Fear and Primordial Trust Monika Renz, Mark Kyburz (translator), 2021-07-07 Fear and Primordial Trust explores fear as an existential phenomenon and how it can be overcome Illustrated by clinical examples from the author's practice as a psychotherapist and spiritual caregiver working with the severely ill and dying the book outlines theoretical insights into how primordial trust and archaic fear unconsciously shape our personality and behaviour This book discusses in detail how in our everyday world we lack primordial trust Nevertheless all of us have internalized it as experiences of another non dual world of being unconditionally accepted then sheltered and nurtured The book outlines how from a spiritual viewpoint we come from the non dual world and experience a transition by becoming an ego thereby experiencing archaic fear This book explains fear in terms of two challenges encountered in this transition firstly leaving the non world world when everything changes and we feel forlorn Secondly on awakening in the ego when we feel dependent and overwhelmed by otherness The book also helps readers to understand trust as the emotional and spiritual foundation of the human soul as well as how fear shapes us and how it can be outgrown The book makes the case that understanding fear and primordial trust improves care and helps us to better understand dying It will be of interest to academics scholars and students in the fields of psychiatry counselling psychotherapy and palliative care and to all those interested in understanding fear trust and the healing potential of spiritual experiences Chapters 1 and 3 of this book are freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF under a Creative Commons Attribution 4.0 license available at <https://www.taylorfrancis.com/books/mono/10.4324/9781003176572>

Jungian Perspectives on Indeterminate States Elizabeth Brodersen, Pilar Amezaga, 2020-08-09 In Jungian Perspectives on Indeterminate States Between and Beyond Borders Elizabeth Brodersen and Pilar Amezaga bring together leading international contributors to analyse and interpret the psychological impact of contemporary border crossing both literally and figuratively Each chapter assesses key themes such as migration culture gender and identity formation through a Jungian lens All the contributors sensitively explore how creative forms can help mitigate the trauma experienced when one is forced to leave safety and enter unknown territory and examines the specific role of indeterminacy liminality and symbols as transformers at the border between culture race and gender The book asks whether we are able to hold these indeterminate states as creative liminal manifestations pointing to new forms integrate the shadow other as potential and allow sufficient cross border migration and fertilization as permissible It makes clear that societal conflict represents a struggle for recognition and identity and elucidates the negative experiences of authoritarian structures attached to disrespect and misrecognitions This interdisciplinary collection will offer key insight for Jungian analysts in practice and in training psychotherapists anthropologists political and cultural theorists and postgraduate researchers in psychosocial studies

Forgiveness and Reconciliation Monika Renz, 2022-07-26 This book details a five phase model of the process of forgiveness and reconciliation exploring how it can be understood as a threshold experience with the potential to offer profound emotional renewal Illustrated with numerous case study vignettes the book presents the findings of a research study gathered from observing and interviewing 50 dying persons investigating the preconditions for forgiveness and reconciliation and examining how a sense of grace freedom peace and deep connectedness may occur The book also contextualizes reconciliation and forgiveness as cultural phenomena extending beyond purely behavioral patterns of cooperation and involving great emotional maturity and strength of personality Centered on humility self knowledge truth finding and consciousness Forgiveness and Reconciliation is important reading for practitioners scholars and students in the fields of counselling psychotherapy and palliative care and to all those interested supporting people in conflict situations in the middle of their lives or in working with dying persons

Trauma and Memory Studies: Responses from India and Beyond Simi Malhotra, Sheikh Sana Assad, Farhana Tasnim, Somya Charan Pahadi, Sango Bidani, 2025-09-20 This edited volume offers a comprehensive revaluation of Trauma and Memory Studies foregrounding perspectives from India and beyond It critically interrogates the prevailing Euro centric paradigm within the field advocating for the amplification and contextualization of voices originating from South Asian spatial and temporal contexts Departing from conventional West North centric narratives the text prioritizes the narratives of historically marginalized survivor groups encompassing individuals affected by pivotal events such as the 26 11 terror attacks in Mumbai the Bengal famine the dispersion of the Indian diaspora and the experiences of incarcerated populations in Iran Kenya Palestine etc Through an in depth exploration of societal mechanisms for remembrance and coping strategies vis vis traumatic episodes such as the Jallianwala Bagh massacre the book unveils the intricate interplay of political cultural and social dynamics It explores the complicated dynamics of post colonial and post conflict societies in India by using a range of interdisciplinary methodologies such as examining artistic expressions oral histories and digital media It discusses the ongoing debate between hegemonic historical narratives and the often marginalized voices of subaltern communities This book serves as an indispensable resource for academics students and researchers committed to the exploration of trauma and memory within non Western contexts

Trauma Beyond Time Sarah Seisemyer-Snyder, 2025-12-15 Trauma Beyond Time Temporal Constructs in Holocaust Testimonies challenges our understanding of what it means to be a Holocaust survivor arguing that the term post Holocaust fundamentally misrepresents survivors experiences Through careful analysis of Holocaust literature and testimony this book reveals how trauma persists across generations defying conventional historical timelines For those who perished there can be no after to the Holocaust their stories were violently ended Yet for survivors the Holocaust didn't simply conclude in 1945 Their experiences demonstrate how trauma continues to shape lives decades later making post Holocaust a misleading concept that fails to capture their ongoing reality Using the multigenerational testimony of the Tabak family as a case study this research shows how trauma disrupts linear time creating a continuous present where past horrors remain alive The author examines Holocaust diaries that end abruptly with their authors deaths alongside memoirs that document how survivors navigate a world forever altered by their experiences Perhaps most profound is the examination of intergenerational trauma where descendants inherit the psychological imprint of events they never personally witnessed For these individuals there is no before the Holocaust only its ongoing echoes through family memory and inherited trauma By reconsidering how we frame survivorship this book calls for a more nuanced trauma informed approach to Holocaust studies that honors the continuing reality of survivors experiences

BEYOND RESILIENCE FROM MASTERY TO MYSTERY A Workbook for Personal Mastery and Transformational Change Stephen Murgatroyd, Sarajane Aris, 2017-01-31 People are actively engaged in a life search for meaning and this search can lead them to take a spiritual perspective of themselves and the world in which they live Some find this a spiritual journey a journey towards an inner path enabling a person to discover the essence of their being or the deepest values and meanings by which people live through art music or religion The ultimate purpose of our spiritual journey is to be an enabling meaning to be found and given for self and others In Tibetan Buddhism the ultimate intention and purpose of our personal and spiritual journey is to be of service and benefit to all beings and to bring all beings to enlightenment Enlightenment is the ultimate step on our journey whereby we go beyond our everyday consciousness to serve a greater whole where we are in touch with our ultimate true nature the essence of our being We can think of this journey to enlightenment as a journey both for personal mastery and beyond it
