

Unit 12 Civil Rights and the Vietnam War Unit Test

1. Understand how segregation impacted the below activities. U9 L1 S1-4
 - a. Voting - African Americans who attempted to register to vote faced violence, harassment, and would even sometimes be arrested.
 - b. Dining - Some dining establishments wouldn't serve African Americans at all, while others would have segregated and specific sitting areas for African Americans.
 - c. Bus Rides - African Americans would be forced to sit in the back where it was more unsafe and dirty, while Whites would sit in the front.
2. How were the approaches of Martin Luther King Jr. and Malcom X different? U9 L3 S1-6

Martin Luther King Jr. did peaceful protests, while Malcom X on the other hand believed it was justified to fight violence with violence.

3. How did people respond to the assassinations of Malcom X and Martin Luther King Jr? U9 L3 S6-7

There were protests in many neighborhoods.

4. Read an excerpt from John F. Kennedy's inauguration speech and use it to explain JFK's belief about Americans' personal responsibility and the key difference between him and the leaders that came before him. U9 L4 S1-3

John F. Kennedy believed that Americans' personal responsibility was to help and make the world a better place. Furthermore, that America, and Americans "shall pay any price, bear any burden, meet any hardship, support any friend, oppose any foe to assure the survival and success of liberty." He also believes that we should all "ask not what your country can do for you," but instead "ask what you can do for your country." This can be seen in his establishment of the U.S. Agency for International Development to oversee foreign aid, as well as his founding of the Peace Corps where he recruited young people to work on humanitarian projects in Asia, Africa, and Latin America to increase food supplies there; as well as improve the health care and education system. This was to encourage the developing nations to align themselves with the United States rather than the Soviet Union, or China. His predecessors, on the other hand, enacted military power to persuade others to join them through showing them force.

5. How did the Cuban Missile Crisis impact the views of Kennedy's administration? U9 L4 S5

It showed Kennedy's confidence and calm in a high-pressure situation.

The Vietnam War Michael P. Sullivan, 2014-07-15 The war in Vietnam achieved almost none of the goals the American decision makers formulated and it cost more than 56 000 American lives Yet until recently Americans have preferred to ignore the causes and consequences of this disaster by treating the war as an aberration in United States foreign policy an unfortunate but unique mistake What are the lessons of Vietnam Many previous discussions have focused on narrow or misleading questions rehashing military decisions for example or offering blow by blow accounts of Washington infighting or castigating foreign policy decision makers Michael Sullivan undertakes instead a broad and systematic treatment of the American experience in Vietnam using a variety of theoretical perspectives to study several aspects of that experience including the decision making process and decision makers perceptions of the war public opinion and mood before during and after the war and the Vietnam War in relation to the Cold War and to power structures and patterns of violence in the international system The major goal of The Vietnam War A Study in the Making of American Policy is to show that the American experience not only in Vietnam but elsewhere in the world must be understood as an integral part of the processes of both American foreign policy and international politics Sullivan demonstrates the importance of using a variety of empirical and quantitative evidence to study foreign policy and of relating a specific historical situation like the Vietnam War to broader theories of international relations

US Army Psychiatry in the Vietnam War: New Challenges in Extended Counterinsurgency Warfare Norman M. Camp, 2015-03-15 NOTE NO FURTHER DISCOUNT FOR THIS PRODUCT OVERSTOCK SALE Significantly reduced list price During Vietnam War 1965 1973 the US Army suffered a severe breakdown in soldier morale and discipline in Vietnam matters that are not only at the heart of military leadership but also ones that overlap with the mission of Army psychiatry The psychosocial strain on deployed soldiers and their leaders in Vietnam especially during the second half of the war produced a wide array of individual and group symptoms that thoroughly tested Army psychiatrists and mental health colleagues there This book seeks to consolidate a history of the military psychiatric experience in Vietnam through assembling and synthesizing extant information from a wide variety of sources documenting the success and failure of Army's psychiatry in responding to the psychiatric and behavioral problems that changed and expanded as the war became protracted and bitterly controversial. Mental health professionals, especially psychiatrists in both military and civilian professions as well as military historians researching the Vietnam era, may be interested in this volume. This book tells the mostly forgotten story of the accelerating mental health problems that arose among the troops sent to fight in South Vietnam, especially the morale discipline and heroin crisis that ultimately characterized the second half of the war. This situation was unprecedented in U.S. military history and dangerous and reflected the fact that during the war, America underwent its most divisive period since the Civil War, and as a result, the war became bitterly controversial. The author is a career Army psychiatrist who led a psychiatric unit in Vietnam. In the years following his return, he was dismayed to discover that the Army had conducted no formal review of this alarming situation from the standpoint of military psychiatry and had lost or destroyed all of the pertinent clinical records. In addition to permitting a study of the psychological wounds and their treatment in Vietnam, these records would have been priceless in the treatment of the legions of veterans who presented serious adjustment problems and Post-Traumatic Stress Disorder. As a consequence, Dr. Camp has been relentless in combing the professional, civilian, and surviving military literature, including unpublished documents, to construct a compelling narrative documenting the successes and failures of Army psychiatry and the Army leadership in Vietnam in responding to these psychiatric and behavioral challenges. The result is a book that is both scholarly and intensely personal, includes vivid case material and anecdotes from colleagues who also served there, and is replete with illustrations and correspondence. It presents the story of Vietnam in a fresh manner through the psychiatrist's eyes and sensibilities.
