Unclaimed Experience Trauma Narrative And History:

Unclaimed Experience Cathy Caruth, 2016-12-15 The pathbreaking work that founded the field of trauma studies In Unclaimed Experience Cathy Caruth proposes that in the widespread and bewildering experience of trauma in our century both in its occurrence and in our attempt to understand it we can recognize the possibility of a history no longer based on simple models of straightforward experience and reference Through the notion of trauma she contends we come to a new understanding that permits history to arise where immediate understanding may not Caruth explores the ways in which the texts of psychoanalysis literature and literary theory both speak about and speak through the profound story of traumatic experience Rather than straightforwardly describing actual case studies of trauma survivors or attempting to elucidate directly the psychiatry of trauma she examines the complex ways that knowing and not knowing are entangled in the language of trauma and in the stories associated with it Caruth's wide ranging discussion touches on Freud's theory of trauma as outlined in Moses and Monotheism and Beyond the Pleasure Principle She traces the notion of reference and the figure of the falling body in de Man Kleist and Kant the narratives of personal catastrophe in Hiroshima mon amour and the traumatic address in Lecompte's reinterpretation of Freud's narrative of the dream of the burning child In this twentieth anniversary edition of her now classic text a substantial new afterword addresses major questions and controversies surrounding trauma theory that have arisen over the past two decades Caruth offers innovative insights into the inherent connection between individual and collective trauma on the importance of the political and ethical dimensions of the theory of trauma and on the crucial place of literature in the theoretical articulation of the very concept of trauma Her afterword serves as a decisive intervention in the ongoing discussions in and about the field

Trauma Cathy Caruth, 1995-06 A distinguished group of analysts and critics offers a compelling look at what literature and the new approaches of theoretical disciplines bring to the understanding of traumatic experiences such as child abuse AIDS and the effects of historical atrocities such as the Holocaust These essays offer fresh approaches on the subject of trauma from both a psychoanalytic and contemporary theoretical point of view Alan Bass Ph D psychoanalyst

Reading Trauma Narratives Laurie Vickroy, 2015-10-30 As part of the contemporary reassessment of trauma that goes beyond

Freudian psychoanalysis Laurie Vickroy theorizes trauma in the context of psychological literary and cultural criticism Focusing on novels by Margaret Atwood William Faulkner Toni Morrison Jeanette Winterson and Chuck Palahniuk she shows how these writers try to enlarge our understanding of the relationship between individual traumas and the social forces of injustice oppression and objectification Further she argues their work provides striking examples of how the devastating effects of trauma whether sexual socioeconomic or racial on individual personality can be depicted in narrative Vickroy offers a unique blend of interpretive frameworks She draws on theories of trauma and narrative to analyze the ways in which her selected texts engage readers both cognitively and ethically immersing them in and yet providing perspective on the flawed thinking and behavior of the traumatized and revealing how the psychology of fear can be a driving force for individuals as well as for society Through this engagement these writers enable readers to understand their own roles in systems of power and how they internalize the ideologies of those systems

Trauma Theory, Trauma Story Sarah Emanuel, 2021-11-08

This work offers an overview of trauma theory's relations to biblical studies In addition to summarizing the theoretical landscape it provides exegetical forays into Ezekiel and in part Exodus and the Eucharist The analysis will engage these materials traumatic ethoi including their connections to trauma informed eating and queerings so as to offer entryways into the wider critical conversation While these exegetical foci may seem arbitrary that is in part the point As readers will see trauma defies sense making Akin to postmodernist poststructuralist intertextualities trauma cannot be flattened into neat narration Trauma is capricious leaving survivors to carry with them multivalent and even paradoxical connections to their experiences This project thus attempts to perform trauma's plurisignification as much as it tries to explain it using a set of traditionally unexamined pairings to do so While not an exhaustive survey on trauma theory and the Bible such work could fill the space of multiple publications the following work provides a representation of both the theory of trauma and its applications within the biblical field

Contemporary Trauma Narratives Jean-Michel Ganteau, Susana Onega, 2014-06-27

This book provides a comprehensive compilation of essays on the relationship between formal experimentation and ethics in a number of generically hybrid or liminal narratives dealing with individual and collective traumas running the spectrum from the testimonial novel and the fictional autobiography to the fake memoir written by a variety of famous more neglected contemporary British Irish US Canadian and German writers Building on the psychological insights and theorizing of the fathers of trauma studies Janet Freud Ferenczi and of contemporary trauma critics and theorists the articles examine the narrative strategies structural experimentations and hybridizations of forms paying special attention to the way in which the texts fight the unrepresentability of trauma by performing rather than representing it The ethicality or unethicity involved in this endeavor is assessed from the combined perspectives of the non foundational non cognitive discursive ethics of alterity inspired by Emmanuel Levinas and the ethics of vulnerability This approach makes Contemporary Trauma Narratives an excellent resource for scholars of contemporary literature trauma studies and literary theory

Partitioned Lives: Narratives of Home, Displacement, and Resettlement features fifteen essays that focus on personal subjective experiences of partition rather than on official accounts. The book analyses fiction, films, and biographical and autobiographical accounts relating to the experience and influence of Partition. It also studies partition-related migrations not only to and from West Pakistan, East Pakistan, and India but also to the West. Essays discuss how partition continues to influence cultural identities both in the subcontinent and among the diaspora. Traumatic Neurosis

Revisited Leslie Chapman, 2025-06-15 This book argues that Freud's theory of the traumatic neuroses can provide a conceptual bridge between the Lacanian idea of an inaugural or founding trauma that constitutes the human subject and the more popular idea that trauma is brought about by external events, for example war or sexual violence. It proposes a new reading of Freud's theory which draws on Lacanian concepts including the Real, jouissance, the idea of suture, and Lacan's deconstruction of Freud's drive theory. It also argues for a cybernetic reading of Lacan's theory of language which he outlined in his second Seminar and for a reappraisal of Freud's concept of Nachträglichkeit as a way to facilitate a better understanding of the retroactive nature of trauma and its relation to language and the drive. In doing so, it offers a challenge to key assumptions underpinning the dominant discourse of trauma, which is exemplified in what the author terms the PTSD paradigm. In particular, it challenges the idea that trauma is something that simply happens to human beings and that its effects that can be eradicated through the construction of various forms of trauma narrative, for example in psychotherapy and different types of collective histories. In the development of this argument, the author also draws on the work of Jean Laplanche, which has previously been underutilised in mainstream Lacanian theory and practice. This book sheds new light on the relationship between the traumatic effects of the signifier and the impact of the external world. It will be of interest to practitioners as well as to students and scholars of psychoanalysis and philosophy. Trauma Narratives in Italian and Transnational Women's Writing Tiziana de Rogatis, Katrin Wehling-Giorgi, 2022-12-14 This edited volume is the first to propose new readings of Italian and transnational female authored texts through the lens of Trauma Studies. Illuminating a space that has so far been left in the shadows Trauma Narratives in Italian and Transnational Women's Writing provides new insights into how the trope of trauma shapes the narrative temporal and linguistic dimension of these works The various contributions delineate a landscape of female authored Italian and transnational trauma narratives and their complex textual negotiation of suffering and pathos from the twentieth century to the present day These zones of trauma engender a new aesthetics and a new reading of history and cultural memory as an articulation of female creativity and resistance against a dominant cultural and social order

Literary Variety and the Writing of History in Britain's Long Twelfth Century Jacqueline M. Burek, 2023 A survey of the different literary forms adopted by history writers after the Conquest exploring why and for what effects they were used Histories of Britain composed during the twelfth century renaissance display a remarkable amount of literary variety Latin varietas Furthermore British historians writing after the Norman Conquest often draw attention to the differing forms of their texts But why would historians of this period associate literary variety with the work of history writing Drawing on theories of literary variety found in classical and medieval rhetoric this book traces how British writers came to believe that varietas could help them construct comprehensive continuous accounts of Britain's past It shows how Latin prose historians such as William of Malmesbury Henry of Huntingdon and Geoffrey of Monmouth filled their texts with a diverse array of literary forms which they carefully selected and ordered in accordance with their broader historiographical aims The pronounced literary variety of these influential histories inspired some Middle English verse chroniclers including Laamon and Robert Mannyng to adopt similar principles in their vernacular poetry By uncovering the rhetorical and historiographical theories beneath their literary variety this book provides a new framework for interpreting the stylistic and organizational choices of medieval historians

German Graphic Narratives and Trauma Elisabeth Krimmer, Maureen Burdock, 2025 This volume explores the representation of political racial sexual and environmental trauma in German language graphic narratives which has thus far received little scholarly attention In recent decades as graphic novels have exploded in popularity and have increasingly been engaged with by scholarship there has been a marked increase in comics that deal with traumatic experiences These experiences arise variously from warfare genocide terrorism racism sexual violence domestic violence illness disability migration natural disasters or climate change among other causes Indeed scholars including Hillary Chute and Gillian Whitlock have argued that graphic narratives are particularly well suited to portraying traumatic experiences through the lens of individual memories This edited volume builds on the emergent body of work on the representation of trauma in graphic narratives but focuses exclusively on German language graphic narratives whose exploration of trauma has so far received little scholarly attention Essays dealing with theoretical and conceptual concerns are joined by analyses of individual creators of graphic narratives including Olivia Vieweg and Volker Reiche In
