Zheng He China And The Oceans In The Early Ming Dynasty 1405 1:

Zheng He Edward L. Dreyer, 2007 This new biography part of Longman's World Biography series of the Chinese explorer Zheng He sheds new light on one of the most important what if questions of early modern history why a technically advanced China did not follow the same path of development as the major European powers Written by China scholar Edward L Dreyer Zheng He outlines what is known of the eunuch Zheng He's life and describes and analyzes the early 15th century voyages on the basis of the Chinese evidence Locating the voyages firmly within the context of early Ming history it addresses the political motives of Zheng He's voyages and how they affected China's exclusive attitude to the outside world in subsequent centuries

The Treasures Ships. Ming China on the seas: history of the Fleet that could conquer the world and vanished into thin air Stefano Cariolato, 2017-12-18 In 1400 an immense Chinese fleet of hundreds of ships and tens of thousands of men sailed through the seas reaching Indonesia India Persia Arabia and Africa sent by a proud emperor to bring to the world the glory and the power of the Ming was commanded by the most famous of the Chinese admirals an eunuch named Zheng He The ships carried valuable books precious fabrics delicate and beautiful ceramics in addition to gold and silver destined for the princes of the visited countries and were taking back in China exotic merchandise to show at court with the ambassadors of the Asian world who prostrated themselves in submission for this reason they were called Treasures Ships The history and descriptions of the peoples met are presented based on the news collected by previous and following travellers as well as by the chroniclers who followed the fleet leaving a testimony of the voyages that had been accomplished Despite the fact that the surviving information is very limited this book narrates the missions of the Fleet of the Treasures between 1405 and 1433 attempting to reconstruct the routes likely to have been followed on the basis of the sea and wind conditions phased by the monsoon cycle and detected today with precision by the satellites After a thirty year long endeavour the Chinese retired from the sea cancelled the travels reports destroyed the ships renouncing to sail and remained helpless in face of the penetration of European Navies before and of the Japanese aggression afterward Today China is currently rebuilding a large fleet that is already carrying its weight in home and neighbouring waters and its flag in the oceans retracing the endeavour accomplished 600 years ago

China's Second Capital - Nanjing under the Ming, 1368-1644 Jun Fang, 2014-05-23 This book is a study of the dual capital system of Ming dynasty China 1368 1644 with a focus on the administrative functions of the auxiliary Southern Capital Nanjing It argues that the immense geographical expanse of the Chinese empire and the poor communication infrastructure of pre modern times necessitated the establishment of an additional capital administration for effective control of the Ming realm The existence of the Southern Capital which has been dismissed by scholars as redundant and insignificant was the author argues justified by its ability to assist the primary Northern Capital better control the southern part of the imperial land The practice of maintaining auxiliary capitals where the bureaucratic structures of the primary capital were replicated in varying degrees was a unique and valuable approach to effecting bureaucratic control over vast territory in pre modern conditions Nanjing translates into English as Southern Capital and Beijing as Northern Capital Zheng He's Art of Collaboration Hum Sin Hoon,2012 Know your enemies know yourself advised Sun Zi in his famous Art of War AoW In contrast the legendary Admiral Zheng He would have said Know your collaborators know yourself and this would be the essence of his Art of Collaboration AoC This book offers a fresh new approach to doing business and providing leadership in the twenty first century where Zheng He s peaceful and win win collaborative paradigm present in his AoC provides an alternative to the aggressive and antagonistic mindset inherent in Sun Zi s AoW The author has culled from the existing literature on the historical cultural diplomatic and maritime oriented Zheng He connected the dots of his discovery of a managerial Zheng He and wrote this book to present both the big message of Zheng He s Art of Collaboration as well as an understanding of Zheng He s specific work as a leader and manager The Cambridge History of the Pacific Ocean: Volume 1, The Pacific Ocean to 1800 Ryan Tucker Jones,Matt K.

Matsuda,2023-01-05 Volume I of The Cambridge History of the Pacific Ocean provides a wide ranging survey of Pacific history to 1800 It focuses on varied concepts of the Pacific environment and its impact on human history as well as tracing the early exploration and colonization of the Pacific the evolution of Indigenous maritime cultures after colonization and the disruptive arrival of Europeans Bringing together a diversity of subjects and viewpoints this volume introduces a broad variety of topics engaging fully with emerging environmental and political conflicts over Pacific Ocean spaces These essays emphasize the impact of the deep history of interactions on and across the Pacific to the present day Antiquarianism and Intellectual Life in Europe and China, 1500-1800 Peter N. Miller,Francois Louis,2012-06-13 This book is a project in comparative history but along two distinct axes one historical and the other historiographical Its purpose is to constructively juxtapose the early modern European and Chinese approaches to historical study that have been called antiquarian As an exercise in historical recovery the essays in this volume amass new information about the range of antiquarian type scholarship on the past on nature and on peoples undertaken at either end of the Eurasian landmass between 1500 and 1800 As a historiographical project the book challenges the received and often very much under conceptualized use of the term antiquarian in both European and Chinese contexts Readers will not only learn more about the range of European and Chinese scholarship on the past and especially the material past but they will also be able to integrate some of the historiographical observations and corrections into new ways of conceiving of the history of historical scholarship in Europe since the Renaissance and to reflect on the impact of these European terms on Chinese approaches to the Chinese past This comparison is a two way street with the European tradition clarified by knowledge of Chinese practices and Chinese approaches better understood when placed alongside the European ones Martial Spectacles of the Ming Court David M. Robinson,2020-10-26 Like most empires the Ming court sponsored grand displays of dynastic strength and military prowess Covering the first two centuries of the Ming dynasty 1368 1644 Martial Spectacles of the Ming Court explores how the royal hunt polo matches archery contests equestrian demonstrations and the imperial menagerie were represented in poetry prose and portraiture This study reveals that martial spectacles were highly charged sites of contestation where Ming emperors and senior court ministers staked claims about rulership ruler minister relations and the role of the military in the polity Simultaneously colorful entertainment prestigious social events and statements of power martial spectacles were intended to make manifest the ruler s personal generosity keen discernment and respect for family tradition They were however subject to competing interpretations that were often beyond the emperor s control or even knowledge By situating Ming martial spectacles in the wider context of Eurasia David Robinson brings to light the commensurability of the Ming court with both the Mongols and Manchus but more broadly with other early modern courts such as the Timurids the Mughals and the Ottomans

The Shenzhen Experiment Juan Du,2020-01-07 A rural borderland just forty years ago today Shenzhen is a city of twenty million and a technology hub This success is attributed to its status as a Special Economic Zone but no other SEZs compare Juan Du looks to the past to understand why It turns out that Shenzhen is no prefab instant city but a place influenced by deep local history

Comparative Grand Strategy Thierry Balzacq,Peter Dombrowski,Simon Reich,2019-05-28 This book develops a new approach in explaining how a nation s Grand Strategy is constituted how to assess its merits and how grand strategies may be comparatively evaluated within a broader framework The volume responds to three key problems common to both academia and policymaking First the literature on the concept of grand strategy generally focuses on the United States offering no framework for comparative analysis Indeed many proponents of US grand strategy suggest that the concept can only be applied at most to a very few great powers such as China and Russia Second characteristically it remains prescriptive rather than explanatory ignoring the central conundrum of why differing countries respond in contrasting ways to similar pressures Third it often understates the significance of domestic politics and policymaking in the formulation of grand strategies emphasizing mainly systemic pressures This book addresses these problems It seeks to analyze and explain grand strategies through the intersection of domestic and international politics in ten countries grouped distinctively as great powers The G5 regional powers Brazil and India and pivotal powers hostile to each other who are able to destabilize the global system Iran Israel and Saudi Arabia The book thus employs a comparative framework that describes and explains why and how domestic actors and mechanisms coupled with external pressures create specific national strategies Overall the book aims to fashion a valid cross contextual framework for an emerging research program on grand strategic analysis

Iran and Persianate Culture in the Indian Ocean World Andrew Peacock,2025-02-06 The first interdisciplinary study of the history of contact between Iranians and the peoples and polities of the Indian Ocean Most of the historiography of the Iranian world focuses on interactions and migrations between Iran Central Asia and India Nonetheless this Iranian world was also closely connected to the maritime one of the Indian Ocean While scholarship has drawn attention to diverse elements of these latter interactions ranging from the claims to Shirazi descent of East African communities to

Persian elements in Malay literature and Iranian communities of merchants in China such studies have remained largely isolated from one another The consensus of historiography on the Indian Ocean presents it as an Arabic cosmopolis or in earlier times a Sanskrit one The aim of this book is thus to bring together scholars working on disparate aspects of Persianate interactions with the Indian Ocean world from antiquity to modern times to provide a more rounded picture of both the history of the Persianate world broadly conceived and that of the Indian Ocean The book brings together a collection of internationally renowned scholars from a variety of disciplines including archaeology history literature linguistics art history and covers interactions in Iran s political and commercial relations with the Indian Ocean world in history Persian speaking communities in the Indian Ocean world Persian ate elements in Indian Ocean languages and literatures Persian texts dealing with the Indian Ocean and connections in material culture
