Van Wetenschap Tot Utopie Opstellen Voor Overmorgen:

Van wetenschap tot utopie Piet Thoenes, 1976 Theatre for Development C. P. Epskamp, 2006-10 The Theatre for Development TFD is a learning strategy in which theatre is used to encourage communities to express their own concerns and think about the causes of their problems and possible solutions This overview contributes to both the theory and practice of Theatre for Development The author contextualises it historically within the evolving range of development theories strategies and practices notably including the now widely accepted notion of participatory approaches to achieving social change

Feminist Utopias in a Postmodern Era Alkeline van Lenning, Marrie Bekker, Ine Vanwesenbeeck, 1997 There is a respectable feminist tradition in utopian thought Dreams and fantasies about gender equal women friendly or female dominated worlds have been formulated abundantly However utopian thinking has also met with severe criticism By definition utopias were said to be too idealistic and of little use in the process of societal change More recently it has been stressed that the concept of utopia has been superseded by postmodern awareness in which general explanations of gender inequality and along with them general utopian views are disqualified to the benefit of more local and more specific theories In this book the reader will find not one general broadly defined utopia but instead a wide array of more or less specific feminist utopias Utopias are viewed as preliminary and imaginary goals from which present situations can be revalued and from which strategies for change can be developed As such utopias have not lost their significance
