Management Science in Hospitality and Tourism is a timely and unique book focusing on management science applications. The first section of the book introduces the concept of management science application in hospitality and tourism and related issues to set the stage for subsequent sections. Section II focuses on management science applications with conceptual pieces, empirical applications and best practices with examples coming from different parts of the world and settings. The last section ends with a chapter focusing on challenges and future research directions. This book goes beyond revenue management topics and presents a broad range of topics in management science applications as they relate to hospitality and tourism cases. Researchers and students in hospitality and tourism will find this book very useful since it contains chapters on data analytics, e-commerce and technology, revenue and yield management, optimization methods, resource allocation, goal programming, dynamic programming, Markov chain models, trends analysis and detection, measuring potential and attractiveness in tourism development, performance measures and use of indices in hospitality and tourism and more. There is a heightened interest in these areas of business applications in today's data-driven business environment and this book addresses that interest. This book is the only comprehensive text on management science applications in hospitality and tourism. It will help managers and hospitality and tourism students as future managers to develop an in-depth understanding of the importance of data analysis, interpretation and generating information and intelligence for decision making. It covers a broad range of applications representing different geographic regions of the world.

Advances in Tourism Destination Marketing Metin Kozak, Juergen Gnoth, Luisa L.A. Andreu, 2009-09-10. This volume provides original insight into the operational opportunities, challenges and constraints in managing Tourism Destination Marketing. It explores how the various tourist destination systems, including tourist places as seen by the tourist public and private tourism organisations and the social and physical environment, can effectively communicate and co-operate together at a profit for each. Advances in Destination Marketing offers a comprehensive review of a wide range of aspects related to marketing tourism products, including networks in destinations, consumer experiences in destinations, destination branding, destination image, events in destinations and destination tourism products. Throughout the book, a network analysis perspective is applied to offer alternative solutions of how each system can share network knowledge and system knowledge so profits can be created effectively and maximised. The exploration of new topics such as Destination Networks and Destination Branding, as well as original international empirical research and case studies from well-known researchers in the area, provides new thinking on Marketing Tourism Destinations. The relevance of the arguments and the salient conclusions are valuable in the study of an ever-dynamic and burgeoning industry. This stimulating volume will be of interest to higher-level students, academics, researchers within Tourism and practitioners in the industry.

Progress in Tourism Marketing Metin Kozak, Luisa Andreu, 2007-06-07. The aim of this book are two-fold: 1. to evaluate the current progress of theoretical approaches to tourism marketing and 2. to show the ways to further develop the concept of tourism marketing for application within tourist destinations and individual businesses and evaluate its potential impact on performance improvement The structure is based upon the inclusion of an introduction and four main parts namely IT marketing destination competitiveness image measurement and consumer behaviour There is a brief introduction for each part prior to the discussion of specific chapters just to make the readers familiar with their content The editors believe that there is a need for information on how to better apply both traditional and contemporary marketing tools in order to be more competitive within the international arena
