Travel in Twentieth-Century French and Francophone Cultures Charles Forsdick, 2005-05-19 This book is one of the first studies of twentieth century travel literature in French tracking the form from the colonial past to the postcolonial present Whereas most recent explorations of travel literature have addressed English language material Forsdick s study complements these by presenting a body of material that has previously attracted little attention ranging from conventional travel writing to other cultural phenomena such as the Colonial Exposition of 1931 in which changing attitudes to travel are apparent Travel in Twentieth Century French and Francophone Cultures explores the evolution of attitudes to cultural diversity explaining how each generation seems simultaneously to foretell the collapse and reinvention of elsewhere It also follows the progressive renegotiation of understandings of travel and travel literature across the twentieth century focusing in particular on the emergence of travel narratives from France s former colonies The book suggests that an exclusive colonial understanding of travel as a practice defined along the lines of class gender and ethnicity has slowly been transformed so that travel has become an enabling figure encapsulated in notions such as James Clifford s traveling cultures central to analyses of contemporary global culture Engaging initially with Victor Segalen s early twentieth century reflection on travel and exoticism and Albert Kahn s Archives de la Plan te Forsdick goes on to examine a series of interrelated texts and phenomena early African travel narratives inter war ethnography post war accounts of Citro n 2CV journeys the travel stories of immigrant workers the work of Nicholas Bouvier and the Pour une litt rature voyageuse movement narratives of recent walking journeys and contemporary Polynesian literature In delineating a francophone space stretching far beyond metropolitan France itself the book contributes to new understandings of French and Francophone Studies and will also be of interest to those interested in issues of comparatism as well as colonial and postcolonial culture and identity

Colonial Transactions Florence Bernault, 2019-05-15 In Colonial Transactions Florence Bernault moves beyond the racial divide that dominates colonial studies of Africa Instead she illuminates the strange and frightening imaginaries that colonizers and colonized shared on the ground Bernault looks at Gabon from the late nineteenth century to the present historicizing the most vivid imaginations and modes of power in Africa today French obsessions with cannibals the emergence of vampires and witches in the Gabonese imaginary and the use of human organs for fetishes Struggling over objects bodies agency and values colonizers and colonized entered relations that are better conceptualized as transactions Together they also shared an awareness of how the colonial situation broke down moral orders and forced people to use the evil side of power This foreshadowed the ways in which people exercise agency in contemporary Africa as well as the proliferation of magical fears and witchcraft anxieties in present day Gabon Overturning theories of colonial and postcolonial nativism this book is essential reading for historians and anthropologists of witchcraft power value and the body The Journal of Education ,1900
