Abstraction and the Holocaust Mark Godfrey, 2007-01-01 Mark Godfrey looks closely at a series of American art and architectural projects that respond to the memory of the Holocaust He investigates how abstract artists and architects have negotiated Holocaust memory without representing the Holocaust figuratively or symbolically

Between Witness and Testimony Michael Bernard-Donals, Richard Glejzer, 2012-02-01 The Holocaust presents an immense challenge to those who would represent it or teach it through fiction film or historical accounts Even the testimonies of those who were there provide only a glimpse of the disaster to those who were not Between Witness and Testimony investigates the difficulties inherent in the obligation to bear witness to events that seem not just unspeakable but also unthinkable The authors examine films fictional narratives survivor testimonies and the museums at Yad Vashem and the United States Holocaust Memorial Museum in order to establish an ethics of Holocaust representation Traversing the disciplines of history philosophy religious studies and literary and cultural theory the authors suggest that while no account adequately provides access to what Adorno called the extremity that eludes the concept we are still obliged to testify to put into language what history cannot contain

Blanchot and the Literature of Transgression John Gregg, 1994-03-21 In this book the first in English devoted exclusively to Maurice Blanchot John Gregg examines the problematic interaction between the two forms of discourse critical and fictional that comprise this writer's hybrid oeuvre The result is a lucid introduction to the thought of one of the most important figures on the French intellectual scene of the past half century Gregg organizes his discussion around the notion of transgression which Blanchot himself took over from Georges Bataille most palpably in his interpretation of the myth of Orpheus as a paradigm capable of accounting for the relationships that exist in the textual economies formed by author work and reader Chapters on the critical work address such issues as Blanchot's ambivalent attitude toward the speculative dialectic of Hegelianism his thematization of literature's involvement with death and the mythical and Biblical figures he uses to portray the acts of reading and writing Gregg also performs extended close readings of two representative works of fiction Le Tr s Haut and L Attente l oubli in an effort to trace Blanchot's evolution as a creator of narratives and to ascertain how his fiction can be seen as constituting a mise en oeuvre of the concerns he treats in his criticism The book concludes with an assessment of Blanchot's place in the recent history of French critical theory
