Traumatic Encounters Paul Eisenstein, 2003-08-01 Addresses the difficulty of representing the Holocaust in literature and on film

Interrogating Trauma Mick Broderick, Antonio Traverso, 2013-09-27 Throughout the past century traumatic experiences have been re enacted frequently by evolving media and art forms Now there is a significant body of theory across academic disciplines focused on the representation of cataclysmic European and US historical events However less critical attention has been devoted to the representation of havoc outside the West even though depictions of Third World disasters saturate contemporary media and art around the globe This book considers traumatic histories internationally in a broad range of creative arts and visual media representations Deploying diverse applications of the conventional theories of trauma it examines the theoretical limitations at the same time as considering alternative methodologies Interrogating Trauma is concerned with the examination of the concept of trauma and how it is often unproblematically used to theorise the cultural representation of disaster and atrocity It offers a theorisation of trauma in order to reappraise the relationship between cultural representation and the socio historical processes which are marked by violence conflict and suffering This book was published as a special issue of Continuum Journal of Media and Cultural Studies

Universality and Identity Politics Todd McGowan, 2020-07-21 The great political ideas and movements of the modern world were founded on a promise of universal emancipation But in recent decades much of the Left has grown suspicious of such aspirations Critics see the invocation of universality as a form of domination or a way of speaking for others and have come to favor a politics of particularism often derided as identity politics Others both centrists and conservatives associate universalism with twentieth century totalitarianism and hold that it is bound to lead to catastrophe This book develops a new conception of universality that helps us rethink political thought and action Todd McGowan argues that universals such as equality and freedom are not imposed on us They emerge from our shared experience of their absence and our struggle to attain them McGowan reconsiders the history of Nazism and Stalinism and reclaims the universalism of movements fighting racism sexism and homophobia He demonstrates that the divide between Right and Left comes down to particularity versus universality Despite the accusation of identity politics directed against leftists every emancipatory political project is fundamentally a universal one and the real proponents of identity politics are the right wing Through a wide range of examples in contemporary politics film and history Universality and Identity Politics offers an antidote to the impasses of identity and an inspiring vision of twenty first century collective struggle

History, Literature, Critical Theory Dominick LaCapra, 2013-05-15 In History Literature Critical Theory Dominick LaCapra continues his exploration of the complex relations between history and literature here considering history as both process and representation A trio of chapters at the center of the volume concern the ways in which history and literature particularly the novel impact and question each other In one of the chapters LaCapra revisits Gustave Flaubert pairing him with Joseph Conrad Other chapters pair J M Coetzee and W G Sebald Jonathan Littell s novel The Kindly Ones and Saul Friedlander's two volume prizewinning history Nazi Germany and the Jews. A recurrent motif of the book is the role of the sacred its problematic status in sacrifice its virulent manifestation in social and political violence notably the Nazi genocide its role or transformations in literature and art and its multivalent expressions in postsecular hopes anxieties and quests. LaCapra concludes the volume with an essay on the place of violence in the thought of Slavoj Žižek. In LaCapra's view Žižek's provocative thought at times has uncanny echoes of earlier reflections on or apologies for political and seemingly regenerative even sacralized violence.

Out of Time Todd McGowan, 2011 A new temporal aesthetic in films such as Memento Eternal Sunshine of the Spotless Mind 2046 and The Hangover

The Real Gaze Todd McGowan, 2012-02-01 Winner of the 2008 Gradiva Award Theoretical Category presented by the National Association for the Advancement of Psychoanalysis The Real Gaze develops a new theory of the cinema by rethinking the concept of the gaze which has long been central in film theory. Historically film scholars have located the gaze on the side of the spectator however Todd McGowan positions it within the filmic image where it has the radical potential to disrupt the spectator's sense of identity and challenge the foundations of ideology. This book demonstrates several distinct cinematic forms that vary in terms of how the gaze functions within the films. Through a detailed investigation of directors such as Orson Welles Claire Denis Stanley Kubrick Spike Lee Federico Fellini Ron Howard Steven Spielberg Andrei Tarkovsky Wim Wenders and David Lynch McGowan explores the political cultural and existential ramifications of these differing roles of the gaze.

The Journal of Jewish Studies, 2005

Southern Postcolonialisms Sumanyu Satpathy, 2009 Southern Postcolonialisms is an anthology of critical essays on new literary representations from the Global South that seeks to re-invent reorient the ideological disciplinary aesthetic and pedagogical thrust of Postcolonial Studies in accordance with the new and shifting politico economic realities transactions between the North and the South as well as within the Global South in an era of globalization. Since the emergence of Postcolonial Theory in the 1980s the shape of the world has changed.

dramatically Old Cold War boundaries have shifted in the wake of the collapse of communism Globalization on an unprecedented scale has dramatically changed the meaning of time and space The rise of the US as a new imperial power has profound implications for the world order In the South new emerging markets have challenged the older division of industrial e first world e tm and non industrial e third world e tm In most parts of the world the academy is struggling to keep up with these developments One result has been a major transnational turn in the humanities and social sciences Terms like e world history e tm e globalization e tm e glocalization e tm and e transnationalism e tm now dominate academic agendas worldwide These changing circumstances raise far reaching questions What does the new emerging world order mean for established models of postcolonial theory Is postcolonialism as a field of study being overtaken by models of globalization and transnationalism What implications do the new configurations in the South have for postcolonial theory This volume drawn from a major literary conference at Delhi University provides a set of perspectives on these questions With a majority of contributions by scholars from the South these research articles have a dual focus e they revisit older debates on postcolonial theory while suggesting new perspectives and directions
