To Save a City Roger Gene Miller,1998 To Save A City: The Berlin Airlift, 1948-1949 [Illustrated Edition] Roger G. Miller,2015-11-06 Includes 30 Illustrations In this expert survey Air Force Historian Robert Miller explores the Epic story of the Berlin Airlift the confrontation of Democracy and Communism as the world teetered on the brink of the Third World War The Berlin blockade 24 June 1948 12 May 1949 was one of the first major international crises of the Cold War During the multinational occupation of post World War II Germany the Soviet Union blocked the Western Allies railway road and canal access to the sectors of Berlin under allied control The Soviets offered to drop the blockade if the Western Allies withdrew the newly introduced Deutschmark from West Berlin In response the Western Allies organised the Berlin airlift to carry supplies to the people in West Berlin Aircrews from the United States Air Force the British Royal Air Force the Royal Canadian Air Force the Royal Australian Air Force the Royal New Zealand Air Force and the South African Air Force flew over 200 000 flights in one year providing up to 8 893 tons of necessities daily such as fuel and food to the Berliners Neither side wanted a war the Soviets did not disrupt the airlift By the spring of 1949 the airlift was clearly succeeding and by April it was delivering more cargo than had previously been transported into the city by rail On 11 May 1949 the USSR lifted the blockade of West Berlin The Berlin Crisis of 1948 1949 served to highlight competing ideological and economic visions for post war Europe particularly Germany The clash ultimately led to the division of that country into East and West and to the division of Berlin itself

To Save a City Roger G. Miller,2000-11-01 To Save a City Office of Air Force History,U.s. Air Force,2015-03-02 The Berlin Crisis of 1948 had its origins in the dark mind of Joseph Stalin Plans to interfere with Western access to Berlin were already hatched and harassment had begun by March 19 1948 when the dictator met with German leaders of the Soviet controlled Party of Socialist German Unity SED During the subsequent discussion German communist leader Wilhelm Pieck warned that the elections scheduled for Berlin in October threatened a disaster for the SED But he argued that humiliation could be prevented if somehow the Western powers could be removed from the city

To Save a City U. S. Military,Department of Defense,U. S. Air Force (USAF),U. S. Government,2017-05-19 This Air Force publication presents a vivid description of the Berlin Airlift and new interpretations of an event often described as the greatest humanitarian airlift in history In 1948 the Soviet blockade cut the city of Berlin off from food fuel and other necessities from the West and threatened the Western position in post World War II Europe The U S Air Force and Royal Air Force answered with air power creating an air bridge of supplies that delivered 2 3 million tons of cargo to the beleaguered city over the next fifteen months This exceptional work uses recently declassified documents and drawing on material based on sources now available from behind the former Iron Curtain Germany in Defeat Berlin Breakdown The Marshall Plan and German Unification Threat and Response The April Crisis and the Little Lift Further Provocations Currency Reform A Pretext for corridors across the Soviet zone of Germany Thus the wartime allies of Britain France and the USA realized that the only option open to them was to supply the beleaguered West Berlin by air transport and so started one of the most dramatic events of the twentieth century The airlift started in June 1948 At the beginning there were three loading airfields Rhein Main and Wiesbaden in the American zone and Weinstorf in the British zone By September of 1948 the airlift was transporting a massive tonnage of supplies into Berlin including coal food medical supplies and all the other necessities of life A mixed fleet of aircraft plodded their endless path to and from the city Both Ex planes and pilots were dragged out of retirement In September 1948 the Russian military threatened to force down western aircraft if they flew outside the 20 mile wide corridors but by March 1949 a total of 45 683 tons of supplies per week were being flown into Berlin In April Russia finally announced her intention to end the blockade

The Berlin Airlift Barry Turner,2017-10-05 Acclaimed historian Barry Turner presents a new history of the Cold War s defining episode Berlin 1948 a divided city in a divided country in a divided Europe The ruined German capital lay 120 miles inside Soviet controlled eastern Germany Stalin wanted the Allies out the Allies were determined to stay but had only three narrow air corridors linking the city to the West Stalin was confident he could crush Berlin s resolve by cutting off food and fuel In the USA despite some voices still urging America first it was believed that a rebuilt Germany was the best insurance against the spread of communism across Europe And so over eleven months from June 1948 to May 1949 British and American aircraft carried out the most ambitious airborne relief operation ever mounted flying over 2 million tons of supplies on almost 300 000 flights to save a beleaguered Berlin With new material from American British and German archives and original interviews with veterans Turner paints a fresh vivid picture the airlift whose repercussions the role of the USA as global leader German ascendancy Russian threat we are still living with today

Master of the Air Robert A. Slayton,2010-03-18 When the western Allies moved to consolidate their areas of control in occupied Germany the USSR responded by cutting off land access to West Berlin holding over two million residents of that city hostage in an aggressive act of brinkmanship General William Henry Tunner was given a task that seemed doomed to failure to supply a major city by air with everything it needed to survive from food to a winter s supply of coal and made it a brilliant success astonishing the world in a major public relations defeat for the Soviets and demonstrating the unexpected capacity of air fleets in a postwar world
