A. Taylor,R. L. Coop,R. L. Wall,2007-09-24 Long established as a bestselling parasitology book for veterinary practitioners and veterinary students the previous edition lead by Urquhart was praised as probably the best available veterinary parasitology text for the practitioner Clinical Insight This third edition of Veterinary Parasitology is a major update which builds on the spirit of earlier editions New authors with a wealth of experience of teaching and researching the subject have thoroughly revised and restructured the book to reflect modern teaching practice and the most up to date coverage of advances in this area Arranged by host species and organ systems within the host with extensive cross referencing to enable ease of access to information on particular parasites The core focus is on parasites of livestock and companion animals but new sections also cover parasites of poultry and gamebirds laboratory animals exotic pets and farmed species Expanded sections on protozoa and ectoparasites as well as coverage of a larger selection of parasites of veterinary significance around the world The majority of parasitic diseases are now covered in detail using a standardised format for each parasite to allow easy referencing and identification and for comparison between species within a genus Suitable for veterinary students as well as researchers of veterinary parasitology veterinarians in practice and in government service and others who are involved in aspects of parasitic disease About the authors Professor Mike Taylor is head of Veterinary Surveillance at the Central Science Laboratory York UK He is also a visiting Professor of Parasitology at the Royal Veterinary College London and at the University of Wales Bangor an Honorary Fellow of the University of Edinburgh as well as a Diplomate of the European College of Veterinary Parasitology and Editor in Chief of Veterinary Parasitology Dr Bob Coop was formerly Head of the Division of Parasitology at the Moredun Research Institute Scotland and is now Honorary Fellow of the Moredun Foundation He has over 35 years experience of research in veterinary parasitology Richard Wall is Professor of Zoology at the University of Bristol UK where he teaches and heads an internationally recognized research group working on the ecology behaviour and control of arthropod parasites and vectors He has served as veterinary editor of the journal Medical he is a Fellow of the Royal Entomological Society Veterinary Entomology R. Wall,D. Shearer,2012-12-06 Although usually treated as unified subject in many respects the two components of what is broadly described as medical and veterinary is usual the term entomology is entomology are clearly distinct As used loosely here to refer to both insects and arachnids In medical entomology blood feeding Diptera are of paramount importance primarily as vectors of pathogenic disease Most existing textbooks reflect this bias However in veterinary entomology ectoparasites such as the mites fleas or dipteran agents of myiasis assume far greater prominence and the most important effects of their parasitic activity may be mechanical damage pruritus blood loss myiasis hypersensitivity and dermatitis in addition to vector borne pathogenic disease Ectoparasite infestation of domestic and companion animals therefore has clinical consequences necessitating a distinct approach to diagnosis and control The aim of this book is to introduce the behaviour ecology pathology and control of arthropod ectoparasites of domestic animals to students and practitioners of veterinary medicine animal husbandry and applied biology Since the book is directed primarily at the non entomologist some simplification of a number of the more involved entomological issues has been deemed necessary to improve the book s logical structure and comprehensibility and keep its length within limits A reading list is presented at the end of each chapter to act as a stepping stone into the specialist literature
