American Artifacts of Personal Adornment, 1680-1820 Carolyn L. White, 2005-09-08 Bracelets buckles buttons and beads Clasps combs and chains Items of personal adornment fill museum collections and are regularly uncovered in historical period archaeological excavations But until the publication of this comprehensive volume there has been no basic guide to help curators registrars historians archaeologists or collectors identify this class of objects from colonial and early republican America Carolyn L White helps the reader understand and interpret these artifacts discussing their source manufacture materials function and value in early American life She uses them as a window on personal identity showing how gender age ethnicity and class were often displayed through the objects worn White draws not only on the items themselves but uses their portrayal in art contemporary writings advertisements and business records to assess their meaning to their owners A reference volume for the shelf of anyone interested in early American material culture Over 100 illustrations and tables

Interiors Katarzyna Nowak, Sonia Front, 2010-06-09 The essays gathered in the present collection provide textual explorations of the theoretical borderland between interiors and exteriors undertaken from a variety of perspectives and representing varying approaches and understandings of these terms In the realm of theory the distinction between what we choose to include and what we exclude remains a political choice often fraught with dilemmas that cannot be resolved How to discern between interiors and exteriors Where do we draw dividing lines Do we want to draw them anymore Or alternately can we afford not to divide and discern between the inside and outside between here and there between us and them If the binary divisions so much discredited no longer hold if we must include multiplicity and plurality of readings is any distinction between these dimensions possible Essays collected in the present volume attempt to present a wide plethora of answers to these questions

Jeanette Winterson's Narratives of Desire Shareena Z. Hamzah-Osbourne, 2021-05-06 Putting forward a new theory of fetishism alternative fetishism this book provides an up to date examination of the work of Jeanette Winterson offering fresh perspectives and new insights on the topics of gender sexuality and identity in her writing Combining contemporary theories in psychoanalytical and cultural studies it proposes that a rethinking of fetishism allows Winterson's works to be brought into sharper critical focus by repositioning fetishism as a daily practice in society. In so doing it argues that Winterson's work challenges orthodox normative and contemporary views of fetishism to reveal her own alternative version. Containing the transcript of an email Q & A with Winterson herself and covering the majority of Winterson's oeuvre from her first novel Oranges Are Not the Only Fruit 1985 up to the most recent Frankissstein 2019 the book is divided into three main chapters that each discuss a particular theme in Winterson's fiction: bodily fetishism, food fetishism, and sexual fetishism. While the book's focus is on Winterson, the theoretical framework it proposes can be applied to other authors and disciplines in the Arts and Humanities such as theatre and film, offering new ways of thinking about topics such as fetishism, feminism, psychoanalytical theory, postmodernism, gender, and sexuality.

American Journal of Pharmacy and the Sciences Supporting Public Health, 1908 American Journal of Pharmacy, 1861 Proximate analysis of plants and vegetable substances Friedrich Rochleder, 1862 Teaching Health Humanities Olivia Banner, Nathan Carlin, Thomas R. Cole, 2019-01-23

Teaching Health Humanities expands our understanding of the burgeoning field of health humanities and of what it aspires to be. The volume's contributors describe their different degree programs, the politics and perspectives that inform their teaching, and methods for incorporating newer digital and multimodal technologies into teaching practices. Each chapter lays out theories that guide contributors; pedagogy describes its application to syllabus design and includes, at the finer level, examples of lesson plans, class exercises, and/or textual analyses. Contributions also focus on pedagogies that integrate critical race, feminist, queer, disability, class, and age studies in courses, with most essays exemplifying intersectional approaches to these axes of difference and oppression. The culminating section includes chapters on teaching with digital technology, as well as descriptions of courses that bridge bioethics and music, medical humanities, and podcasts, health humanities, filmmaking, and visual arts in end-of-life care. By collecting scholars from a wide array of disciplinary specialties, professional ranks, and institutional affiliations, the volume offers a snapshot of the diverse ways medical health humanities is practiced today and maps the diverse institutional locations where it is called upon to do work. It provides educators across diverse terrains myriad insights that will energize their teaching.

Post-Queer Politics David V. Ruffolo, 2016-04-08

In Post-Queer Politics Ruffolo looks at the work of Foucault, Butler, Bakhtin, Deleuze, Guattari, and others in his creative refocus on the queer/heteronormative dyad that has largely consumed queer studies and contemporary politics. He offers a radical and intersectional new way of thinking about class, race, sex, gender, sexuality, and ability that extends beyond queer studies to be truly transdisciplinary in its focus and political implications. It will appeal to readers across a range of subjects, including gender and sexuality studies, philosophy, cultural studies, political science, and education.

The Intoxication of Destruction in Theory, Culture and Media Erin K. Stapleton, 2025-10-01

This book examines the desire for and intoxication with destruction as it appears in cultural objects and representation, arguing that all cultural and aesthetic value is fundamentally predicated on its own fragility as well as the living transience of those who make and encounter it Beginning with a philosophy of expenditure after Georges Bataille each chapter maps different operations of destruction in media and culture These operations are expressed and located in representations of human extinction and explosive architecture in execution and in eroticism and in media and digital archives which constitute a further destabilization of the notion of destruction in the dynamic between aspirational immortality and material volatility embedded in the archival systems of digital cultures
