Vietnam State War And Revolution 1945 1946:

Vietnam David G. Marr, 2013-04-15 Marr's previous book Vietnam 1945 ends on 2 September when big crowds gathered in Hanoi and Saigon to celebrate Vietnamese independence. This book focuses on the next sixteen months when Vietnam's future course was determined. It recreates in vivid detail what it was like to be there in these dramatic postcolonial moments as the Japanese, British, and Americans faded from view, the DRV began to function and establish an army, the French maneuvered to restore colonialism, but the beginnings of the Cold War swept Vietnam into its orbit with the Chinese Red Army victories and Chinese arms on the border. As with his other books, Marr pioneers the history of war from the Vietnamese perspective. Provided by publisher

Vietnam's Communist Revolution Tuong Vu, 2016-12-22 By tracing the evolving worldview of Vietnamese communists over 80 years as they led Vietnam through wars, social revolution, and peaceful development, this book shows the depth and resilience of their commitment to the communist utopia in their foreign policy. Unearthing new material from Vietnamese archives and publications, this book challenges the conventional scholarship and the popular image of the Vietnamese revolution and the Vietnam War as being driven solely by patriotic inspirations. The revolution not only saw successes in defeating foreign intervention but also failures in bringing peace and development to Vietnam. This was and is the real tragedy of Vietnam. Spanning the entire history of the Vietnamese revolution and its aftermath, this book examines its leaders' early rise to power, the tumult of three decades of war with France, the US, and China, and the stubborn legacies left behind which remain in Vietnam today.

The Road to Dien Bien Phu Christopher Goscha, 2023-08-15 On May 7, 1954, when the bullets stopped and the air stilled in Dien Bien Phu, there was no doubt that Vietnam could fight a mighty colonial power and win. After nearly a decade of war, the country that had been forged in the crucible of the Indochina War had achieved a victory unseen in any other movement for national liberation. In The Road to Dien Bien Phu, historian Christopher Goscha explains the making of this extraordinary battle, telling the first comprehensive history of how Vietnam brought down the French in the Indochina War. Between September 1945, when Ho Chi Minh declared modern Vietnam's birth, and May 1954, when Vietnam moved from a decentralized guerrilla polity to a single party militarized state, Goscha illuminates the making of the militarized nervous system that would realize the victory at Dien Bien Phu. But he is also attuned to how society mobilized behind war communism. This mobilization fortified the single party state and would create modern Vietnam. This book radically changes how we understand both the first Vietnam War and the one the Americans would fight later. Shedding light on a larger arc of communist warfare and statecraft that runs from the former Soviet Union to the communist states of China and North Korea, Goscha tells a global story of how Vietnam came to be.

A Displaced Nation Phi-Van Nguyen, 2024-12-15 In A Displaced Nation Phi Van Nguyen argues that the displacement of eighty thousand mostly Roman Catholic evacuees from North Vietnam in 1954 had a profound impact on the war opposing Saigon on both Hanoi and on the evacuees themselves Assisting with the transportation emergency relief and resettlement of the evacuees allowed diverse organizations and the United States to support Saigon This transnational mobilization also convinced the evacuees the free world would never let Vietnam remain divided Many people see the Vietnam wars spanning from 1945 to 1989 as separate conflicts But Nguyen demonstrates that the evacuees experienced a continuous civil war A Displaced Nation shows the evacuees felt so validated by transnational support that they thought they could use this external help to return one day to the north This belief was not constant nor were the strategies to achieve it the same for all but through their political activism and action the evacuees showed they were willing to seize any opportunity to oppose Hanoi during the subsequent decades even once established overseas
