Multilingualism and Translanguaging in Chinese Language Classrooms Danping Wang, 2018-11-03 This book presents new research on Chinese as a Second Language CSL teaching from an ethnographic classroom study on classroom translanguaging practices that highlights the policy and pedagogical implications of adopting a creative and principled multilingual approach Drawing on a case study from Hong Kong it analyses naturally observed language patterns in CSL classrooms and the attitudes of students and teachers towards prescribed classroom language policies and thereby demonstrates the importance of mixing Chinese English and students home languages to achieve successful second language learning It discusses the nature and guiding principles for classroom translanguaging research and provides research tools that will enable second language teachers to examine their own language practices The author argues persuasively that second language teaching practices and policies must reflect the current reality of language use and the diverse learning needs of multilingual students This book will appeal to teacher educators and researchers in fields such as second language acquisition foreign language teaching and language policy

Chinese as a Second Language Research from Different Angles, 2024-04-02 A crucial question for Chinese as a Second Language research is how to help elevate Chinese language teaching methodology to the level of other world language methodologies such as English Spanish and German This work goes in two directions One explores how to apply research results achieved in Chinese linguistics to Chinese language teaching and the other is engaged in creating a strong applied linguistics research field that supports Chinese language teaching

CASLAR scholars are mainly involved in the latter one This book is a representative sample of their research endeavors

Becoming Native to Win the Natives Tabor Laughlin, 2016-04-29 In the author's ten years living in China Chinese friends and foreign friends alike have told him that in many ways he is more like a Chinese person than an American He sees himself as an egg which is white on the outside and yellow Chinese inside For cross cultural ministry we learn from the apostle Paul I have become all things to all men so that by all possible means I might save some 1 Cor 9:22 Paul's purpose in becoming all things to all men is so that some may be saved We can see this displayed in his preaching to the Athenians in Acts 17 how he becomes a local by relating to them through their culture This book first looks at how we are to imitate Christ's love and humility to effectively love the locals to whom we are ministering Then the book covers many specific aspects of life abroad and how we can better live like the locals in many areas that some may be saved Though this book is particularly targeted for those readers who are ministering cross culturally it is also a very beneficial book for Christians aiming to be light in their home country
