Thematic Instruction:

ITI, the Model Susan Kovalik, Karen D. Olsen, 1994 This book presents Integrated Thematic Instruction ITI a model for implementing a brain compatible learning environment for students and teachers using a year long theme to organize curriculum content and skills The book s introduction identifies six mismemes or mistaken ideas that have hindered educational reform and proposes seven new memes or foundational premises for education reform that are consistent with brain research and children s developmental characteristics Also identified are eight brain compatible implementation elements to create an environment that will enhance children s performance and provide the basis for successful learning experience Chapter 1 then describes the three principles of the ITI model that brain research must become the basis for decisions to improve education that teaching is an art and science that must implement brain research in the classroom and that curriculum development must occur at the classroom level based on the classroom teacher s understanding of the learners and community Chapters 2 through 9 explain the eight brain compatible implementation elements and how they can be applied to learning The eight elements are 1 absence of threat 2 meaningful content 3 choices 4 adequate time 5 enriched environment 6 collaboration 7 immediate feedback and 8 mastery application Chapter 10 describes a brain compatible curriculum one that emphasizes pattern seeking and program building Chapters 11 through 13 describe three steps in curriculum making creating a year long theme determining the key concepts and skills to be mastered within year long themes and creating and using inquiries Chapter 14 shows how the ITI model is not incompatible with teaching reading writing and mathematics skills Finally chapter 15 argues the need for personal transition if change is to be made Five appendices present sample materials for building an ITI program A glossary is included Contains 35 references TM

PreK-2 Teaching in Themes Deborah Meier, Matthew Knoester, Katherine Clunis D'Andrea, 2015 How do teachers and schools create meaningful learning experiences for students with diverse skills abilities and cultures How can teachers authentically assess the learning of their students and build on their strengths and interests in ways that enrich the larger community How can schools be turned into places where everyone is learning from each other These are the big questions that guide the work of teachers at the well known Mission Hill School in Boston and that are addressed in this book Teaching in Themes will help schools incorporate a whole school theme based curriculum that engages students across grade levels K-8 The authors provide detailed descriptions of four thematic units What's Baking Learning Together About Bread and Bakeries The Impact of Nature and Play The Struggle for Justice U.S. History Through the Eyes of African Americans and Astronomical Inquiries Readers will see how teachers and students design emergent inquiries within the themes and create artwork music presentations and a variety of hands on learning experiences that support differentiated instruction across the curriculum Book Features Examples of whole school projects designed to create a deep sense of immersion in a curricular theme and to build a multi-age learning community Details of how teachers developed rich curriculum tailored to their unique students The insights of legendary educator Deborah Meier on how whole school thematic units were used to encourage collaboration among teachers An afterword by teachers and film makers about the thinking behind their work featured in the widely viewed film series A Year at Mission Hill. The schools Deborah Meier created in New York and Boston are outstanding examples of democratic education in action. I will never forget the first time I visited one of Deborah's schools in East Harlem and saw the joy and curiosity on the faces of children and teachers alike. I took time then to carefully describe the school's practices including its portfolio-based assessment system because I believed the word needed to be spread. I still do. Happily this new book from Deborah and her colleagues at the Mission Hill School adds to the literature on creative and collaborative teaching and on building trusting and powerful learning communities.

Linda Darling Hammond, Charles E. Ducommun, Professor of Education, Stanford University

Here is a book that shatters the prevailing definition of a good school as one with high test scores. Teaching in Themes makes clear the often hidden fact that there are many kinds of good schools for children, adults, and a democratic society, past and present. Experienced teachers tell a fascinating story about Boston's Mission Hill School, its goals, curriculum, classroom lessons, and assessments that will knock the socks off many true believers in only one kind of a good school.

Larry Cuban, Professor Emeritus of Education, Stanford University

Real student engagement is not the result of entertaining instruction; it is borne from students being passionate about their own learning about becoming young experts. This book gives a behind-the-scenes look at Mission Hill, a remarkably successful public school where the quality of student thinking and student work takes precedence over test scores and where thematic learning builds powerful intellectual bridges within classrooms and across the school.

Developing Literacy in Preschool Lesley Mandel Morrow, 2007-06-02

Preschoolers are passionate about learning and a high quality preschool program offers rich learning experiences in the areas of language and literacy. This engaging book gives teachers and other professionals fresh ideas, inspiration, and practical tools for integrating age appropriate literacy instruction into the preschool curriculum. Including helpful vignettes, sample lesson plans, and reproducibles, the book shows how to create a motivating classroom environment, balance child-initiated exploration with structured activities, and support students developing skills in reading, writing, speaking, and comprehension. Essential topics include preschool assessment and working with English language learners.

Instructor's Manual to Accompany Teaching Reading to Every Child Diane Lapp, James Flood, Cynthia H. Brock, Douglas Fisher, 2013-04-15

This popular text, now in its Fourth Edition, introduces pre-service and in-service teachers to the most current theories and methods for teaching literacy to children in elementary schools. The methods presented are based on scientific findings that have been tested in many classrooms. A wealth of examples, hands-on activities, and classroom vignettes, including lesson plans, assessments, lists of children's literature books, fiction and nonfiction texts, and more, illustrate the methods and bring them to life. The text highlights the importance of teaching EVERY child to become competent in all of the nuances and complexities of reading, writing, and speaking. The value of reflection and peer discussion in learning to expand their students' literacies is emphasized. Readers are encouraged to reflect on their own experiences with reading and teaching throughout their lifetimes.
