engagement loyalty and creativity As a firm creates a new vision or makes the existing corporate vision into a shared vision it goes through these phases We propose specific implications of the issues and focus on each phase to address the concerns This research makes a contribution by addressing concerns that many companies are over managed and under led Traditional management systems such as management rules PDCA performance appraisals and incentive systems are still indispensable but are not enough to lead employees to work in the high tier state The co creation process makes the new vision come alive so that it can be imagined experienced pursued and worked hard for In the final chapter we provide suggestions for future research The position centred one person leadership described in the previous literature leaves the substantial talents of employees largely untapped
