Alternative Temporalities Teresa Valentini,Angela Weiser,John Zilcosky,2024-11-30 Alternative temporalities have often emerged as a reaction to the normativizing force of time demonstrating that time can be used as an instrument of power and oppression but also as a means to resist this very oppression Alternative Temporalities draws on analyses of modern literature to examine this often neglected role of time By exploring forms of temporal resistance in artistic representation such as short stories and novels that challenge the imposition of colonial gender or capitalist temporal orders the book reveals how storytelling can be an essential tool in questioning and pushing back against coercive temporal structures The book analyses literary representations of time that challenge dominant temporalities and intersect different disciplines such as gender and sexuality studies trauma and Indigenous studies race and identity and religion It features narrative analyses proposing alternative embodied experiences of time focusing on topics including the temporality of the AIDS affected body the experience of time in prison and slowness in opposition to modern acceleration Ultimately Alternative Temporalities aims to create new theories as well as practices that may foster more diverse and inclusive ways of perceiving and embodying time

The Allure of Sports in Western Culture John Zilcosky,Marlo Alexandra Burks,2019-11-08 Sports are the most popular spectator events in the history of the world This volume demonstrates how sports shape societies and individuals The essays offer critical new insights and historical case studies from historians theorists literature scholars and athletes

Monatshefte ,2017 Literatur und Wissenschaft Monika Schmitz-Emans,2008 British Humanities Index ,2008 Africa Today ,2008 Index to Theses with Abstracts Accepted for Higher Degrees by the Universities of Great Britain and Ireland and the Council for National Academic Awards ,2003 Theses on any subject submitted by the academic libraries in the UK and Ireland AdI ,1997 Asian Fusion Caroline Rupprecht,2020 A series of dialogues are created between Asian German authors such as Yoko Tawada Pham Thi Ho i and Anna Kim with an earlier generation of German speaking authors and artists whose works engaged with Asia including W G Sebald Peter Weiss and Joseph Beuys

Asian German voices are here shown to reshape the German cultural landscape The uncanny, 1993 Literature, Psychoanalysis and the New Sciences of Mind Leonard Jackson, 2014-09-11 At a time when psychoanalysis is attacked by biologists psychologists and literary critics alike this book offers a radical defence Literature Psychoanalysis and the New Sciences of Mind gives a clear introduction to the theories of Freud and Jung the strange linguistic rewriting of Freud by Jacques Lacan It explores the extraordinary variety of ways in which these writings have been applied to literature and literary theory But for the first time they are put in the context of recent biological theories of mind and sexuality The Uncanny Narrated Kateryna Kühn-Rudenko, 2011 Discourse in Psychoanalysis and Literature (Routledge Revivals) Shlomith Rimmon-Kenan, 2014-11-13 The essays in this collection first published in 1987 represent a collective attempt to listen with the third ear to the underhand ways the unspoken has of speaking and to speak of these ways By focusing on discourse the volume is distinguished from traditional literature by its emphasis on rhetorical structures and textual strategies and the investment of these structures with desire power and other aspects of subjectivity rather than the personality of the artist or the creative process However in this book the human dimension is not lost By claiming that the structures in question are not merely linguistic semiotic or narratological although they are all of these the human dimension is returned not in the raw as in traditional approaches but through the traces it leaves in the text as activated by its reading This book is ideal for students of literature and psychoanalytical theory James Joyce and the Problem of Psychoanalysis Luke Thurston, 2004-07-01 From its very beginning psychoanalysis sought to incorporate the aesthetic into its domain Despite Joyce s deliberate attempt in his writing to resist this powerful hermeneutic his work has been confronted by a long tradition of psychoanalytic readings Luke Thurston argues that this very antagonism holds the key to how psychoanalytic thinking can still open up new avenues in Joycean criticism and literary theory In particular Thurston shows that Jacques Lacan s response to Joyce goes beyond the application of theory rather than diagnosing Joyce s writing or claiming to have deciphered its riddles Lacan seeks to understand how it can entail an unreadable signature a unique act of social transgression that defies translation into discourse Thurston imaginatively builds on Lacan s work to illuminate Joyce s place in a wide ranging literary genealogy that includes Shakespeare Hogg Stevenson and Wilde This study should be essential reading for all students of Joyce literary theory and psychoanalysis A familiar compound ghost Sarah Annes Brown, 2017-06-01 A Familiar Compound Ghost explores the relationship between allusion and the uncanny in literature An unexpected echo or quotation in a new text can be compared to the sudden appearance of a ghost or mysterious double the reanimation of a corpse or the discovery of an ancient ruin hidden in a modern city In this scholarly and suggestive study Brown identifies moments where this affinity between allusion and the uncanny is used by writers to generate a particular textual charge where uncanny elements are used to flag patterns of allusion and to point to the haunting presence of an earlier work A Familiar Compound Ghost traces the subtle patterns of connection between texts centuries even millennia

apart from Greek tragedy and Latin epic through the plays of Shakespeare and the Victorian novel to contemporary film fiction and poetry Each chapter takes a different uncanny motif as its focus doubles ruins reanimation ghosts and journeys to the underworld Uncanny!. ,1988
