Popular trainer and keynote speaker Marjorie Brody leads readers step by step through planning preparing and delivering presentations of all types. Readers will learn about the homework they should do first how to organize a presentation and develop the content interesting ways to use data how to grab attention and establish credibility plus a wealth of other valuable information. Interested in team presentations Client meetings Conference speaking Brody describes what it takes to make each one successful. But that's not all. She also provides dozens of ways to summarize and remember the most important ideas including planning sheets quick reviews and lists of tips and techniques. This book should be on the bookshelves of anyone who needs to present in their professional career. Part of the Essence of Public Speaking Series Speaking for Impact Shirley E. Nice, 1999 In her book Speaking for Impact Connecting with Every Audience Shirley Nice offers a lifetime of practical advice to all who have ever experienced feeling out of touch with an audience. Whether a small or a large group a classroom a sales meeting or a formal presentation this book reveals the essentials for getting your message across with impact. Speaking for Impact begins by showing each student how to identify his/her own unique impact potential. With a vibrant and colorful style the text then shows how to identify the similarities and differences within audiences and gives specific guidelines for reaching everyone in diverse groups made up of a range and variety of people. Drawing from her own experience with hundreds of groups Nice challenges students to examine the changing nature of today's audiences and the new demands put on speakers. Nice's concluding counsel explains how to create an atmosphere of safety and space and energy for the dynamic connectedness that produces maximum audience impact Motivating Your Audience Hanoch McCarty, 1999 Written by a skilled motivational speaker and educator this concise helpful text illuminates the methods of motivating people to change. Students will learn how to gear their words to audiences that hold certain values but need encouragement to live them to find the best materials for the speech and to present them with passion. With a focus on both the process of motivational speaking as well as internal and external issues Motivating Your Audience Speaking from the Heart offers a wealth of stories and practical advice for speakers at all skill levels Delivering Dynamic Presentations Ralph Hillman, 1999 While important ideas are any speech's most vital requirement they can be either given life by a skillful delivery or obscured by a poor delivery. Professional speaker and university professor Ralph Hillman offers a methodology for both beginning and advanced speakers to use their voice and body to enliven any speech. This concise text provides detailed information about insight into and suggestions for improving one aspect of the speaking process the one that often has the biggest impact delivery.
