Urban Displacements Susanne Soederberg, 2020-12-30 WINNER of the BISA IPEG Book Prize 2021 <https://www.bisa.ac.uk/members/working-groups/ipeg/articles/ipeg-2021-book-prize-winner-announced/> With an eye to further our understanding of everyday life in global capitalism Urban Displacements provides the first systemic critical political economy analysis of low income rental housing and social dislocations combining both theoretical advancements and detailed empirical studies centering on Berlin Dublin and Vienna Soederberg pushes beyond dominant debates by treating low rent housing as a unique commodity that provides a necessary place for the societal reproduction of labour power whilst being integrated into the global dynamics of capitalism She argues that historical and geographical configurations of monetized governance including landlords employers and inter scalar state practices have served to reproduce urban displacements and obfuscate their gendered class and racialized underpinnings The outcome is the everyday facilitation and normalization of urban poverty and social marginalization on one side and capital accumulation on the other Building on Soederberg's previous book Debtfare States and the Poverty Industry this accessible and interdisciplinary text will be useful to academics and students in political science sociology geography urban studies labour studies European studies and gender studies Roman urban

Value Based Performance Measures Nils Eikermann, 2020-08-19 Nils Eikermann describes the framework conditions for the application of value based performance measures and critically analyses selected ones The disclosure of value based performance indicators is important in order to demonstrate the successful management of a company and to satisfy the increasing information needs of investors However companies adapt the developed theoretical concepts of value based performance measures to their practical needs and thus investors are no longer able to compare the performance of companies In addition there is a variety of different metrics from which companies can choose The empirical study aims to reduce existing research gaps and is divided into three parts the analysis of annual reports of selected European companies the calculation of a standardised value based performance measure and a value relevance study in the form of an association study

Beneficial Ownership in International Tax Law Angelika Meindl-Ringler, 2016-06-07 In international tax law the term beneficial ownership refers to which parties involved in a cross border transaction are entitled to tax treaty benefits However determining beneficial ownership is a complex and often disputed issue subject to different meanings in different countries Archival research on its early use in tax treaties and in the developing OECD Model reveals that its meaning has changed dramatically over the decades leading to new interpretations significantly affecting current tax practice and scholarship This book dedicated to establishing how beneficial ownership should ideally be interpreted compares the use and interpretation of beneficial ownership both current and historical in a wide range of national jurisdictions as well as the EU ultimately shedding a clearer light than has heretofore been available on the meaning of the term In her very thorough analysis of the application of beneficial ownership the author touches on such aspects as the following historical development of the beneficial ownership requirement as used in tax treaties and in the OECD Model Tax Convention on Income and on Capital rules of double taxation conventions application of the OECD's Action Plan on Base Erosion and Profit Shifting BEPS the problem of so called white income use of the substance over form principle attribution of income rules and the role of agents nominees and conduit companies Specific analysis of the use and interpretation of beneficial ownership in a domestic law and treaty context in numerous jurisdictions with particular emphasis on the United Kingdom Australia the United States and Germany is a major feature of the presentation As a thorough guide to determining whether a person claiming tax treaty benefits is the true owner and which parties are excluded from treaty benefits and to what extent this book will be of immeasurable value to lawyers tax authorities policymakers and other professionals working with taxable international transactions of any kind

Drawing After Architecture Carolyn Yerkes, 2017 Why did early modern architects continue copying drawings long after the invention of print should have made such copying obsolete Carolyn Yerkes answers that question in a fresh investigation into the status of architectural drawing in the 16th and 17th centuries Drawing after Architecture Renaissance Drawings and their Reception investigates the status of architectural drawing after the invention of print and explores a vast group of 16th and 17th century manuscripts and collections of drawings that are each part of a larger network of copies Made by French and Italian draftsmen who studied Roman monuments the drawings contain information about the buildings buildings that include the most important ancient and modern works the Pantheon and Saint Peter's that is not known from any other sources But the information that the drawings preserve is only part of their value the drawings also show how that information was recorded transferred and analysed by other draftsmen In the 16th century survey drawing was the key mechanism through which the material past was understood and many 16th and 17th century drawings after ancient architecture are extant Ultimately this book pursues the nature of architectural evidence in that it asks how Renaissance architects used images to explore structures to create biographies and to write history
