Yet Again Max Beerbohm, 2004-10 If I were seeing over a house and found in every room an iron cage let into the wall and were told by the caretaker that these cages were for me to keep lions in I think I should open my eyes rather wide Yet nothing seems to me more natural than a fire in the grate doubtless when I began to walk one of my first excursions was to the fender that I might gaze more nearly at the live thing roaring and raging behind it and I dare say I dimly wondered by what blessed dispensation this creature was allowed in a domain so peaceful as my nursery I do not think I ever needed to be warned against scaling the fender I knew by instinct that the creature within it was dangerous fiercer still than the cat which had once strayed into the room and scratched me for my advances As I grew older I ceased to wonder at the creature's presence and learned to call it the fire quite lightly There are so many queer things in the world that we have no time to go on wondering at the queerness of the things we see habitually It is not that these things are in themselves less queer than they at first seemed to us It is that our vision of them has been dimmed

Collected radio talks by the celebrated English essayist and humorist Sir Max Beerbohm. Beerbohm returned to England from his home in Rapallo in Italy in about 1935 when his wife Florence Kahn was cast in a revival of Peer Gynt on the London stage. At this time he resumed writing essays when the BBC invited him to give regular radio broadcasts. He talked about cars and carriages and music halls among other topics. He and his wife remained in Britain during World War II during which period Beerbohm continued to broadcast, giving his last on-air talk in 1945. The success of these broadcasts made Beerbohm a well-known emeritus of British humour. Six of these radio talks were collected together with six other essays and published as Mainly on the Air in 1946. We are delighted to publish this classic book as part of our extensive Classic Library collection. Many of the books in our collection have been out of print for decades and therefore have not been accessible to the general public. A Christmas Garland (Dodo Press) Max Beerbohm, 2007-06 Sir Henry Maximilian Beerbohm 1872 1956 was an English parodist and caricaturist. His first book The Works of Max Beerbohm was published in 1896. Having been interviewed by George Bernard Shaw himself in 1898, he followed Shaw as drama critic for the Saturday Review on whose staff he remained until 1910. From 1935 onwards, he was an occasional radio broadcaster, talking about cars and carriages and music halls for the BBC. His wit is shown often enough in his caricatures, but his letters contain a carefully blended humour, a gentle admonishing of the excesses of the day whilst remaining firmly tongue-in-cheek. Beerbohm's best known works are Yet Again 1909, A Christmas Garland 1912, a parody of literary styles, and Seven Men 1919.
