Tourism in the Muslim World Noel Scott, 2010-10-28 Provides a synthesis of thought on an influential issue for tourism and a point of focus for tourism researchers managers and developers in countries such as the United Arab Emirates Jordan Egypt Maldives and Turkey as well as the Western world Tourism in Islamic Countries Heydar Hussain, 2016-09-15 Currently tourism has become a popular global leisure activity and it is vital for many countries such as Malaysia Thailand Lebanon Egypt Spain Greece due to the large intake of money for business with their goods and services Tourism industry is always overstated by Islamic attributes especially Islamic belief for its special rules and regulations The outcomes of Islamic tourism may have a wider pertinence beyond the special circumstances of this country Muslims make up around 25 per cent of the world's population with significant numbers in practically all countries of the world Tourism is a major market in Muslim countries such as Morocco Turkey Egypt and Malaysia nevertheless less than 10% of international tourism returns goes to this market From a tourism perspective there are many significant reasons to study tourism and the Muslim world The annual religious pilgrimage the Hajj performed in Saudi Arabia is obligatory at some point in the life of every Muslim of sufficient means In many nations Islam is the foundation of society and order of law and its principles underpin considerations of tourism This industry has been increasingly embraced by developing countries as a means of economic diversification and Islamic countries seek the same end This leads to the interaction of religious beliefs and choices about the types of tourism that may be desirable resulting in its development potentially becoming a political issue Tourism and Islam is a very important issue therefore there is a need for a comprehensive research on Islamic attributes and its effect on the motivational factors and Islamic tourists' satisfaction as well as destination loyalty In terms of targeting Islamic tourists tourism industry in Islamic world should focus the Islamic attributes available for the tourists to keep them satisfied Tourism in Islamic Countries is concerned with the effects of religion on tourism development in Muslim countries Aspects of the relationship between Islam and tourism are investigated overall and issues of tourism policies management and marketing and community involvement are discussed It examines the dynamics that drive changes in the religious political landscape of the Muslim world Women in Tourism in Asian Muslim Countries Nataša Slak Valek, Hamed Almuhrzi, 2021-03-15 This book focuses on women in tourism in Muslim countries specifically where a woman can be seen as a tourism consumer or a woman producing tourism This book discusses the role of women in the Muslim world and finds that socio-culturally Islam has a greater impact on women than men The process of identity construction and the religious values of women have also been extensively researched But little is known about the role of Muslim women in the tourism industry and this book addresses these themes in the Asian context This book explores these ideas as defined key categories Muslim women from Asia travelling to a non-Muslim country non-Muslim women travelling to Asian Muslim countries and Women working in the tourism field in Muslim countries This book highlights Asian countries as holding a complex mixture of cultures and identities

Contemporary Muslim Travel Cultures C. Michael Hall, Siamak Seyfi, S. Mostafa Rasoolimanesh, 2022-07-26 This timely volume brings together various issues in Muslim consumer cultures and provides a comprehensive account of Muslim tourism and tourist behaviour Islam is a major international religion and Muslims are a majority of the population in many countries in Asia the Middle East and North Africa The growth of a substantial middle class the development of Islamic consumer cultures rising Muslim market consumption in non Muslim majority destinations and the growing significance of intra Muslim traffic and rising outbound tourism expenditure in emerging Muslim markets have all contributed to substantial interest in Muslim tourism However travel by Muslims is about far more than the Hajj and Umrah as important as they are as acts of devotion Instead although often portrayed in the West as a monolithic religion Muslim travel and leisure behaviour is very diverse with different traditions and cultures leading to a range of expressions of tourism related consumption culture and practices Drawing on a range of empirical studies undertaken in different social and economic contexts and countries this book provides a well balanced portrayal of the Muslim tourism experience and practices This book makes a substantial contribution to an improved understanding of Muslim travel culture and will be required reading for anyone interested in this fast growing market

Islamic Tourism Ahmad Jamal, Kevin Griffin, Razaq Raj, 2018-12-14 Islamic tourism is an increasingly important market sector This book provides practical applications models and illustrations of religious tourism and pilgrimage management from a variety of international perspectives supported by case studies

Islamic Tourism Heydar Hussain, 2016-04 Tourism is a complicated concept that covers a wide range of social behavioural economic political cultural and environmental considerations The concept of tourism consists of a set of activities services and benefits which all give tourists particular experiences Islam is considered a major tourism market globally however special values of Muslims who have particular needs in their system of beliefs have not been well defined in the tourism market Islamic tourism is all marketing and product development efforts that are directed at Muslims even without completely religious motivations Efforts that emphasize the significance of Muslim and non Muslim tourists as new markets and destinations for tourism In other words such efforts try to promote tourism among Muslims develop new tourism destinations and strengthen inter organization and inter government cooperation in the Islamic World The religious conservative concept for Islamic tourism has not yet been theoretically articulated But various opinions and remarks in the discussions on the future of tourism in the Arab and Islam worlds as well as some practices of hotels managements indicate that articulations and implementations are just a matter of time The whole idea is based on the conservative interpretation and understanding of Islam Merging elements of the extremely conservative Islamic lifestyle with the modern tourism industry could indeed present new tourism options spaces and spheres Excluding the fundamental isolationistic views which

reject practically any tourism activities beyond pilgrimage the religious conservative concepts may be described as community tourism Islamic resorts and hotels as well as Islamic destinations and programs are shaping some tourist activities Islamic resorts funded and owned by Islamic nance institutions alcohol free accommodations no in door disco nightlife hotels gendersegregated tness and sport facilities conservative in door dress codex availability of prayerrooms on site women oors and Islamic entertainment programs Many elements of this concept are indeed implemented in the domestic tourism in Saudi Arabia and Iran Halal tourism is a subcategory of tourism which is geared towards Muslim families who abide by rules of Islam The hotels in such destinations do not serve alcohol and have separate swimming pools and spa facilities for men and women Malaysia Turkey and many more countries are trying to attract Muslim tourists from all over the world o ering facilities in accordance with the religious beliefs of Muslim tourists The Halal tourism industry also provides ights where no alcohol or pork products are served prayer timings are announced and religious programs are broadcast as part of entertainment o ered on board The cultural concept for Islamic tourism includes visions and ideas that outline the inclusion of Islamic religiouscultural sites in tourism programs with pedagogical and self con dence building elements It tries to encourage a re orientation inside the tourist destinations towards less consumption and western culture loaded sites towards more Islamic historical religious and cultural sites The economic concept for Islamic tourism is an extension and expansion oriented concept which focuses on the importance of intra Muslim and intra Arab tourism in terms of inclusion of new tourist markets and tourist destinations The economic concept is the most wide spread and widely discussed in the Arab and Muslim worlds at di erent levels It considers the Muslim countries as one of the emerging tourist markets of the future with huge economic demographic and destination potential This book Islamic Tourism focuses on such issues as engagement by Muslims places Islamic destinations products residential places foods and beverage dimensions economic cultural religious etc and managing service processes marketing and ethical issues
