Triune Atonement Christs Healing For Sinners Victims And The Whole Creation:

Triune Atonement Andrew Sung Park, 2009-01-27 This is a study of the atonement the meaning of the death of Jesus Christ The book surveys historical views but also proposes that the atonement be seen as the death of Christ for both victims and the oppressed for sinners and oppressors for the whole creation including animals and nature This triune atonement refers to the involvement of the Trinity in the atonement here presented from an Asian American perspective

The Death of the Messiah and the Birth of the New Covenant Michael J Gorman, 2014-12-25 In this groundbreaking book Michael Gorman asks why there is no theory or model of the atonement called the new covenant model since this understanding of the atonement is likely the earliest in the Christian tradition going back to Jesus himself Gorman argues that most models of the atonement over emphasize the penultimate purposes of Jesus death and the mechanics of the atonement rather than its ultimate purpose to create a transformed Spirit filled people of God The New Testament s various atonement metaphors are part of a remarkably coherent picture of Jesus death as that which brings about the new covenant and thus the new community promised by the prophets which is also the covenant of peace Gorman therefore proposes a new model of the atonement that is really not new at all the new covenant model He argues that this is not merely an ancient model in need of rediscovery but also a more comprehensive integrated participatory communal and missional model than any of the major models in the tradition Life in this new covenant Gorman argues is a life of communal and individual participation in Jesus faithful loving peacemaking death Written for both academics and church leaders this book will challenge all who read it to re think and re articulate the meaning of Christ s death for us

Total Atonement W. Ross Hastings, 2019-10-09 Total Atonement re imagines the apprehended mystery of the atonement in light of the triune nature of God and the person and work of the incarnate Christ W Ross Hastings proposes participation as a theory or framework of atonement that holds all other models within it He argues that God s participation in humanity in order that humans might participate in God invites a total approach to the mystery of the atonement that is one that involves the whole Trinity the whole person and history of Christ and all the biblical motifs and theological models of atonement including penal substitution properly nuanced to overcome its caricatures Christus victor satisfaction vicarious life and moral exemplar Hastings re examines the scope of the atonement in light of these Trinitarian incarnational realities

The Spirit of Atonement Steven M. Studebaker, 2021-01-14 Steven M Studebaker proposes a Pentecostal approach to a major Christian doctrine the atonement The book moves Pentecostal theology of the atonement from a primarily Christocentric and crucicentric register to one that articulates the pneumatological and holistic nature of Pentecostal praxis Studebaker examines the irony of Classical Pentecostalism relying on the Christocentrism of Protestantism evangelical atonement theology to articulate its experience of the Holy Spirit as well as the Pneumatological nature of Pentecostal praxis He then develops a Pentecostal theology of atonement based on the biblical narrative of the Spirit of Pentecost and returns to re imagine an expanded vision of Pentecostal praxis based on the theological formation of the biblical narrative The result is a Pentecostal atonement theology that shows the integrated nature of pneumatology creation and Christology in the biblical narrative of redemption It gives theological expression to not only the pneumatological nature of Pentecostal praxis but also the fundamental role of the Holy Spirit in the biblical narrative of redemption The book challenges popular western atonement theologies to re think their Christocentrism and crucicentrism as well as their atomistic tendency to separate soteriology into objective Christological and subjective pneumatological categories

The Gift of the Self Matthew Harp, 2021-08-25 A preliminary cruciform theology using the metaphor of a gift as its thematic principle this book is intended to articulate a foundation for a Christian theology centered around the concept of God s Way of self gift Using the Cross of Christ as a starting point for a doctrine of God The Gift of the Self utilizes insights from biblical studies the sciences and Open and Relational Theology to construct a Christian framework that is compatible with the life and death of Jesus Christ as fully revelatory of God s Personhood This book engages issues of systematic theology metaphysics and ethics in hopes to deconstruct and reconstruct a conceptualization of God s character and power that is most consistent with the Cross as well as a vision for the vocation of the community of faith Finally a seven day liturgy thematized around generosity and the book s primary topics is included so that the reader might become more spiritually formed around this fresh contextualization of the ancient Christian faith As such the underlying purpose of The Gift of the Self is to construct a plausible Christian worldview for a post Christian context rooted totally in the Way of Christ as an alternative to some of the dominant forms of historic Christianity that do not take seriously the Cross s critique of unilateral power and communal exclusivity The author intends that embracing this worldview oriented by self gift can help transform the Church from a power seeking organization to a peace seeking community

The Cosmic Mountain J. Leavitt Pearl, Joe D. Redeeming Sin? Ernst M. Conradie, 2017-10-11 Can Christian sin talk be retrieved within the public sphere In this contribution to ecotheology Ernst M Conradie argues that amid ecological destruction discourse on sin can contribute to a multidisciplinary depth diagnosis of what has gone wrong in the world He confronts some major obstacles related to the plausibility of sin talk in conversation with evolutionary biology the cognitive sciences and animal ethology He defends an Augustinian insistence that social evil rather than natural evil is our primary predicament If the root cause of social evil is sin then a Christian confession of sin may yet yield good news for the whole earth

Does God Always Get What God Wants? Tim Reddish, 2018-03-16 Tim s wife Anne died of breast cancer at the age of forty nine having battled against the disease for more than six years Her suffering had a profound influence on their lives and that of their church and raised challenging questions If God is in control does that mean God is to blame for suffering Why did God not heal Anne Is Anne s death what God wanted to happen Does prayer make any difference What is God doing about evil People s experience of suffering causes them to examine the kind of God they believe in the nature of the universe God made and God s activity in the world This book explores all three aspects and responds constructively to the complex issues that the above questions pose and provides powerful reasons for confidence in the firm Christian hope

René Girard and the Nonviolent God Scott Cowdell, 2018-11-30 In his latest book on the ground breaking work of Ren Girard 1923 2015 Scott Cowdell sets out a new perspective on mimetic theory and theology he develops the proposed connection between Girardian thought and theological dramatic theory in new directions engaging with issues of evolutionary suffering and divine providence inclusive Christian uniqueness God s judgment nonviolent atonement and the spiritual life Cowdell reveals a powerful illuminating and life enhancing synergy between mimetic theory and Christianity at its best With religion widely seen as increasingly violent and intransigent the true Christian emphasis on divine solidarity mercy and healing is in danger of being lost Ren Girard provides a countervailing voice He emerges from Cowdell's study not only as a necessary dialogue partner for theology today but as a global prophet offering hope and challenge in equal measure. René Girard was a Catholic cultural theorist whose mimetic theory achieved a powerful symbiosis of social science with scripture and theology yielding a unique perspective on humanity's origins, violent history and future prospects. Cowdell maps this synergy revealing theological themes present from Girard's earliest writings to the latest, less familiar publications. He resolves a number of theological challenges to Girard's work engaging mimetic theory in fruitful dialogue with key themes, movements and thinkers in theology today. Bringing a distinctive Anglican voice to a largely Catholic debate, Cowdell gives an orthodox theological account of Girard's intellectual achievement bearing witness to Christianity's nonviolent God. This book will be of great interest to theologians, seminarians and clergy of all traditions, Girardians and Christian peace activists. The Reemergence of Liberation Theologies T. Cooper, 2013-07-24. This book brings together prominent voices from the global North and South to present brief analyses of liberation theology's future. It includes leaders in the field along with the newest voices. Each of these pieces was presented in the American Academy of Religion in the first five years of the Liberation Theologies Consultation. Preaching Jesus Eunjo Mary Kim, 2024-05-29. How can postcolonial approaches make a difference in preaching Jesus? The many postcolonial approaches used in this book will help preachers reinterpret the stories, metaphors and characters in the Bible and create new images of Jesus rooted in his historical identity as a colonized person. Preaching Jesus with new images that are totally different from the traditional colonial ones not only challenges listeners to reconsider their individual and communal identities as followers of Jesus but also provides them with theological and ethical guidance for living out those identities in daily life. Ultimately, preaching Jesus through postcolonial approaches is a prophetic ministry that awakens listeners and their communities to seek reconciliation between colonized and colonizers and suggests a common ground of faith and hope for the life-enhancing future of all people living in the twenty-first century. The five chapters of this book employ diverse postcolonial hermeneutical and homiletical methods across a broad disciplinary spectrum. This range includes intersectional and interdisciplinary studies with historical, literary and cultural approaches in dialogue with phenomenological philosophy, a postcolonial practical theological method, postcolonial feminist interpretation, postcolonial biblical hermeneutics and postcolonial intertextuality. All these approaches invite the colonized and their descendants to be conversation partners and reflect their lived experiences in the reimagining of the identity of Jesus. Moreover, the theological and homiletical insights gained through such postcolonial approaches will help preachers invite their listeners into a partnership with the triune God in order to participate in God's reconciling work. The postcolonial approaches used in this book contest the dominance of traditional assumptions and practices of preaching Jesus and propose a new homiletical paradigm that makes it possible for Christian preaching to contribute to the transformation of our present world into a life lived together in justice and peace with the new images of Jesus as postcolonial self, postcolonial song, postcolonial child, postcolonial body and postcolonial friend. The Oxford History of Protestant Dissenting Traditions.

Volume V Mark P. Hutchinson, 2018-10-17 The five volume Oxford History of Protestant Dissenting Traditions series is governed by a motif of migration out of England. It first traces organized church traditions that arose in Britain and Ireland as Dissenters distanced themselves from a state church defined by diocesan episcopacy, the Book of Common Prayer, the Thirty Nine Articles, and Royal Supremacy, but then follows those traditions as they spread beyond Britain and Ireland and also analyses newer traditions that emerged downstream in other parts of the world from earlier forms of Dissent. Secondly, it does the same for the doctrines, church practices, stances toward state and society, attitudes toward Scripture, and characteristic patterns of organization that also originated in earlier British and Irish dissent but that have often defined a trajectory of influence independent of ecclesiastical organizations. The Oxford History of Protestant Dissenting Traditions Volume V follows the spatial, cultural, and intellectual changes in dissenting identity and practice in the twentieth century as these once European traditions globalized. While in Europe dissent was often against the religious state, dissent in a globalizing world could redefine itself against colonialism or other secular and religious monopolies. The contributors trace the encounters of dissenting Protestant traditions with modernity and globalization, changing imperial politics, challenges to biblical, denominational, and pastoral authority, local cultures and languages, and some of the century's major themes such as race and gender, new technologies, and organizational change. In so doing, they identify a vast array of local and globalizing illustrations which will enliven conversations about the role of religion and, in particular, Christianity.

Sisters, Mothers, Daughters: Pentecostal Perspectives on Violence against Women, 2022-06-13 This volume explores issues and themes related to violence against women. It is distinctive in two ways. First, the editors have convened an international cohort of contributing scholars whose assessment of the pervasiveness and urgency of the problems and their proposals for solutions derives from their pneumatology, their theology of the Holy Spirit. Second, this book represents quite simply the first sustained effort to bring together in one volume Pentecostal voices from a variety of academic disciplines, ecclesial traditions, and cultural situations to address the urgent issues associated with violence toward women.

Living On The Edge Jonathan Burke, 2014-01-26 This book addresses common doubts and concerns Christians have concerning God and the Bible, including claims from the New Atheism, disputes over Bible archaeology, questions about the historical accuracy of the Bible, questions about the original texts of the Old and New Testament, questions about what the Bible really teaches concerning topics such as baptism, heaven and hell, Satan, and demons, questions about the value and relevance of the Bible's moral and ethical teachings.

A Gendered African Perspective on Christian Social Ethics Joseph Loïc Mben, S.J., 2021-03-09 Combining Catholic social teaching, feminist and African liberation theology, and the social sciences, Joseph Loïc Mben, S.J., develops a contextual, gendered African Christian social ethic that addresses the oppression and marginalization of working women in Sub-Saharan Africa. He focuses primarily on African women from working and poor classes living in either urban or rural settings, particularly in Cameroon, and thus shows the necessity of inflecting Catholic social teaching along the differential of
