Insider Guide to Easy Car Buying: Spend a Tenner

Save a Grand Tony Willard, The Top Gear Guide to Britain Richard Porter, 2013-11-01 For over ten years Top Gear has been travelling all over Britain in the course of making the world's best programme about cars driving and three men in smart casual clothes shouting at each other. So who better to assemble a guide to Britain itself with all its glories, quirks and multiple words for bread rolls? This book is not only a guide for outsiders; it is an invaluable reference manual for Britons themselves like a mirror held up to our very souls. Join us then as we travel from A-Z cataloguing and making moderately flippant remarks about every aspect of life and living in the best country in the world after New Zealand. Denmark, probably Canada and some bits of France. Although in this case a mirror that has been dropped and then run over by a small lorry, but don't worry, some bits of it still just about work.

The Happiness Illusion Luke Hockley, Nadi Fadina, 2015-06-19 The West has never been more affluent yet the use of antidepressants is on the increase to the extent that the World Health Organisation has declared it a major source of concern. How has this state of affairs come about and what can be done? Television and advertising media seem to know. Wherever we look they offer countless remedies for our current situation, unfortunately none of them seem to work. The Happiness Illusion explores how the metaphorical insights of fairy tales have been literalised and turned into commodities. In so doing their ability to educate and entertain has largely been lost. Instead advertising and television sell us products that offer to magically transform the way we look, how we age, where we live, both in the city and the countryside, the possibility of new jobs and so forth. All of these are supposed to make us happy. But despite the allure of retail therapy, modern magic has lost its spell. What then are the sources of happiness in our contemporary society? Through a series of fairy tales The Happiness Illusion shows how the media sold us a fairytale. It looks at topics such as age, gender, marriage and rom-coms, Nordic Noir and the representations of therapy on television. In doing so it explores alternative ways to relate to the world in a symbolic and less literal manner; it suggests that happiness comes by making sure we don't fall under the spell of the illusionary promises of contemporary television and advertising. Instead happiness comes from being ourselves, warts and all. This book will be of interest to Jungian academics, film, media and cultural studies academics, social psychologists and their students as well as reaching out to those interested in fairy tale studies, psychotherapists and educated cinema goers. Luke Hockley PhD is Research Professor of Media Analysis at the University of Bedfordshire, UK. He is a practicing psychotherapist and is registered with the United Kingdom Council for Psychotherapy (UKCP). Luke is joint Editor in Chief of the International Journal of Jungian Studies (IJJS) and a member of the Advisory Board for the journal Spring and lectures widely. www.lukehockley.com Nadi Fadina is a media entrepreneur and a managing partner in an international film fund. She is involved in a variety of arts and media-related projects both in profit and non-profit spheres. She teaches Film Business in the University of Bedfordshire, however her academic interests outreach spheres of business and cover ideology, Russian fairytales, sexuality, politics, anthropology and cinema. www.nadi.fadina.com
