With A Crooked Stick The Films Of Oscar Micheaux:

With a Crooked Stick—The Films of Oscar Micheaux J. Ronald Green, 2004 Readers will find this an invaluable guide to the preoccupations and features of Micheaux's remarkable career and the insight it provides into the African American experience of the 1920s and 30s With a Crooked Stick J. Ronald Green, 2004 With a crooked stick filmmaker Oscar Micheaux 1884-1951 sought to hit a straight lick by stressing the strategic importance of class mobility or uplift for African Americans A theme in all of his more than 40 feature length black produced black directed black cast and black audience films uplift would allow for the better things in life fast cars and fancy clothes freedom of belief financial security and an unencumbered intellectual life Although racism was an impediment to uplift for Micheaux and other African Americans race as a category was of a secondary order for him in the larger game of class In With a Crooked Stick J Ronald Green pursues this seeming contradiction in a detailed analysis of each of Micheaux's 15 surviving films He presents critical commentary on each film's plot and action and its contribution to the overall theme of uplift Readers will also find this an invaluable guide to the preoccupations and features of Micheaux's remarkable career and the insight it provides into the African American experience of the 1920s and 30s Forgotten African American Firsts Hans Ostrom, J. David Macey Jr., 2023-03-16

Winner of the 2024 RUSA Outstanding Reference Award This book introduces students to African American innovators and their contributions to art entertainment sports politics religion business and popular culture While the achievements of such individuals as Barack Obama Toni Morrison and Thurgood Marshall are well known many accomplished African Americans have been largely forgotten or deliberately erased from the historical record in America This volume introduces students to those African Americans whose successes in entertainment business sports politics and other fields remain poorly understood Dr Charles Drew whose pioneering research on blood transfusions saved thousands of lives during World War II Mae Jemison an engineer who in 1992 became the first African American woman to travel in outer space and Ethel Waters the first African American to star in her own television show are among those chronicled in Forgotten African American Firsts With nearly 150 entries across 17 categories this book has been carefully curated to showcase the inspiring stories of African Americans whose hard work courage and talent have led the course of history in the United States and around the world Small-Town Dreams John E. Miller, 2014-03-28 We live these days in a virtual nation of cities and celebrities dreaming a small town America rendered ever stranger by purveyors of nostalgia and dark visionaries from Sherwood Anderson to David Lynch And yet it is the small town that world of local character and neighborhood lore that dreamed the America we know today and the small town boy like those whose stories this book tells who made it real In these life stories beginning in 1890 with frontier historian Frederick Jackson Turner and moving up to the present with global shopkeeper Sam Walton a history of middle America unfolds as entrepreneurs and teachers like Henry Ford George Washington Carver and Walt Disney artists and entertainers like Thomas Hart Benton Grant Wood Carl Sandburg and Johnny Carson political figures like William McKinley

William Jennings Bryan and Ronald Reagan and athletes like Bob Feller and John Wooden by turns engender and illustrate the extraordinary cultural shifts that have transformed the Midwest and through the Midwest the nation and the world Many of these men are familiar icons even Ford and Reagan certainly Ernie Pyle Sinclair Lewis James Dean and Lawrence Welk and others like artists Oscar Micheaux and John Steuart Curry economist Alvin Hansen and composer Meredith Willson less so But in their stories as John E Miller tells them all appear in a new light unique in their backgrounds and accomplishments united only in the way their lives reveal the persisting shaping power of place and particularly the Midwest on the cultural imagination and national consciousness In a thoroughly engaging style Miller introduces us to the small town Midwestern boys who became these all American characters privileging us with insights that pierce the public images of politicians and businessmen thinkers and entertainers alike From the smell of the farm the sounds and silences of hamlets and county seats the schoolyard athletics and classroom instruction and theatrical performance we follow these men to their moments of inspiration innovation and fame observing the workings of the small town past in their very different relationships with the larger world Their stories reveal in an intimate way how profoundly childhood experiences shape personal identity and how deeply place figures in the mapping of thought belief ambition and life s course

Screening a Lynching

Matthew Bernstein,2009 The Leo Frank case of 1913 was one of the most sensational trials of the early twentieth century capturing international attention Frank a northern Jewish factory supervisor in Atlanta was convicted for the murder of Mary Phagan a young laborer native to the South largely on the perjured testimony of an African American janitor The trial was both a murder mystery and a courtroom drama marked by lurid sexual speculation and overt racism The subsequent lynching of Frank in 1915 by an angry mob only made the story more irresistible to historians playwrights novelists musicians and filmmakers for decades to come Matthew H Bernstein is the first scholar to examine the feature films and television programs produced in response to the trial and lynching of Leo Frank He considers the four major surviving American texts Oscar Micheaux s film Murder in Harlem 1936 Mervyn LeRoy s film They Won t Forget 1937 the Profiles in Courage television episode John M Slaton 1964 and the two part NBC miniseries The Murder of Mary Phagan 1988 Bernstein explains that complex issues like racism anti-Semitism class resentment and sectionalism were at once irresistibly compelling and painfully difficult to portray in the mass media Exploring the cultural and industrial contexts in which the works were produced Bernstein considers how they succeeded or failed in representing the case s many facets Film and television shows can provide worthy interpretations of history Bernstein argues even when they depart from the historical record Screening a Lynching is an engrossing meditation on how film and television represented a traumatic and tragic episode in American history one that continues to fascinate people to this day Race in American Film Daniel Bernardi, Michael Green, 2017-07-07 This expansive three volume set investigates racial representation in film providing an authoritative cross section of the most racially significant films actors directors and movements in American cinematic history Hollywood has always reflected current American cultural norms and ideas As such film provides a window into attitudes about race and ethnicity over the last century This comprehensive set provides information on hundreds of films chosen based on scholarly consensus of their importance regarding the subject examining aspects of race and ethnicity in American film through the historical context themes and people involved This three volume set highlights the most important films and artists of the era identifying films actors or characterizations that were considered racist were tremendously popular or hugely influential attempted to be progressive or some combination thereof Readers will not only learn basic information about each subject but also be able to contextualize it culturally historically and in terms of its reception to understand what average moviegoers thought about the subject at the time of its popularity and grasp how the subject is perceived now through the lens of history Race, Gender, and Film Censorship in Virginia, 1922-1965 Melissa Ooten, 2014-12-18 This book chronicles the history of movie censorship in Virginia from the 1920s to 1960s At its most basic level it analyzes the project of state film censorship in Virginia It uses the contestations surrounding film censorship as a framework for more fully understanding the dominant political economic and cultural hierarchies that structured Virginia and much of the New South in the mid twentieth century and ways in which citizens contested these prevailing structures This study highlights the centrality of gendered and racialized discourses in the debates over the movies and the broader regulatory power of the state It particularly emphasizes ways in which issues of race class gender and sexuality framed debates over popular culture in the South It ties the regulation of racial and sexual boundaries in other areas such as public facilities schools public transportation the voting booth and residential housing to ways in which censors regulated those same boundaries in popular culture This book shows how the same racialized and gendered social norms and legal codes that placed audience members in different theater spaces also informed ways in which what they viewed on screen had been mediated by state officials Ultimately this study shows how Virginia s officials attempted to use the project of film censorship as the cultural arm of regulation to further buttress the state s political and economic hierarchies of the time period and the ways in which various citizens and community groups supported and challenged these hierarchies across the censorship board s forty three year history The Othering of Women in Silent Film Barbara Tapa Lupack, 2023-11-06 In The Othering of Women in Silent Film Cultural Historical and Literary Contexts Barbara Tapa Lupack explores the rampant racial and gender stereotyping depicted in early cinema demonstrating how those stereotypes helped shape American attitudes and practices

Using social cultural literary and cinema history as a focus this book offers insights into issues of Othering including discrimination exclusion and sexism that are as timely today as they were a century ago Lupack not only examines the ways that dominant cinema of the era imprinted indelible and pejorative images of women including African Americans Native Americans Asians Hispanics and New Women Suffragists but also reveals the ways in which a number of pioneering early filmmakers and performers attempted to counter those depictions by challenging the imagery interrogating the stereotypes and re politicizing the familiar narratives Scholars of film gender history and race studies will find this book of particular interest
