Easy-to-use, highly accurate, rugged, and reliable the iM-100 manual total station is perfect for entry-level site layout and surveying. The iM-100 is built to be your hardest worker, made to withstand even the toughest conditions and providing up to 28 hours of battery life.

Like all of our products, you can customize it to meet your needs and create your own workflows.

- Fast, accurate, and powerful EDM
- Reflectorless up to 800 meters
- Dual-axis compensation
- Waterproof IP66 rating
- Up to 28 hours in battery life

Featuring a new top line EDM, the iM-100 is fast, accurate, and powerful. It has 1.5 mm / 2 ppm accuracy and is able to measure up to 5,000 meters to standard prisms, and in reflectorless mode measures up to 800 meters at an incredible 2.0 mm + 2 ppm accuracy.

Dual-axis compensation ensures stable measurements even on rough terrain. The compensator automatically corrects both horizontal and vertical angles and allows for more accurate instrument setups and measurements.

Davis,2018-12-31 This volume represents the product of 25 years of study conducted by the Pylos Regional Archaeological Project a multidisciplinary diachronic archaeological expedition formally organized in 1990 to investigate the history of prehistoric and historic settlement in western Messenia in Greece An introduction setting the project in context and an extensive gazetteer of sites precede a collection of eight previously published articles which appeared in Hesperia the journal of the American School of Classical Studies at Athens between 1997 and 2010 Taken together these contributions document a comprehensive methodological approach by an archaeological project that was one of the first to incorporate new technologies such as digital mapping tools and online databases The results of such a long term and multifaceted research program illuminate the shifting relationships between humans their landscapes and historical forces both local and distant The Pylos Regional Archaeological Project A Retrospective provides an invaluable resource not only for those interested in the history and development of southwestern Greece but also for researchers interested in exploring the full range of methodological approaches to archaeological survey Survey Review ,1995 Surveying for Civil and Mine Engineers John Walker,Joseph L. Awange,2017-08-04 Indeed the most important part of engineering work and also of other scientific work is the determination of the method of attacking the problem whatever it may be whether an experimental investigation or a theoretical calculation It is by the choice of a suitable method of attack that intricate problems are reduced to simple phenomena and then easily solved Charles Proteus Steinmetz The structure of this book is to provide a sequence of theory workshops and practical field sessions that mimic a simple survey project designed for civil and mining engineers The format of the book is based on a number of years of experience gained in presenting the course at undergraduate and post graduate levels The course is designed to guide engineers through survey tasks that the engineering industry feels is necessary for them to have a demonstrated competency in surveying techniques data gathering and reduction and report presentation The course is not designed to make engineers become surveyors It is designed to allow an appreciation of the civil and mine engineering surveyor's job There are many excellent text books available on the subject of engineering surveying but they address the surveyor not the engineer Hopefully this book will distil many parts of the standard text book A lot of the material presented is scattered through very disparate sources and has been gathered into this book to show what techniques lie behind a surveyor's repertoire of observational and computational skills and provide an understanding of the decisions made in terms of the presentation of results The course has been designed to run over about 6 weeks of a semester providing a half unit load which complements a computer aided design CAD based design project
